On Berlin Crisis, Khrushchev

Ike, Macmillan Set Talks In Washington March 20

MACMILLAN TO VISIT U.S. Press Secretary James Hagerty (foreground) announced to newsmen at the White House today that British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan had accepted an invitation to come to Washington March 20 to discuss the Berlin crisis with President Eisenhower. Eisenhower Calls Chiefs Of Congress

Aide Denies Parley Today Was Dictated By Any Emergency

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will open talks here March 20 on the developing Berlin crisis and Macmillan's recent talks with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

This was announced in Washington and London today shortly before a meeting of President Eisenhower and congressional leaders for a bipartisan discussion.

Macmillan will be accompanied by Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and will reach here Thursday, March 19. The discussions will begin the next day and continue for "a few days." That was taken to mean through the weekend of March 21.

According to reports which have reached officials here since Macmillan's talks with Khrushchev, Macmillan will urge Eisenhower to reduce his conditions for a summit meeting.

The British leader is apparently convinced that at present Khrushchev is determined to push his demands for withdrawal of the Western powers from Berlin, and for a German peace treaty.

James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, said the Macmillan talks will cover "the evolving Berlin situation, the broader questions of Germany and of course Macmillan's visit to Moscow."

Hagerty denied the conference with congressional leaders was dictated by any emergency.

Hagerty said the congressional leaders would consider the same subjects discussed Thursday at a 1¾-hour special session of the National Security Council. He said that meeting covered "the evolving situation in Berlin and the broader question of Germany."

Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy told a news conference meanwhile that he and the Joint Chiefs of Staff are agreed it would be virtually impossible for the Soviet Union to make a major surprise attack on this country with planes or missiles.

14 Are Killed In Nicaragua Plane Crash

4 Americans Among Victims; Stewardess From U.S. Survives

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—Four Americans were among 14 persons killed Thursday when a four-engine airliner crashed just after taking off from Managua.

The four survivors were an American stewardess, a Canadian stewardess and two passengers. They were rescued by cowboys working nearby.

The plane, a Vickers Viscount of TACA International Airlines, had just taken off for New Orleans.

Witnesses said two engines failed when the craft was about half a mile from the end of the runway. The pilot apparently tried to make a belly landing in a muddy field near the airport but the plane bounced back into the air and came down on its back.

The rescued stewardesses were Nancy Miesgoda, 20, of Mannington, W. Va., and Laura Direnzo, 20, of Ontario, Canada. They were hospitalized.

The American dead were the pilot, Capt. Albert M. Vine, and the copilot, M. S. Dalen, both of New Orleans; and two passengers, Joseph Rhodes, a New Orleans business executive, and Kenneth Kilpatric, of Lockney, Tex.

Also killed was former Mexican congressman Juan Gutierrez Lascurain, who headed Mexico's opposition National Action Party from 1949 to 1956.

TACA has its headquarters in El Salvador but is a subsidiary of the TACA Corp. of Alabama.

8 Marines Are Killed In U.S. Plane Crash

CHERRY POINT, N.C. (AP)—Eight Marines died early today when their Flying Boxcar crashed here in a driving rainstorm. One man survived.

The big transport was approaching the Marine air station at 1:30 a.m. when it crashed.

The survivor was Acting Sgt. Ralph J. Mauro Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Mauro of Hamden, Conn. He was taken to the hospital at Camp Lejeune in critical condition.

Record Total Of Measures Is Introduced

Ohio Legislature To Tackle Mountain Of 1,589 Proposals

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's lawmakers were resting up today from the most frantic week so far in the Legislature—a week which saw both a record budget and a record number of bills introduced.

Next week legislative committees begin the months-long chore of hacking away at the mountain of 1,589 bills which piled up before the introduction deadline late Thursday.

Scores of bills suggested by state department heads funneled through the office of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle in the final hours and were assigned to Democratic legislators to sponsor.

Exactly what shape the DiSalle administration's legislative program will take, however, is still something of a mystery. He told newsmen shortly before the introduction deadline that he will be able to define his program only after he and his Cabinet have taken a look at the 1,123 House bills and 466 Senate bills now in the works.

A blizzard of 348 bills almost snowed under the clerks of the two houses Thursday. The 1,589 total is 205 above the 1957 record.

As usual, it is likely that no more than 20 per cent of them ever will get into the lawbooks.

A host of tax measures came flooding into the legislative mill in the wake of DiSalle's request for a $2,076,000,000 budget for the next two years and new taxes amounting to 337½ million dollars.

DiSalle disclaimed responsibility for some of them, but conceded some of those not on the administration's list cleared through his office. Asked if these are standby tax proposals to fill in for others which might fall by the wayside, DiSalle replied: "We have no standbys."

All the tax measures DiSalle asked were introduced, in some cases several on one proposed tax.

These included tax increases on cigarettes, diesel fuel and gasoline, low-power beer, corporations

Pottery Union To Hold Talks With 3 Concerns

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters is scheduled to open contract negotiations Thursday in Cleveland with spokesmen for three chinaware producing firms — Mayer China Co. at Beaver Falls, Walker China Co. of Bedford and Buffalo China, Inc., of Buffalo, N. Y.

The IBOP negotiators, headed by E. L. Wheatley, president, will meet in a caucus session the day before the negotiations open. The Alcazar Hotel will be headquarters for both union and management spokesmen. The present agreement with the three firms was negotiated a year ago at Cleveland.

Each local union affected will send representatives. They are Local 33 at Beaver Falls, Local 76 at Buffalo and Local 108 at Bedford.

Voter Signup Due To Close On March 25

Unqualified East Liverpool voters must register with the County Election Board office on W. 6th St. by Wednesday, March 25, if they want to have a voice in the May 5 primaries for nomination of municipal officials, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, reminded today.

East Liverpool has approximately 10,410 registered voters, O'Hanlon said, although the record enrollment in 1940 hit 12,642.

The city had 10,372 qualified voters remaining on the rolls Jan. 1 after the annual year-end check to remove the names of those who had not voted at least once in the preceding two years or taken some other action to keep their registration cards active. Thirty-eight new registrations have been added since.

O'Hanlon emphasized that less than three weeks remain in which voters can qualify to participate in the primaries.

The all-time high of 12,642 registrations was set for the November 1940 Presidential election. Although the present registration level is more than 2,000 behind the 18-year-old record, a postwar migration has seen many electors move to residential areas in St. Clair and Liverpool Townships where voter registration is not required.

'Good Signal' From Pioneer

Space Cone Reported 400,000 Miles Out

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pioneer IV vanished into space today and may never be heard from again. The space probe tracking station at Goldstone, Calif., lost contact at 10:15 a. m. (EST) today when the probe's transmitting signals became very weak.

WASHINGTON (AP)—"A really good signal" estimated to have traveled nearly 400,000 miles from Pioneer IV to earth was picked up today at the General Electric Co.'s tracking station at Schenectady, N.Y.

Roy Anderson, head of the operation, estimated the distance, and said that "never before has any radio signal of this type been picked up from so far out in space."

He said the signal, "essentially unchanged from yesterday, a really good signal," was first picked up at 5:02 a.m.

The signals from America's sun-bound satellite were picked up earlier at Jodrell Bank, England.

Prof. Bernard Lovell, director of the telescope station at Jodrell Bank in England, said the U.S. sun satellite was 380,000 miles from the earth when its signal was picked up as it rose above the British horizon at 12:36 a.m. EST.

Lovell said Pioneer was traveling at about 4,200 miles an hour at the time.

The renewed pickup of radio signals at that distance surpassed the tracking mark claimed by the Soviets for their Mechta sun satellite launched last Jan. 2.

Midwest Hit Hard Blow By Snow Storm

Iowa Has Worst In 10 Years; Warnings Go Up In Northeast

By The Associated Press

Winter rocked parts of the nation's midsection today with one of its most damaging snow storms, sharply curtailing activities in eight states.

Much of Iowa, hit by its worst March snow storm in 10 years, was nearly paralyzed.

Heavy snow and gusty northerly winds created blizzard conditions in much of the storm belt. However, temperatures were in the 20s and no severe cold was reported.

The late-winter storm, sweeping in from Colorado and Wyoming, pounded wide areas in Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri, Wisconsin, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Michigan. It headed into sections of the Northeast.

Heavy snow warnings were posted for northern Michigan and for parts of Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine.

In the Midwest storm zone, huge drifts blocked highways, halting travel on many main arteries. In sections of southeastern Iowa several counties reported every road impassable. Driving conditions were extremely hazardous.

Air travel was grounded in many places. Many schools in Iowa and Wisconsin were closed. Business and industry slowed operations, with workers hampered by travel conditions.

Iowa reported at least 10 deaths from the blizzard, the worst in the state since 1950. One death attributed to the storm was reported in Wisconsin.

Snow removal operations were delayed because of the strong winds and falling snow in many areas. Heaviest falls in Iowa were up to 17 inches at Ottumwa. In Wisconsin, the heavy wet snow ranged up to 14 inches in some southern counties. The covering at Unionville and Princeton, Mo., both in north central Missouri, ranged from 15 to 17 inches.

Although the storm abated in Nebraska, winds up to 35 m.p.h whipped the eastern region during the night. Schools in Lincoln and

Lawrence To Present 1959 Plans To Council

A prelude to possible re-enactment of city income tax legislation, Council will meet as a committee - of - the - whole Monday night at 7:30 to hear presentation of a municipal program for 1959 from Mayor Fred P. Lawrence.

The council - administration meeting was set tentatively after last Monday night's Council session, when the councilmen indicated discussion would be scheduled "in the near future" on re-enactment of the tax.

Before discussing the revenue measure, Council asked the administration to present its program for municipal services and improvements for the year. Councilman George E. Willshaw will preside as Monday night's session because President B. E. Warner has been called out of town by a death in his wife's family.

Weirton Man Murders Wife, Wounds Self

Woman Taxi Driver Killed, Millworker In 'Fair' Condition

WEIRTON — A woman taxi driver was murdered in her bedroom during the night, apparently by her husband, who then attempted to kill himself with the same shotgun.

He survived the domestic tragedy and is in "fair" condition.

Mrs. Viola Cunningham of Weirton Heights was found dead in her home at 100 Church St. about 8:20 a. m. today, victim of a blast from a 16-gauge shotgun.

Her husband, Carl O. Cunningham, 33, is in Weirton General Hospital with gunshot wounds of the left side of the face. His condition was such that he could not be questioned, police said. He is believed to be an employe of the Weirton Steel Co.

Four shots had been fired from the gun, which was found in the couple's bedroom, according to reports.

An inquest was being held this morning at the hospital by Dr. George Naymick, Hancock County coroner, and Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland.

Police Center Robber Hunt In North Ohio

CLEVELAND (AP) — The FBI concentrated its search for Frank Sprenz in the extreme northeast corner of Ohio today in the belief a series of reports of stolen cars may be connected with the wily fugitive.

The 29-year-old bank robber has led authorities on a merry chase through Ohio and Pennsylvania since he held up a Hamilton, Ohio, bank and got away with $25,955 Monday morning. The FBI said he was last seen in an Altoona, Pa., hotel Wednesday morning.

Since then, authorities believe these developments may be connected with Sprenz:

A Buick was purchased in Newcastle, Pa., Wednesday morning and abandoned a short time later in Titusville, Pa.

A Chrevolet was stolen in Titusville and abandoned in Pierpont, Ohio, 14 miles south of Conneaut.

Just before midnight Wednesday a stolen Buick was found near Ashtabula, Ohio. A little later came a report that a 1955 Oldsmobile bearing Ohio license plates ST322 was stolen in Ashtabula.

That's where the trail seems to end.

The FBI said there is no definite evidence Sprenz was connected with any of these cars, but added that the pattern seems to indicate he is.

Sprenz is on the FBI's list of 10 most wanted criminals and is considered extremely dangerous.

Salem Woman Killed When Struck By Car

TAKE YOUR TIME IN '59

A 30-year-old Salem area woman was killed when struck by a car Thursday night and a Glenmoor man was injured when he swerved his auto into a ditch to avoid a collision in the Sub-station area early this morning.

Miss Hazel Faye Murray of Salem R. D. 3 was pronounced dead at Salem Central Clinic after she was struck last night at 7:15 on Depot Rd., 2½ miles south of Salem, by a car driven by Edward Mitchell, 25, of Salem. The mishap occurred near her home.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the woman was crossing the highway diagonally and may have become confused as the auto approached.

The collision knocked the woman to the road and death was caused by internal injuries, according to Dr. William Koloszi of Salem, county coroner, who ruled it an accident, clearing the driver.

The body was removed to the Maple Funeral Home at Kensington where arrangements are incomplete.

The fatality was the county's 4th so far this year, compared to 3 this time in 1958.

Lloyd Lockhart, 56, of Glenmoor is in "fairly good" condition at City Hospital with injuries suffered when his car wrecked on Route 30 about 2 miles north of the city at 1:35 a. m. today.

Lockhart was headed north when he suddenly came upon a slower moving tractor - trailer rig, and swerved his car across the road to avoid a collision, the patrol said.

His 1956 coach veered into a ditch and was damaged badly, officers reported. Lockhart received a laceration about the eye and chest injuries. He was charged

GOP Endorses Beaver Slate

12 Candidates Set For Primary In May

A slate of 12 Republican candidates for county offices in the May 19 primaries was given endorsement Thursday night at a meeting at Beaver of 20 community and area GOP chairmen from throughout Beaver County.

The group said the endorsements were voted as a result of eight meetings over a three-month interval in which it interviewed 30 prospective candidates.

It added that it was "in no sense trying to dicate the choice of Republican voters," but felt that the 20-man committee had a "unique opportunity to weigh and evaluate the qualifications of the candidates." The group added that it voted to back the candidates it feels can "best represent the party in November."

The slate is comprised of:

Sam McCune of Rochester Township, incumbent, and Russell O. Wright of Franklin Township, for county commissioners; Atty. Henry. J. Albaugh of Hopewell Township, for district attorney; Harvey Robinson of Beaver, for prothonotary; William I. McInerney of Midland, for treasurer.

George Taylor of Chippewa Township, for controller; Matthew Zvonar of Hopewell Township, for sheriff; Dr. John Colavinzenzo of Patterson Township, for coroner; Thomas P. Murray of Ambridge, an incumbent, for recorder of deeds; Sylvester Greco of Aliquippa, for register of wills; Mrs. Henrietta B. Anderson of Hopewell Township, for clerk of courts, and Dan Baker of Ohio Township, for surveyor.

Vocational Series Begins Monday

950 Students Await Career Tips

Some 950 East Liverpool High School students will participate in a series of 42 conferences during the annual Vocational Conference Week starting Monday.

The weeklong conference program will get under way with a general assembly at 1 p. m. Monday in the Memorial Auditorium at which the keynote speaker will be W. E. Hoare, director of employe relations of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. of Columbus. David Sixt, Student Council president, will preside.

The assembly will open with selections by the Concert Band directed by Donald C. Allen.

The conferences, at which men and women prominent in various fields will speak, will be held Tuesday through Friday from 9 to 9:50 a. m. Students will attend at least 2 conferences with part of each 50-minute session devoted to an explanation of the work and the remainder to questions and answers.

Class periods have been rearranged with the first session from 9:54 to 10:29, the second from 10:33 to 11:08 and the third from 11:12 to 11:47.

Eleven conferences are scheduled Tuesday with 12 Wednesday, 10 Thursday and 9 Friday. They were arranged by Bertram A. Dawson and Mrs. Ruth Connor, high school deans, assisted by the Student Council.

The conferences, speakers, places, student chairmen and registration:

The FBI said there is no definite evidence Sprenz was connected with any of these cars, but added that the pattern seems to indicate he is.

Sprenz is on the FBI's list of 10 most wanted criminals and is considered extremely dangerous.

Salem Woman Killed When Struck By Car

County's 1959 Traffic Toll

4 KILLED

This date in 1958—3 Killed!

TAKE YOUR TIME IN '59

A 30-year-old Salem area woman was killed when struck by a car Thursday night and a Glenmoor man was injured when he swerved his auto into a ditch to avoid a collision in the Sub-station area early this morning.

Miss Hazel Faye Murray of Salem R. D. 3 was pronounced dead at Salem Central Clinic after she was struck last night at 7:15 on Depot Rd., 2½ miles south of Salem, by a car driven by Edward Mitchell, 25, of Salem. The mishap occurred near her home.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the woman was crossing the highway diagonally and may have become confused as the auto approached.

The collision knocked the woman to the road and death was caused by internal injuries, according to Dr. William Koloszi of Salem, county coroner, who ruled it an accident, clearing the driver.

The body was removed to the Maple Funeral Home at Kensington where arrangements are incomplete.

The fatality was the county's 4th so far this year, compared to 3 this time in 1958.

Lloyd Lockhart, 56, of Glenmoor is in "fairly good" condition at City Hospital with injuries suffered when his car wrecked on Route 30 about 2 miles north of the city at 1:35 a. m. today.

Lockhart was headed north when he suddenly came upon a slower moving tractor - trailer rig, and swerved his car across the road to avoid a collision, the patrol said.

His 1956 coach veered into a ditch and was damaged badly, officers reported. Lockhart received a laceration about the eye and chest injuries. He was charged

GOP Endorses Beaver Slate

12 Candidates Set For Primary In May

A slate of 12 Republican candidates for county offices in the May 19 primaries was given endorsement Thursday night at a meeting at Beaver of 20 community and area GOP chairmen from throughout Beaver County.

The group said the endorsements were voted as a result of eight meetings over a three-month interval in which it interviewed 30 prospective candidates.

It added that it was "in no sense trying to dicate the choice of Republican voters," but felt that the 20-man committee had a "unique opportunity to weigh and evaluate the qualifications of the candidates." The group added that it voted to back the candidates it feels can "best represent the party in November."

The slate is comprised of:

Sam McCune of Rochester Township, incumbent, and Russell O. Wright of Franklin Township, for county commissioners; Atty. Henry. J. Albaugh of Hopewell Township, for district attorney; Harvey Robinson of Beaver, for prothonotary; William I. McInerney of Midland, for treasurer.

George Taylor of Chippewa Township, for controller; Matthew Zvonar of Hopewell Township, for sheriff; Dr. John Colavinzenzo of Patterson Township, for coroner; Thomas P. Murray of Ambridge, an incumbent, for recorder of deeds; Sylvester Greco of Aliquippa, for register of wills; Mrs. Henrietta B. Anderson of Hopewell Township, for clerk of courts, and Dan Baker of Ohio Township, for surveyor.

Pottery Union To Hold Talks With 3 Concerns

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters is scheduled to open contract negotiations Thursday in Cleveland with spokesmen for three chinaware producing firms — Mayer China Co. at Beaver Falls, Walker China Co. of Bedford and Buffalo China, Inc., of Buffalo, N. Y.

The IBOP negotiators, headed by E. L. Wheatley, president, will meet in a caucus session the day before the negotiations open. The Alcazar Hotel will be headquarters for both union and management spokesmen. The present agreement with the three firms was negotiated a year ago at Cleveland.

Each local union affected will send representatives. They are Local 33 at Beaver Falls, Local 76 at Buffalo and Local 108 at Bedford.

Vocational Series Begins Monday

950 Students Await Career Tips

Some 950 East Liverpool High School students will participate in a series of 42 conferences during the annual Vocational Conference Week starting Monday.

The weeklong conference program will get under way with a general assembly at 1 p. m. Monday in the Memorial Auditorium at which the keynote speaker will be W. E. Hoare, director of employe relations of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. of Columbus. David Sixt, Student Council president, will preside.

The assembly will open with selections by the Concert Band directed by Donald C. Allen.

The conferences, at which men and women prominent in various fields will speak, will be held Tuesday through Friday from 9 to 9:50 a. m. Students will attend at least 2 conferences with part of each 50-minute session devoted to an explanation of the work and the remainder to questions and answers.

Class periods have been rearranged with the first session from 9:54 to 10:29, the second from 10:33 to 11:08 and the third from 11:12 to 11:47.

Eleven conferences are scheduled Tuesday with 12 Wednesday, 10 Thursday and 9 Friday. They were arranged by Bertram A. Dawson and Mrs. Ruth Connor, high school deans, assisted by the Student Council.

The conferences, speakers, places, student chairmen and registration:

Threaten To Go To United Nations

Indians On War Path Claim 'Own' State In Canada

BRANTFORD, Ont. (AP) — Indians on the warpath have proclaimed a vest-pocket independent state in Ontario and demanded immediate recognition.

They threaten to go to the United Nations if Canada doesn't play ball.

The Canadian government's first reaction was to wait and see. A veiled offer was held out to smoke the pipe of peace.

Rebellious warriors, carrying hatchets and wearing warpaint and feathered headdress, staged the bloodless coup Thursday and overthrew the Canadian government-sponsored council of 11 men in the Six Nations Reserve.

Some 20 hereditary tribal chiefs branded the council a puppet government and seized administrative control of the 12-mile-square reserve west of Toronto and Buffalo, N.Y.

The old council slipped out the back door just before the assault. "We are satisfied that the revolution is a success and will not be put down," a rebel spokesman declared.

The chiefs ruled the reserve and its community of Oshweken until 1924, when the Canadian government stripped them of power and vested authority in an 11-man elected council. The dissident faction refused to recognize the council and continued to hold meetings in their traditional long houses.

Aging Chief Joseph Logan Sr. sent off telegrams to Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and Queen Elizabeth II, announcing the new nation.

Another telegram to President Eisenhower suggested a parley March 19 in Washington "to discuss treaties between our nations."

About 6,000 people live on the Indian Reserve on the Grand River, which dates back to 1784. The land was given to those of the Iroquois Confederacy — of Mohawks, Senecas, Onondagas, Cayugas, Oneidas and Tuscaroras —who came north to Canada after the American Revolution.

The dissident Indians charge the Canadian government has robbed them of much of their land grant and trampled their tribal rites—especially in refusing to recognize the tribal marriage ceremony.

The Indian claim extends over a rich area of land six miles deep along both banks of the Grand River, including the cities of Kitchener, Galt and Brantford.

The chiefs' lawyer said H. M. Jones, head of the federal government's Indian Affairs Branch, had refused to recognize the coup, but had offered to review any complaints against the old administration.

Lisbon Police Press Probe Of $5,000 Theft

LISBON — Investigation of the theft of $5,000 from a W. Chestnut St. home Wednesday night is being pressed by village police, who have questioned a number of area men and checked for fingerprints.

The cash was taken from a strongbox on a table at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas, 123 W. Chestnut St., while Mrs. Thomas and her son, Walter, were visiting her husband, who is a patient at Salem City Hospital.

The large sum of money was from sale of the former home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas. The thief entered the home with a key stolen from the mailbox last summer.

Clues Sought In Slaying Of Father, Infant

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (AP) —Authorities are banking heavily on medical examinations for clues to the brutal slaying of a Louisa County man and his infant daughter.

Two bodies found Wednesday under a brush pile two miles west of here have been identified as those of Carroll V. Jackson Jr., 29, a feed truck driver, and 18-month-old Janet Jackson, missing since Jan. 11. Investigators hold little hope of finding alive Jackson's wife Mildred, 27, and their other daughter Susan Anne, 5.

The family vanished while driving from the home of Mrs. Jackson's parents to their own house in Louisa County, about 45 miles from the spot where the bodies were found by two men seeking sawdust mulch for a garden. Their abandoned car was found Jan. 12, keys still in the ignition.

State police said they had no clues to the slayer or the motive. They said much depended on examinations being conducted by Dr. Geoffrey T. Mann, state medical examiner.

"There are many, many questions that Dr. Mann will be able to answer for us," said investigator G. S. Cooper.

Mann said Jackson had been shot through the head. He estimated Jackson and the infant had been dead at least six weeks, which means the slayings occurred soon after the family disappeared.

Columbus Newspaper Strike Talks Fruitless

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—After a fruitless session Thursday, negotiators for a striking pressmen's union meet again today with representatives of this city's daily newspapers, which haven't published now for eight days.

The Columbus Web Pressmen's Union, Local 15 went out on strike Feb. 26 against the afternoon Columbus Dispatch and Columbus Citizen, and the morning Ohio State Journal after negotiations for a new contract broke down.

Ohio Assembly Gives A Free Choice

We don't know whether Gov. DiSalle can make his point or not, but we give him credit for trying to make the General Assembly stick to reality in comments on the state budget.

His budget message contained four realistic proposals — four points of view the General Assembly could take.

The first is to freeze taxing where it is now, in which case the General Assembly would balance the budget by slashing all expenditures to the bone. The fact is that Ohio has been running behind on tax revenue since 1947 and hiding this from its taxpayers by living off surpluses piled up during the war years. But now the surplus is gone.

But does the General Assembly intend to retrench?

The second choice given the Assembly in the governor's budget message is to turn over to local government all future responsibility for the $40 out of every $100 that the state collects and distributes for schools, subsidies, highways, streets and so forth. This would leave the state treasury relatively unemcumbered. It also would leave the General Assembly unemcumbered.

But would the General Assembly like to be unencumbered?

The third choice is to retrench everywhere else and let the state highway program run on without any cutback and without any new tax revenue to underwrite its cost. This would run the state into a financial hole, with serious effects on its credit. The Assembly would not like that, either.

The fourth choice, which Gov. DiSalle recommends, is to give a little and take a little on budget requests, then balance the total with enough new taxation to make ends meet. This would mean increases in both spending and taxing.

It is not government as such that is causing the state to need more money but the money it collects and spends for public education, for the care of the blind, the aged, the mentally ill and people who break the law. Government takes only about 14 per cent of the money that is paid into the general fund. All the rest is for the direct benefit of Ohio residents.

Gov. DiSalle has made a realistic approach to the budgeting problem that nags every governor. He has asked his fellow Ohioans to understand what makes the budget the way it is; to understand that taxation is the price they are paying for all the things their legislators have agreed to do.

Therefore, every critic of taxing must prove his good faith by becoming a critic of some form of spending that he wants to abolish. Otherwise, he is talking through his financial hat.

Ohio, unlike the United States, cannot budge the financial issue by going endlessly into debt to conceal from voters that politicians are buying favor with public money they are not courageous enough to ask for in the form of taxes. It must balance as it goes, or retrench.

Will The Next Curve Be Worse?

Trust-Busting The Hardened Hundred

If you, too, are beginning to feel frustrated by an endless parade of shady-side witnesses whose attorneys tell them "to take the fifth" in congressional investigations, there may be a better day coming.

The Wall Street Journal has reported an important project in the U.S. Department of Justice to catch racketeers in the Sherman Antitrust Act. The theory of the trap being readied for them is intriguing.

It consists of the probability the racketeers and their advisers, who have learned how to squirm around ordinary criminal and tax laws, will need several years to get the hang of evading antitrust laws.

Moreover, as the Department of Justice sizes up its chances of nailing some of the biggest operators on its master list, the Hardened Hundred, the very nature of a racketeer will be on the side of the law. Racketeers will not tolerate competition. Their fixed aim is to get rid of all competition; to sew things up for themselves.

Therefore, to the extent that they make the mistake of setting up "business" organizations to carry on their activities they can be prosecuted under the same antitrust laws that keep legitimate business from getting rid of competition.

Even if they pretend to be unionists instead of businessmen, they can be nabbed for any illegal move that has no direct bearing on unionism. Unions, of course, are exempt from antitrust laws, but only insofar as they perform as cooperatives associations for the advancement of their members. Whenever they begin to operate as businesses for the advancement of their executives they are in business.

In the noisome era when Scarface Al Capone and his hoodlums were defying the law, there was this same sense of frustration. The federal government saved the day by showing how the hoodlums could be trapped in their own income tax returns. The same larceny that made them become hoodlums made them try to cheat the government. Today, they are too foxy for that, but they still have to learn the antitrust ropes.

No Man Can Stand By Himself

Members of Congress do not have to be told that nothing hurts congressional prestige more than charges of nepotism. Cries of protest avail nothing. Caesar's wife should be above suspicion, and congressmen should be above milking the public payroll.

The fact they can get away with it— and always have got away with it — does not offset the damage it does to the people's faith in representative democracy. Yet, it is a question whether the congressmen who do it really understand what is wrong with nepotism.

They customarily point out when they are criticized that their wife, their son, daughter, niece, nephew, sister, or whoever it is among their relatives they have put on the payroll is "indispensable" — someone who could not be replaced. When reporters checked the House of Representatives payroll last month they found at least 125 of these indispensable people on the staffs of 60 representatives; there presumably are more than that. The Senate has its share, too, it must be assumed, though the Senate reveals no information about its payroll.

Wha makes nepotism wrong?

Simply that it is a gesture of contempt to charge for services that either would be free under other circumstances, or never would be performed.

Millions of private citizens get help from their wives, sons and daughters — unpaid help given as a token of esteem. Under no circumstances would an employer be expected to put these relatives on his payroll, however. That is something that only the government is supposed to stand for — and everytime it comes to light again people feel a little sick inside about public servants who chisel their master.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Survey shows doctors, always telling patients they must get more rest and checkups, brush off their own advice. Less than half had undergone checkup in the last year and a half. Twenty per cent hadn't had one in four years.

Patients suffering from strain are being treated by doctors in worse shape than they are. They are taking advice "You have got to relax more" from physicians asleep on their feet from exhaustion.

THOUSANDS RUSH to doctors' offices these days where a dozen rushed in bygone days. The result is that offices are so crowded it is easier to get a seat at the World Series.

Some patients feel they have been around the office longer than the magazines. Doctors are putting in more hours than overtime factory workers. Appointment means little. You can ge there at 1 p.m. and still be waiting for your turn at dinnertime.

Doctors are using the multiple-room or chute-the-chute system to keep patients from getting uneasy. The nurse shuns them into the doctor's presence a few yards at a time.

There should be a referee calling "Second down, five yards to go." You can always tell the physician from the patients. (The doctor is the pale one, with the baggy eyes.) If he looks healthy he must be so young he hasn't built up a practice yet.

We went to see our doctor yesterday. From a casual look it was clear he was in worse shape than the last time, which was pretty bad.

Our diagnosis was that he was suffering from rapid pulse, heart murmur, occupational indigestion, high tension, galloping nervousness, lack of sleep and a chronic case of not knowing when he had had enough.

We calmed him down with a tranquilizer and prescribed six different vitamins, two tired-blood remedies, one fishing rod, a box golf balls and four winter vacation pamphlets to be taken after every meal and between patients.

IN SENTENCING DAVE BECK to five years in hoosegow the judge excoriated him as "cheating every last humble American taxpayer." Beck began as a laundry wagon driver. Wonder what his reply was in those days to customers' squawks, "Hey, one of my shirts is missing."

Stick-up and frisking of passengers in crowded bus in Jersey was in the manner of the Old West, and we hear a kid passenger, who follows TV westerns, piped, "Mommer, where are their horses?" They say the bus driver exclaimed, as the bandits fled, "With all that nerve it's a wonder they didn't ask for a transfer."

ALBIE BOOTH, dead at 51, was the most exciting football broken field runner this writer ever saw. He went through teams like an eel through a torn net. He was "Little Boy Blue," the "Mighty Mite" and he was greased lightning. "Had he been surrounded by personnel like the Notre Dame squads he would have gained fame with Grange and Thorpe," said Tim Cohane. Booth was the son of a gunshop foreman. He learned his football on the sandlots and came to Yale glory the hard way.

Maxwell Anderson got his New York start on the New York Globe the same year with this writer, Buck Crouse, Patterson McNutt and Ray McCaw. Anderson was an editorial writer, with initial ambitions to be a columnist. He wrote a column for the Globe under the signature "Penkragon." He was the most self effacing man around the office. When the Globe was sold to Munsey, he went to the World and went into orbit when, with Laurence Stallings, he wrote the big hit "What Price Glory." His first play "White Desert" written while on the World failed but after that it was mostly home runs.

Dummy Unions Press Shakedown

By Victor Riesel

After swinging across country for some 4,000 miles, it seems to me that there are almost that many dummy unions operated by the minor muscle men of the old Murder, Inc. and Capone mobs. They set themselves up in these shakedown outfits just as the syndicates once put their boys in bars, little restaurants and "candy" stores as fronts for the numbers rackets.

Victor Riesel

But by calling themselves unions, they are above the law. They operate from the Brooklyn marshes to the Pacific beaches. They terrorize thousands of small merchants.

Some of these dummy unions have been found by the McClellan committee to have just eight or 10 members. Some have only $25 in their so-called treasuries. Some have incomes from dues of less than $50 a month. Some multiply like rabbits and have issued 20 or 30 sub-charters. Some are known to keep their minutes on a single piece of scratch paper or, more likely, on a racing scratch sheet.

THEY STAY above the law. They mockingly go through the rituals entitling them to protection under the law as legitimate unions. So you can't touch these mobs, though some of their "business agents" have records of 35 or 40 arrests ranging back to 1924 for any crime you can mention.

There is an "international union" which calls itself "The Federated Service Workers Union." It is typical. It was organized by a handful of men on July 18, 1950, in Brooklyn, U.S.A. The group sat around and picked a fellow by the name of Evans as president because he had a nice sounding name. They then declared themselves an international union.

They've been running it for almost nine years. They have the same rights as the Steel Workers, Auto Workers or the Machinists. In fact, the FSWU set up smaller dummy unions which sound just like those in the AFL-CIO — although one of the locals, No. 19, has recently been described by the McClellan committee as a haven for former Murder, Inc., goons.

TYPICAL of the dummy unions they "chartered" are such outfits as Bank Employes Local 10 and a few Journeymen Barbers, Locals 11 and 15.

Local 12a and 12 of the Laundry Workers Union — which has nothing to do with the regular Laundry Workers—were unleashed. There is a Restaurant and Cafeteria Workers Local 26. Recently the word "Hotel" was added to this outfit. And they are in the new business of harassing New York inns.

There's a Clerical Workers Local 16; a Mechanical Workers Local 17; a Messengers Local 512; a Pressers Local 27 (imitating the legitimate one in the Ladies Garment Workers Union); an Auto and Service Workers Local 21 and even a Transport Workers local (no tie to the regular union of that name).

And, of course, there's the now famous Juke Box Local 19.

To make all this look real the international officers ran a "convention" not too long ago. The three delegates sat down to dinner in a Brooklyn restaurant. That was on the night of Sept. 24, 1957.

It was the only "convention" in history to do business during a five-course meal. They had "convention proceedings" — right regular. They simply scribbled some notes on a single piece of scrap paper. But under the law they are an international union.

McCLELLAN COMMITTEE records — and those of investigators across the country — show that some of these "unions" are merely multi-million dollar shakedown operations.

They simply use the right to picket — to put a man in front of a store or a restaurant — and have a regular price list for the removal of the animated caricature of a real working man. They rent desk space and install a phone. They even are among the 36,000 unions which file financial statements with the U.S. Department of Labor. Under the present law these statements can't even be checked, nor can false filings be punished.

Without a new anti-racketeering law — these shadowland unions will become mighty powerful dummies.

A Cabinet Problem

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

All in all President Eisenhower has had pretty good luck with the longevity of his Cabinet even though he's had practically two Cabinets in six years.

All but three members of the original Cabinet he picked in 1953 are gone. But most of the men who took their places are still there. The one exception is Marion B. Folsom, who succeeded Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby as secretary of health, education and welfare and in turn was succeeded last year by Arthur S. Flemming.

Now, however, Eisenhower's Cabinet may face a double dent.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, a member of the original Cabinet, is fighting cancer and it is questionable whether he will resume his job. Thursday Neil H. McElroy, secretary of defense, confirmed reports he is leaving sometime this year.

It so happens that Dulles and McElroy — next to Eisenhower himself — are the two most important men in relation to American foreign affairs at a time when this country is facing a critical showdown with the Soviet Union over Germany.

McElroy, 54, told a news conference he planned to resign "toward the end of this year." He is going back into private business whence he came in 1957 when Charles E. Wilson quit as secretary.

It has been estimated it would take any outsider like McElroy, going into his defense job, at least 18 months to master his problems and reach the point where he could function at his best.

This would be true if a strict outsider were brought in. But there have been reports that Eisenhower will move Donald A. Quarles, deputy secretary of defense, into the secretary's spot when McElroy says goodbye.

Quarles is no novice in the Pentagon. He has been there quite a while, as deputy secretary since May 1, 1957, and before that as secretary of the air force and assistant secretary of defense.

McElroy will be setting no precedent by resigning the defense secretary's job after a limited stay and at a serious moment.

Gen. George C. Marshall was made secretary of defense by President Truman in September 1950, a few months after the start of the Korean War. He stayed in the job one year, and resigned during the war.

Truman reached into the Defense Department for Marshall's successor. He picked Robert A. Lovett, also a businessman, who had been Marshall's deputy secretary of defense.

Truman had pulled Marshall out of retirement — the general had been ill — to help out during the Korean War and Marshall told him his stay in the Pentagon might be temporary.

McElroy said Thursday he had told Eisenhower, when the latter appointed him defense secretary in 1957, that he would want to be relieved before the end of the administration.

But Eisenhower told a news conference Wednesday that McElroy has a sense of duty and: "If things get tighter, well, I just don't think he would forget."

Actually, if McElroy waits till near the end of the year to quit, the crisis over Germany may have flattened out.

Besides Dulles, the only members of Eisenhower's original Cabinet still with him are Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

Steps Short Of War

By David Lawrence

Other Actions Studied On Berlin Crisis

Common sense is more important than the wiles of diplomacy, and that's why President Eisenhower's remarks deploring excessive talk about war and threats of war could have a sobering effect just now on international relations.

David Lawrence

The president had ample opportunity at his press conference to be blustering and accusatory but he dealt with Khrushchev's peculiar tactics in the Berlin crisis by using the mild words of restraint.

As Mr. Eisenhower sees it, the United States has certain responsibilities in maintaining, under treaty rights, the present status of Berlin. He welcomes negotiation and discussion by the four foreign ministers.

More and more it is becoming apparent that the Kremlin dictatorship would like to scare the West into some form of abject submission and that behind its every move is propaganda designed to assure the Soviet people that the Kremlin rulers are winning big victories.

To some extent Khrushchev has succeeded in scaring some members of Congress, as they are already calling for partial or total mobilization in this country. To yield to this sentiment would be a mistake, Mr. Eisenhower thinks, because there is no telling how long such an uncomfortable posture would have to be maintained. In all likelihood the Kremlin would be glad to inflict a costly and prolonged inconvenience of this kind on the American people.

MODERN WAR doesn't require any large-scale mobilization if it's to be nuclear. Airplanes are in readiness, both in the United States and at Western bases in Europe, to inflict severe punishment on an enemy if war comes.

If the military moves are confined to ground action in the vicinity of Berlin, then it is reasonable to suppose that the forces of NATO are already mobilized for this. Also, it is likely that, long before any such steps were taken, the intentions of both sides would be made plain and the United Nations would have an opportunity to vote to intervene.

What seems to have been generally overlooked is that there are steps "short of war" which can be taken by the West. These could be far more effective than actual threats of war.

One course of action could be the cutting off of all diplomatic relations between the West and the East. This could be followed by simultaneous discontinuance of all commercial intercourse, as well as other forms of communication by air or by sea.

If, for instance, all ports of the Western nations were closed to Soviet shipping, it would be difficult for the Communist empire to maintain its commercial relations with points in the Middle East and Asia. The Trans-Siberian Railway is not equipped to carry all the freight to Red China that goes to that country, for instance, from the Eastern European satellites.

A TOTAL EMBARGO would serve notice that the West means to stand on its treaty rights and that any imposition of barriers to free communication with Berlin would result not in a contest of military force but in a cessation of all traffic with East Germany and the other areas now controlled by the Soviet government.

To impose an embargo would require Allied agreement and this is by no means easy to effectuate. But it is a better plan than to try to resolve the differences between the East and West by military force.

President Eisenhower keeps emphasizing that the United States is not wedded to any single formula in trying to solve the problems raised by Moscow in connection with the status of Berlin. It had been hoped that, by means of free elections, a solution could be achieved. But since the Soviets do not wish to permit free elections in East Germany, the United States has taken the flexible position that some other solution might well be examined. This does not mean it will necessarily be accepted but simply that there is a readiness at least to talk about any plan.

ONE POINT that has not been given much attention is that, when Moscow breaks the inter - allied treaty giving the Western military forces access to Berlin, this makes a "scrap of paper" out of a solemn agreement. Of what value, it will then be asked throughout the world, are any other agreements or pledges given by the Soviet government?

The Western nations, therefore, are waiting for the deadline in May when the Soviet government, if it carries out its published threat, will have announced to the world that, acting entirely on its own, it is deliberately breaking an international agreement.

This, in turn, could invalidate all other agreements between the East and West and lead not necessarily to war but to a "quarantine" by the West against the Soviet dictatorship such as President Franklin D. Roosevelt proposed in 1937 against the dictatorship of Hitler and the Nazis. Had this plan been agreed to then by our Allies, it is conceivable that World War II might have been prevented. That's why firmness now on measures "short of war" could avert a third world war.

Grounds For Hope

By Raymond Moley

Two factors have been neglected in the discussion of the threat of war over the Berlin situation. The first is that the masters of the Soviet are essentially politicians. Their power is not as absolute as it seems. Despite heavy censorship, there is something of a restraint upon them by palace politics and public opinion.

The threat of war and even war itself are an extension of the play of politics. Hence, after Khrushchev's boorish treatment of Prime Minister Macmillan and his bellicose speech during Macmillan's visit, he added an explanation a few days later.

He was reported to have said that because of an election on March 1, the speech must be taken with the salt that usually is necessary with political utterances, that it was "only an electioneering speech."

Americans should be used to that sort of thing.

THE OTHER FACTOR is the military situation of the Soviet. Regardless of missiles and sputniks, the waging of a war with the West must be conditioned by the temper of the ring of satellites that divides Russia from the West. They are no more anxious to provide the battleground for an atomic conflict than are France, Italy, and Britain. And they are closer to the line of conflict. Poland, Hungary, and East Germany are populated by people who by tradition and by the Soviet occupation are permanently steeped in a bitter hatred of Russia and Russians.

At the very outbreak of a general war, with Soviet troops confronted by the Western powers, these satellites would, to use the words of a very competent expert in European affairs, "blow up in the face of Russia."

German blood runs thick and deep, and the Khrushchev gesture of leaving the defense of Berlin to the East Germans is playing with words.

He can have no such real intention. All the elements of revolt in East Germany and Poland, which have already manifested themselves, despite the presence of vast Soviet forces, would flare up with terrific intensity.

We already know that Hungarians have been willing to strike even when odds were hopeless against them. Instead of having satellites to help, the Soviet would have traditional enemies to control.

Nobody but a madman would provoke a real war with this element of instability facing him. And Khrushchev is no madman, however his actions may indicate a dangerous emotional instability.

THE DANGER of watering down the martial spirit of Russian divisions after even a short stay in the proximity of the West is already apparent. Hence, the continuous shifting of divisions from East Germany and other satellites to and from their native soil.

The concept of the Communist world as a monolithic power imbued with the fervor of world conquest is a myth. It is really a very shaky aggregation of incongruous elements.

I can well realize that it is dangerous to make predictions as to what might happen concerning Berlin, just as it was in the case of Matsu and Quemoy. But the facts all point to the improbability of war and the assurance that the Khrushchev regime will continue for a long time the policy of "no war, no peace."

It is no time for Americans to weaken their unity with panic. Never was it more important to hold a firm front.

Flying squirrels do not really fly. By means of the extensible skin which may be spread out like a plane from the fore feet to the hind feet, the animal can glide for a long distance from a height to the ground.

It consists of the probability the racketeers and their advisers, who have learned how to squirm around ordinary criminal and tax laws, will need several years to get the hang of evading antitrust laws.

Moreover, as the Department of Justice sizes up its chances of nailing some of the biggest operators on its master list, the Hardened Hundred, the very nature of a racketeer will be on the side of the law. Racketeers will not tolerate competition. Their fixed aim is to get rid of all competition; to sew things up for themselves.

Therefore, to the extent that they make the mistake of setting up "business" organizations to carry on their activities they can be prosecuted under the same antitrust laws that keep legitimate business from getting rid of competition.

Even if they pretend to be unionists instead of businessmen, they can be nabbed for any illegal move that has no direct bearing on unionism. Unions, of course, are exempt from antitrust laws, but only insofar as they perform as cooperatives associations for the advancement of their members. Whenever they begin to operate as businesses for the advancement of their executives they are in business.

In the noisome era when Scarface Al Capone and his hoodlums were defying the law, there was this same sense of frustration. The federal government saved the day by showing how the hoodlums could be trapped in their own income tax returns. The same larceny that made them become hoodlums made them try to cheat the government. Today, they are too foxy for that, but they still have to learn the antitrust ropes.

No Man Can Stand By Himself

Members of Congress do not have to be told that nothing hurts congressional prestige more than charges of nepotism. Cries of protest avail nothing. Caesar's wife should be above suspicion, and congressmen should be above milking the public payroll.

The fact they can get away with it— and always have got away with it — does not offset the damage it does to the people's faith in representative democracy. Yet, it is a question whether the congressmen who do it really understand what is wrong with nepotism.

They customarily point out when they are criticized that their wife, their son, daughter, niece, nephew, sister, or whoever it is among their relatives they have put on the payroll is "indispensable" — someone who could not be replaced. When reporters checked the House of Representatives payroll last month they found at least 125 of these indispensable people on the staffs of 60 representatives; there presumably are more than that. The Senate has its share, too, it must be assumed, though the Senate reveals no information about its payroll.

Wha makes nepotism wrong?

Simply that it is a gesture of contempt to charge for services that either would be free under other circumstances, or never would be performed.

Millions of private citizens get help from their wives, sons and daughters — unpaid help given as a token of esteem. Under no circumstances would an employer be expected to put these relatives on his payroll, however. That is something that only the government is supposed to stand for — and everytime it comes to light again people feel a little sick inside about public servants who chisel their master.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Survey shows doctors, always telling patients they must get more rest and checkups, brush off their own advice. Less than half had undergone checkup in the last year and a half. Twenty per cent hadn't had one in four years.

Patients suffering from strain are being treated by doctors in worse shape than they are. They are taking advice "You have got to relax more" from physicians asleep on their feet from exhaustion.

THOUSANDS RUSH to doctors' offices these days where a dozen rushed in bygone days. The result is that offices are so crowded it is easier to get a seat at the World Series.

Some patients feel they have been around the office longer than the magazines. Doctors are putting in more hours than overtime factory workers. Appointment means little. You can ge there at 1 p.m. and still be waiting for your turn at dinnertime.

Doctors are using the multiple-room or chute-the-chute system to keep patients from getting uneasy. The nurse shuns them into the doctor's presence a few yards at a time.

There should be a referee calling "Second down, five yards to go." You can always tell the physician from the patients. (The doctor is the pale one, with the baggy eyes.) If he looks healthy he must be so young he hasn't built up a practice yet.

We went to see our doctor yesterday. From a casual look it was clear he was in worse shape than the last time, which was pretty bad.

Our diagnosis was that he was suffering from rapid pulse, heart murmur, occupational indigestion, high tension, galloping nervousness, lack of sleep and a chronic case of not knowing when he had had enough.

We calmed him down with a tranquilizer and prescribed six different vitamins, two tired-blood remedies, one fishing rod, a box golf balls and four winter vacation pamphlets to be taken after every meal and between patients.

IN SENTENCING DAVE BECK to five years in hoosegow the judge excoriated him as "cheating every last humble American taxpayer." Beck began as a laundry wagon driver. Wonder what his reply was in those days to customers' squawks, "Hey, one of my shirts is missing."

Stick-up and frisking of passengers in crowded bus in Jersey was in the manner of the Old West, and we hear a kid passenger, who follows TV westerns, piped, "Mommer, where are their horses?" They say the bus driver exclaimed, as the bandits fled, "With all that nerve it's a wonder they didn't ask for a transfer."

ALBIE BOOTH, dead at 51, was the most exciting football broken field runner this writer ever saw. He went through teams like an eel through a torn net. He was "Little Boy Blue," the "Mighty Mite" and he was greased lightning. "Had he been surrounded by personnel like the Notre Dame squads he would have gained fame with Grange and Thorpe," said Tim Cohane. Booth was the son of a gunshop foreman. He learned his football on the sandlots and came to Yale glory the hard way.

Maxwell Anderson got his New York start on the New York Globe the same year with this writer, Buck Crouse, Patterson McNutt and Ray McCaw. Anderson was an editorial writer, with initial ambitions to be a columnist. He wrote a column for the Globe under the signature "Penkragon." He was the most self effacing man around the office. When the Globe was sold to Munsey, he went to the World and went into orbit when, with Laurence Stallings, he wrote the big hit "What Price Glory." His first play "White Desert" written while on the World failed but after that it was mostly home runs.

Dummy Unions Press Shakedown

By Victor Riesel

After swinging across country for some 4,000 miles, it seems to me that there are almost that many dummy unions operated by the minor muscle men of the old Murder, Inc. and Capone mobs. They set themselves up in these shakedown outfits just as the syndicates once put their boys in bars, little restaurants and "candy" stores as fronts for the numbers rackets.

Victor Riesel

But by calling themselves unions, they are above the law. They operate from the Brooklyn marshes to the Pacific beaches. They terrorize thousands of small merchants.

Some of these dummy unions have been found by the McClellan committee to have just eight or 10 members. Some have only $25 in their so-called treasuries. Some have incomes from dues of less than $50 a month. Some multiply like rabbits and have issued 20 or 30 sub-charters. Some are known to keep their minutes on a single piece of scratch paper or, more likely, on a racing scratch sheet.

THEY STAY above the law. They mockingly go through the rituals entitling them to protection under the law as legitimate unions. So you can't touch these mobs, though some of their "business agents" have records of 35 or 40 arrests ranging back to 1924 for any crime you can mention.

There is an "international union" which calls itself "The Federated Service Workers Union." It is typical. It was organized by a handful of men on July 18, 1950, in Brooklyn, U.S.A. The group sat around and picked a fellow by the name of Evans as president because he had a nice sounding name. They then declared themselves an international union.

They've been running it for almost nine years. They have the same rights as the Steel Workers, Auto Workers or the Machinists. In fact, the FSWU set up smaller dummy unions which sound just like those in the AFL-CIO — although one of the locals, No. 19, has recently been described by the McClellan committee as a haven for former Murder, Inc., goons.

TYPICAL of the dummy unions they "chartered" are such outfits as Bank Employes Local 10 and a few Journeymen Barbers, Locals 11 and 15.

Local 12a and 12 of the Laundry Workers Union — which has nothing to do with the regular Laundry Workers—were unleashed. There is a Restaurant and Cafeteria Workers Local 26. Recently the word "Hotel" was added to this outfit. And they are in the new business of harassing New York inns.

There's a Clerical Workers Local 16; a Mechanical Workers Local 17; a Messengers Local 512; a Pressers Local 27 (imitating the legitimate one in the Ladies Garment Workers Union); an Auto and Service Workers Local 21 and even a Transport Workers local (no tie to the regular union of that name).

And, of course, there's the now famous Juke Box Local 19.

To make all this look real the international officers ran a "convention" not too long ago. The three delegates sat down to dinner in a Brooklyn restaurant. That was on the night of Sept. 24, 1957.

It was the only "convention" in history to do business during a five-course meal. They had "convention proceedings" — right regular. They simply scribbled some notes on a single piece of scrap paper. But under the law they are an international union.

McCLELLAN COMMITTEE records — and those of investigators across the country — show that some of these "unions" are merely multi-million dollar shakedown operations.

They simply use the right to picket — to put a man in front of a store or a restaurant — and have a regular price list for the removal of the animated caricature of a real working man. They rent desk space and install a phone. They even are among the 36,000 unions which file financial statements with the U.S. Department of Labor. Under the present law these statements can't even be checked, nor can false filings be punished.

Without a new anti-racketeering law — these shadowland unions will become mighty powerful dummies.

A Cabinet Problem

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

All in all President Eisenhower has had pretty good luck with the longevity of his Cabinet even though he's had practically two Cabinets in six years.

All but three members of the original Cabinet he picked in 1953 are gone. But most of the men who took their places are still there. The one exception is Marion B. Folsom, who succeeded Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby as secretary of health, education and welfare and in turn was succeeded last year by Arthur S. Flemming.

Now, however, Eisenhower's Cabinet may face a double dent.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, a member of the original Cabinet, is fighting cancer and it is questionable whether he will resume his job. Thursday Neil H. McElroy, secretary of defense, confirmed reports he is leaving sometime this year.

It so happens that Dulles and McElroy — next to Eisenhower himself — are the two most important men in relation to American foreign affairs at a time when this country is facing a critical showdown with the Soviet Union over Germany.

McElroy, 54, told a news conference he planned to resign "toward the end of this year." He is going back into private business whence he came in 1957 when Charles E. Wilson quit as secretary.

It has been estimated it would take any outsider like McElroy, going into his defense job, at least 18 months to master his problems and reach the point where he could function at his best.

This would be true if a strict outsider were brought in. But there have been reports that Eisenhower will move Donald A. Quarles, deputy secretary of defense, into the secretary's spot when McElroy says goodbye.

Quarles is no novice in the Pentagon. He has been there quite a while, as deputy secretary since May 1, 1957, and before that as secretary of the air force and assistant secretary of defense.

McElroy will be setting no precedent by resigning the defense secretary's job after a limited stay and at a serious moment.

Gen. George C. Marshall was made secretary of defense by President Truman in September 1950, a few months after the start of the Korean War. He stayed in the job one year, and resigned during the war.

Truman reached into the Defense Department for Marshall's successor. He picked Robert A. Lovett, also a businessman, who had been Marshall's deputy secretary of defense.

Truman had pulled Marshall out of retirement — the general had been ill — to help out during the Korean War and Marshall told him his stay in the Pentagon might be temporary.

McElroy said Thursday he had told Eisenhower, when the latter appointed him defense secretary in 1957, that he would want to be relieved before the end of the administration.

But Eisenhower told a news conference Wednesday that McElroy has a sense of duty and: "If things get tighter, well, I just don't think he would forget."

Actually, if McElroy waits till near the end of the year to quit, the crisis over Germany may have flattened out.

Besides Dulles, the only members of Eisenhower's original Cabinet still with him are Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

Steps Short Of War

By David Lawrence

Other Actions Studied On Berlin Crisis

Common sense is more important than the wiles of diplomacy, and that's why President Eisenhower's remarks deploring excessive talk about war and threats of war could have a sobering effect just now on international relations.

David Lawrence

The president had ample opportunity at his press conference to be blustering and accusatory but he dealt with Khrushchev's peculiar tactics in the Berlin crisis by using the mild words of restraint.

As Mr. Eisenhower sees it, the United States has certain responsibilities in maintaining, under treaty rights, the present status of Berlin. He welcomes negotiation and discussion by the four foreign ministers.

More and more it is becoming apparent that the Kremlin dictatorship would like to scare the West into some form of abject submission and that behind its every move is propaganda designed to assure the Soviet people that the Kremlin rulers are winning big victories.

To some extent Khrushchev has succeeded in scaring some members of Congress, as they are already calling for partial or total mobilization in this country. To yield to this sentiment would be a mistake, Mr. Eisenhower thinks, because there is no telling how long such an uncomfortable posture would have to be maintained. In all likelihood the Kremlin would be glad to inflict a costly and prolonged inconvenience of this kind on the American people.

MODERN WAR doesn't require any large-scale mobilization if it's to be nuclear. Airplanes are in readiness, both in the United States and at Western bases in Europe, to inflict severe punishment on an enemy if war comes.

If the military moves are confined to ground action in the vicinity of Berlin, then it is reasonable to suppose that the forces of NATO are already mobilized for this. Also, it is likely that, long before any such steps were taken, the intentions of both sides would be made plain and the United Nations would have an opportunity to vote to intervene.

What seems to have been generally overlooked is that there are steps "short of war" which can be taken by the West. These could be far more effective than actual threats of war.

One course of action could be the cutting off of all diplomatic relations between the West and the East. This could be followed by simultaneous discontinuance of all commercial intercourse, as well as other forms of communication by air or by sea.

If, for instance, all ports of the Western nations were closed to Soviet shipping, it would be difficult for the Communist empire to maintain its commercial relations with points in the Middle East and Asia. The Trans-Siberian Railway is not equipped to carry all the freight to Red China that goes to that country, for instance, from the Eastern European satellites.

A TOTAL EMBARGO would serve notice that the West means to stand on its treaty rights and that any imposition of barriers to free communication with Berlin would result not in a contest of military force but in a cessation of all traffic with East Germany and the other areas now controlled by the Soviet government.

To impose an embargo would require Allied agreement and this is by no means easy to effectuate. But it is a better plan than to try to resolve the differences between the East and West by military force.

President Eisenhower keeps emphasizing that the United States is not wedded to any single formula in trying to solve the problems raised by Moscow in connection with the status of Berlin. It had been hoped that, by means of free elections, a solution could be achieved. But since the Soviets do not wish to permit free elections in East Germany, the United States has taken the flexible position that some other solution might well be examined. This does not mean it will necessarily be accepted but simply that there is a readiness at least to talk about any plan.

ONE POINT that has not been given much attention is that, when Moscow breaks the inter - allied treaty giving the Western military forces access to Berlin, this makes a "scrap of paper" out of a solemn agreement. Of what value, it will then be asked throughout the world, are any other agreements or pledges given by the Soviet government?

The Western nations, therefore, are waiting for the deadline in May when the Soviet government, if it carries out its published threat, will have announced to the world that, acting entirely on its own, it is deliberately breaking an international agreement.

This, in turn, could invalidate all other agreements between the East and West and lead not necessarily to war but to a "quarantine" by the West against the Soviet dictatorship such as President Franklin D. Roosevelt proposed in 1937 against the dictatorship of Hitler and the Nazis. Had this plan been agreed to then by our Allies, it is conceivable that World War II might have been prevented. That's why firmness now on measures "short of war" could avert a third world war.

Grounds For Hope

By Raymond Moley

Two factors have been neglected in the discussion of the threat of war over the Berlin situation. The first is that the masters of the Soviet are essentially politicians. Their power is not as absolute as it seems. Despite heavy censorship, there is something of a restraint upon them by palace politics and public opinion.

The threat of war and even war itself are an extension of the play of politics. Hence, after Khrushchev's boorish treatment of Prime Minister Macmillan and his bellicose speech during Macmillan's visit, he added an explanation a few days later.

He was reported to have said that because of an election on March 1, the speech must be taken with the salt that usually is necessary with political utterances, that it was "only an electioneering speech."

Americans should be used to that sort of thing.

THE OTHER FACTOR is the military situation of the Soviet. Regardless of missiles and sputniks, the waging of a war with the West must be conditioned by the temper of the ring of satellites that divides Russia from the West. They are no more anxious to provide the battleground for an atomic conflict than are France, Italy, and Britain. And they are closer to the line of conflict. Poland, Hungary, and East Germany are populated by people who by tradition and by the Soviet occupation are permanently steeped in a bitter hatred of Russia and Russians.

At the very outbreak of a general war, with Soviet troops confronted by the Western powers, these satellites would, to use the words of a very competent expert in European affairs, "blow up in the face of Russia."

German blood runs thick and deep, and the Khrushchev gesture of leaving the defense of Berlin to the East Germans is playing with words.

He can have no such real intention. All the elements of revolt in East Germany and Poland, which have already manifested themselves, despite the presence of vast Soviet forces, would flare up with terrific intensity.

We already know that Hungarians have been willing to strike even when odds were hopeless against them. Instead of having satellites to help, the Soviet would have traditional enemies to control.

Nobody but a madman would provoke a real war with this element of instability facing him. And Khrushchev is no madman, however his actions may indicate a dangerous emotional instability.

THE DANGER of watering down the martial spirit of Russian divisions after even a short stay in the proximity of the West is already apparent. Hence, the continuous shifting of divisions from East Germany and other satellites to and from their native soil.

The concept of the Communist world as a monolithic power imbued with the fervor of world conquest is a myth. It is really a very shaky aggregation of incongruous elements.

I can well realize that it is dangerous to make predictions as to what might happen concerning Berlin, just as it was in the case of Matsu and Quemoy. But the facts all point to the improbability of war and the assurance that the Khrushchev regime will continue for a long time the policy of "no war, no peace."

It is no time for Americans to weaken their unity with panic. Never was it more important to hold a firm front.

Flying squirrels do not really fly. By means of the extensible skin which may be spread out like a plane from the fore feet to the hind feet, the animal can glide for a long distance from a height to the ground.

Desperate Bid For Freedom

Convict Releases 4 After Holding Them As Hostage

FLAT ROCK, Ala. (AP) — A fleeing convict freed a state patrolman, a married couple and a fellow convict near this north Alabama town early today after holding them hostage more than 12 hours.

The convict, William E. Smothers, continued his desperate bid for freedom in the married couple's car. The highway patrol said he was believed heading for Chattanooga, Tenn., where he has relatives.

Smothers, serving 160 years in prison on six robbery convictions, overpowered the patrolman and a trusty convict in a police car south of Birmingham Thursday.

"He used a key he made himself to unlock his handcuffs in the back seat of the car," said Patrolman Otto Dees.

"He was in the back seat and I was in the front. He got a strangle hold on me and held a piece of steel against me and took my gun."

Then, Dees said, Smothers ordered the trusty, Ted Easley, a convicted killer serving 25 years, to drive to the home of Smothers' sister, Mrs. Fulton Weems, at Birmingham, where Smothers got a suit and $10.

"Then we just drove around a while," Dees said, "until Smothers spotted a car parked in front of a house."

The three went inside the house and ordered Mr. and Mrs. Noel Keith to go with them in the Keith car. They left the police car parked behind the Keith house.

"All the time I kept trying to talk him out of it," Dees said. "I was afraid to try anything because of the Keiths being in the car."

Easley also tried to talk Smothers into giving up the idea of escaping, Dees said.

From Birmingham, Smothers and his four hostages, held at the point of Dees' revolver, headed north.

Near the tiny town of Flat Rock, Smothers ordered them to stop on the highway and told them to get out.

Dees, Easley and the Keiths walked to a farm house and telephoned state patrol headquarters.

At the time of his break, Smothers was being taken from Kilby Prison at Montgomery, Ala., to Birmingham to face trial on a charge of possessing a gun after conviction on a felony.

"We were about 25 miles south of Birmingham when he grabbed me," Dees said.

At Birmingham, Patrol Lt. James A. Daugherty, who led the early search for the missing persons, said Dees would be taken to Montgomery from Flat Rock.

Road blocks were thrown up in north Alabama and northwest Georgia.

Industrial Nurses To Attend Session

A number of members of the Tri-State Industrial Nurses Association, including Mrs. Ruby Webb of East Liverpool, plan to attend the semiannual conference of the Ohio Industrial Nurses Association March 13-14 in Toledo.

Delegates are Mrs. Webb of the Hall China Co., president of the Tri-State group, and Mrs. Connie Lewandowski of the Weirton Steel Co., and Miss Frances O'Leary and Miss Pearl Johnson of Weirton Steel, Mrs. Nettie Tedreau of the Wheeling Steel Corp., Mrs. Martha Blackburn of Toronto, state executive secretary, and Miss Mary Jane Wright of Steubenville.

A panel discussion will be featured with Miss Vera Wissinger, first vice president, presiding.

Panelists will include Dr. Alice Rupp and her staff of the Toledo State Hospital, on the topic, "The Industrial Nurse Should Know About Tranquilizing Drug Therapy."

David Meharg of the Special Services Department of the E. I. DuPont de Nemours & Co. of Wilmington, Del., will speak for the banquet Saturday night.

Convention Discussed By Chester Key Club

The Chester High School Key Club met Thursday with Dave Brookes, president, in charge.

Plans were discussed for representation at the state Key Club convention April 3-4 at Bluefield. The club will sponsor a record hop March 20 at the school.

Members will attend the Church of the Nazarene Sunday morning. They will meet again Thursday.

Suit Asks Damages

CINCINNATI (AP)—Tull Chemical Co. of Oxford, Ala., filed suit in U.S. District Court Thursday charging Pyrole Chemical Corp. of Portsmouth infringed on its trademark. Tull, maker of a rat poison, contended it lost business in South America when Pyrole marketed a similar product there with the disputed trademark — "Compound 1080." Tull asked for an injunction and for damages.

Midland High Has Assembly To Close Basketball Season

Midland High School held a celebration day Wednesday at the close of its basketball season with an assembly, a dance and a basketball game.

Charleroi nosed out the Leopards in the semi-finals of the WPIAL tournament at Pittsburgh Tuesday night.

Coach George Hamilton and graduating seniors, Jim Golphin, Nick Vuckovich and Frank Aloi spoke.

He said prospects for next year's team look good with the return of four players who were in the tournament at the Pitt Field House. They are Steve Yetso, Gene Lake, Movie Smith and Carl Anderson. Anderson is a sophomore and the other three juniors.

A representative of the Grace Martin Business School of Pittsburgh spoke this morning to senior girls. About 15 senior girls attended a "playday" Thursday, arranged by the Beaver Falls High School, with skating at the Morado Pool.

Principal William Walters will attend a Tri-State Study Council Wednesday in conjunction with the University of Pittsburgh. The same day, a representative of the Social Security Office at Ambridge will speak to seniors at 10:30 a. m. and give out Social Security cards.

Hamilton and Samuel Rosatone and Jack Haggerty, Board of Education members, will attend the WPIAL banquet Saturday, March 14, at the Penn-Sheraton Hotel in Pittsburgh.

Easter vacation will begin Wednesday, March 25, at 2:30 p. m. Students will return Wednesday morning, April 1, Walters said.

The Junior Class play, with Mrs. John Shovlin as director, has been rescheduled for April 17. It had been set for March 20.

Firemen Investigate Second Fire In Store

Firemen today planned to continue an investigation into a fire that apparently caused only slight damage at the Bargain Fair store on Washington St. early this morning.

It was the second fire in the storeroom resulting from a short in wiring to a neon sign, firemen said. The store is operated by Louis Stein, who formerly operated Stein's in the same location.

Firemen said the fire got into the display window and a hole had to be chopped near the entrance to get at the blaze. There was no estimate of the damage. The alarm was received at 3:50 a. m.

Chester Club Visits Shippingport A-Plant

Members of the Chester High School Science Club were to visit the atomic power plant of the Duquesne Light Co. at Shippingport this afternoon.

Plans for the trip were made at a meeting Wednesday at the school. Sam Pipes and Maria Hrnek will enter the Tri - State Science Fair March 12-14 at Westgate School.

A movie on ultrasonic sound will be screened at the next meeting Wednesday. Sharon Roberts, president, was in charge.

Cow Has Quadruplets

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A Jersey cow on the farm of Michael Askerman near here gave birth to quadruplet calves this week, but one of them died shortly after birth. Wilbur Roberts, Stark County agriculture agent, said the birth of quadruplet calves happens only about once in every 100,000 births.

Social Security Aspects Cited In Payments To Vets

No part of benefit payments from Social Security can be waived by veterans or their widows, who must meet certain income limitations to be eligible for non-service - connected disability or death pension from the Veterans Administration.

That statement was issued today by A. G. Bille, contact representative - in - charge of the Veterans Administration Office, 227 N. 5th St., Steubenville, who said he is receiving many queries on the subject.

Bille said a boost in Social Security payments, which will be reflected in the current checks, may cause some persons to become ineligible for VA pension because their "other income" will exceed $1,400 annually — if without dependents — or $2,700—if with dependents.

Many of the affected pensioners mistakenly believe they may waive part of their Social Security benefits and thus bring their "other income" below the annual limitations established for VA pension, Bille added.

Income limitations for VA pension purposes apply to veterans and widows of veterans of World War I, World War II, and the Korean Conflict. They do not apply to veterans or widows of veterans of wars before World War I, Bille explained.

He also pointed out that until the person receiving Social Security has actually received an amount equal to the total Social Security contributions taken from his salary or wages in the past, the monthly Social Security payments do not count as income and do not have to be reported.

Desperate Bid For Freedom

Convict Releases 4 After Holding Them As Hostage

FLAT ROCK, Ala. (AP) — A fleeing convict freed a state patrolman, a married couple and a fellow convict near this north Alabama town early today after holding them hostage more than 12 hours.

The convict, William E. Smothers, continued his desperate bid for freedom in the married couple's car. The highway patrol said he was believed heading for Chattanooga, Tenn., where he has relatives.

Smothers, serving 160 years in prison on six robbery convictions, overpowered the patrolman and a trusty convict in a police car south of Birmingham Thursday.

"He used a key he made himself to unlock his handcuffs in the back seat of the car," said Patrolman Otto Dees.

"He was in the back seat and I was in the front. He got a strangle hold on me and held a piece of steel against me and took my gun."

Then, Dees said, Smothers ordered the trusty, Ted Easley, a convicted killer serving 25 years, to drive to the home of Smothers' sister, Mrs. Fulton Weems, at Birmingham, where Smothers got a suit and $10.

"Then we just drove around a while," Dees said, "until Smothers spotted a car parked in front of a house."

The three went inside the house and ordered Mr. and Mrs. Noel Keith to go with them in the Keith car. They left the police car parked behind the Keith house.

"All the time I kept trying to talk him out of it," Dees said. "I was afraid to try anything because of the Keiths being in the car."

Easley also tried to talk Smothers into giving up the idea of escaping, Dees said.

From Birmingham, Smothers and his four hostages, held at the point of Dees' revolver, headed north.

Near the tiny town of Flat Rock, Smothers ordered them to stop on the highway and told them to get out.

Dees, Easley and the Keiths walked to a farm house and telephoned state patrol headquarters.

At the time of his break, Smothers was being taken from Kilby Prison at Montgomery, Ala., to Birmingham to face trial on a charge of possessing a gun after conviction on a felony.

"We were about 25 miles south of Birmingham when he grabbed me," Dees said.

At Birmingham, Patrol Lt. James A. Daugherty, who led the early search for the missing persons, said Dees would be taken to Montgomery from Flat Rock.

Road blocks were thrown up in north Alabama and northwest Georgia.

Industrial Nurses To Attend Session

A number of members of the Tri-State Industrial Nurses Association, including Mrs. Ruby Webb of East Liverpool, plan to attend the semiannual conference of the Ohio Industrial Nurses Association March 13-14 in Toledo.

Delegates are Mrs. Webb of the Hall China Co., president of the Tri-State group, and Mrs. Connie Lewandowski of the Weirton Steel Co., and Miss Frances O'Leary and Miss Pearl Johnson of Weirton Steel, Mrs. Nettie Tedreau of the Wheeling Steel Corp., Mrs. Martha Blackburn of Toronto, state executive secretary, and Miss Mary Jane Wright of Steubenville.

A panel discussion will be featured with Miss Vera Wissinger, first vice president, presiding.

Panelists will include Dr. Alice Rupp and her staff of the Toledo State Hospital, on the topic, "The Industrial Nurse Should Know About Tranquilizing Drug Therapy."

David Meharg of the Special Services Department of the E. I. DuPont de Nemours & Co. of Wilmington, Del., will speak for the banquet Saturday night.

Convention Discussed By Chester Key Club

The Chester High School Key Club met Thursday with Dave Brookes, president, in charge.

Plans were discussed for representation at the state Key Club convention April 3-4 at Bluefield. The club will sponsor a record hop March 20 at the school.

Members will attend the Church of the Nazarene Sunday morning. They will meet again Thursday.

Suit Asks Damages

CINCINNATI (AP)—Tull Chemical Co. of Oxford, Ala., filed suit in U.S. District Court Thursday charging Pyrole Chemical Corp. of Portsmouth infringed on its trademark. Tull, maker of a rat poison, contended it lost business in South America when Pyrole marketed a similar product there with the disputed trademark — "Compound 1080." Tull asked for an injunction and for damages.

Midland High Has Assembly To Close Basketball Season

Midland High School held a celebration day Wednesday at the close of its basketball season with an assembly, a dance and a basketball game.

Charleroi nosed out the Leopards in the semi-finals of the WPIAL tournament at Pittsburgh Tuesday night.

Coach George Hamilton and graduating seniors, Jim Golphin, Nick Vuckovich and Frank Aloi spoke.

He said prospects for next year's team look good with the return of four players who were in the tournament at the Pitt Field House. They are Steve Yetso, Gene Lake, Movie Smith and Carl Anderson. Anderson is a sophomore and the other three juniors.

A representative of the Grace Martin Business School of Pittsburgh spoke this morning to senior girls. About 15 senior girls attended a "playday" Thursday, arranged by the Beaver Falls High School, with skating at the Morado Pool.

Principal William Walters will attend a Tri-State Study Council Wednesday in conjunction with the University of Pittsburgh. The same day, a representative of the Social Security Office at Ambridge will speak to seniors at 10:30 a. m. and give out Social Security cards.

Hamilton and Samuel Rosatone and Jack Haggerty, Board of Education members, will attend the WPIAL banquet Saturday, March 14, at the Penn-Sheraton Hotel in Pittsburgh.

Easter vacation will begin Wednesday, March 25, at 2:30 p. m. Students will return Wednesday morning, April 1, Walters said.

The Junior Class play, with Mrs. John Shovlin as director, has been rescheduled for April 17. It had been set for March 20.

Firemen Investigate Second Fire In Store

Firemen today planned to continue an investigation into a fire that apparently caused only slight damage at the Bargain Fair store on Washington St. early this morning.

It was the second fire in the storeroom resulting from a short in wiring to a neon sign, firemen said. The store is operated by Louis Stein, who formerly operated Stein's in the same location.

Firemen said the fire got into the display window and a hole had to be chopped near the entrance to get at the blaze. There was no estimate of the damage. The alarm was received at 3:50 a. m.

Chester Club Visits Shippingport A-Plant

Members of the Chester High School Science Club were to visit the atomic power plant of the Duquesne Light Co. at Shippingport this afternoon.

Plans for the trip were made at a meeting Wednesday at the school. Sam Pipes and Maria Hrnek will enter the Tri - State Science Fair March 12-14 at Westgate School.

A movie on ultrasonic sound will be screened at the next meeting Wednesday. Sharon Roberts, president, was in charge.

Cow Has Quadruplets

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A Jersey cow on the farm of Michael Askerman near here gave birth to quadruplet calves this week, but one of them died shortly after birth. Wilbur Roberts, Stark County agriculture agent, said the birth of quadruplet calves happens only about once in every 100,000 births.

Social Security Aspects Cited In Payments To Vets

No part of benefit payments from Social Security can be waived by veterans or their widows, who must meet certain income limitations to be eligible for non-service - connected disability or death pension from the Veterans Administration.

That statement was issued today by A. G. Bille, contact representative - in - charge of the Veterans Administration Office, 227 N. 5th St., Steubenville, who said he is receiving many queries on the subject.

Bille said a boost in Social Security payments, which will be reflected in the current checks, may cause some persons to become ineligible for VA pension because their "other income" will exceed $1,400 annually — if without dependents — or $2,700—if with dependents.

Many of the affected pensioners mistakenly believe they may waive part of their Social Security benefits and thus bring their "other income" below the annual limitations established for VA pension, Bille added.

Income limitations for VA pension purposes apply to veterans and widows of veterans of World War I, World War II, and the Korean Conflict. They do not apply to veterans or widows of veterans of wars before World War I, Bille explained.

He also pointed out that until the person receiving Social Security has actually received an amount equal to the total Social Security contributions taken from his salary or wages in the past, the monthly Social Security payments do not count as income and do not have to be reported.

Deaths and Funerals

Former City Woman Dies

Funeral Monday For Mrs. Harry Sanders

Mrs. Anna Shaw Sanders, 1419 Madison Ave., Toronto, formerly of East Liverpool, died Thursday at 11:15 p. m. at the Riverview Nursing Home in Steubenville after an illness of 6 months. She was 84 and had been married 59 years.

She was born at Burslem, England, Oct. 31, 1874, daughter of the late George and Mary Shaw, and resided in the Toronto vicinity for 12 years. She was a member of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church of East Liverpool.

She leaves her husband, Harry Sanders at home; a grandson, William George Sanders of Steubenville; two sisters, Mrs. Clara Gratton of Beaver and Mrs. Rachael Stanley of East Liverpool, and a brother, George L. Shaw of Beaver. A son, William G. Sanders, was killed in action while serving with the Navy in 1945.

Services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by the Rev. Marc Anton Nocerino. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery here.

Friends may call at the Clarke Funeral Home at Toronto after 7 tonight until 5 p. m. Saturday. The body will then be removed to the Dawson Funeral Home where friends may call Sunday.

Fred F. Eaton

Fred F. Eaton of Sewickley died Wednesday at the Sewickley Valley Hospital. He was 58.

He is survived by his widow, the former Mary Hutchison of East Liverpool; four sons, Harry R. Eaton, David L. Eaton, Richard L. Eaton and Samuel G. Eaton; a daughter, Mrs. Dewira Allison; three sisters, Mrs. Elva Thornburg, Mrs. Jessie Huffnagel and Mrs. Bertha Sainer; two brothers, John Eaton and Lawrence Eaton, and 15 grandchildren.

Friends are being received at the Moody Funeral Home at Clinton, where services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m.

Burial will be in the Hebron Cemetery near Clinton.

William Cronin

William J. Cronin of 1st St., a railroad construction worker employed at Conway, was found dead in a booth at the Buckeye Tavern on Dresden Ave. Thursday at 7:15 p. m. He was 48.

Patrolmen Robert B. Pyle and Paul Carter investigated after receiving a report Mr. Cronin had been found dead. They said he entered the tavern about 2 p.m. He had been in a rear booth for three hours prior to the discovery he was dead, police said.

He was born in Pittsburgh and resided in this vicinity 35 years.

He leaves his father, Everett Cronin of East Liverpool; a brother, Daniel Cronin of Toronto; a daughter at Pittsburgh and two grandchildren.

The Martin Funeral Home will forward the body to the Clarke Funeral Home in Toronto, where services will be held Monday at 11 a. m. by the Rev. Roy Watson. Burial will be in Union Cemetery there.

Friends may call at the funeral home in Toronto Sunday afternoon and night.

Benjamin Shipley

Benjamin Shipley, 1730 Lincoln Ave., Wellsville, a retired Pennsylvania Railroad Co. stockman, died Thursday at 8 p. m. at City Hospital, where he was a patient for only a day. He was 86.

A lifetime resident of Wellsville, he worked for the railroad company 48 years.

He was a member of the First Methodist Church, Masonic Lodge 180, White Shrine of Jerusalem and was a past high priest of Chapter 155 of the Royal Arch Masons, all of Wellsville.

He is survived by a daughter, Miss Erla Shipley at home, and a brother, John W. Shipley of Willoughby.

Services will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Haugh Funeral Home. Burial will be in Springhill Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday. Masonic services will be held Saturday at 7 p. m.

Mrs. Hazel Campbell

HAMMONDSVILLE — Services were held Tuesday at the Christian Church in St. Marys, W. Va., for Mrs. Hazel Campbell of St. Marys, who died Saturday.

She was the sister of Mrs. Eva Cronin of Hammondsville.

Legislature

and race track pari-mutuel wagering.

Among those he disclaimed were measures to increased the state fee for auto licenses and driver licenses. He also said he had turned down proposed state taxes on incomes and real estate.

Bills introduced Thursday would convert the Utilities Commission into a state department with a Cabinet-level director and split the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction into two departments.

DiSalle indicated he backs the Utilities Department proposal, but was noncommittal on the departmental split.

Among the flood of bills were these standout measures to:

Let counties levy public utility excise taxes next year to relieve the state of poor relief responsibility.

Create a state school subsidy equalization formula.

Set up a state college scholarship fund.

Open to cities any tax source not specifically pre-empted by an existing state levy.

Permit townships to levy income taxes against residents and nonresidents.

Create a retirement system for legislators.

Increase the Ohio Highway Patrol strength from 700 to 850 men.

Require school boards to train the mentally retarded.

Repeal the State Bridge Commission's power to charge tolls on the Ohio River bridge between Steubenville and Weirton, W. Va.

Increase rates for legal advertising from $1.50 to $2 a square for first publication and from 75 cents to $1 for subsequent insertions.

Create a legislative commission to deal with juvenile delinquency.

Repeal the requirement that county court judges must be attorneys after Jan. 1, 1963.

Permit the State Board of Education to set a uniform admission age.

Require photographs on driver licenses.

Create a Fair Employment Practices Division in the Department of Industrial Relations.

Close drive-in movies at midnight and require that patrons under 18 be accompanied by parents or legal guardian.

Require two trials in cases of persons accused of first - degree murder: One to establish guilt, the other to determine whether the sentence should be life imprisonment or electrocution.

Forbid corporations to use funds to aid a candidate, party or organization.

Require uniform state meat inspection.

Require that sales over bars be made only to persons seated.

Add Sheffield to jurisdiction of Avon Lake Municipal Court in Lorain County.

Judge Terms Brawling 'New Female' Freedom

"Is this 'women's new freedom?'," Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw asked in caustic tones today after hearing testimony in a case in which three women were involved in a street brawl on the Diamond Thursday at 2:30 a.m.

Convicted of disorderly conduct by fighting, the three were fined $10 and costs each. Police identified the defendants as: Kathleen Hunt, 33, of 1069 Locust St., Sarah Melvin, 32, of 1076 Peake St., and Jeannette Kountz, 64 of 325 Broadway.

Patrolmen Robert B. Pyle and Charles E. (Bill) Tice testified they arrested the three after observing them "pulling hair, kicking, talking loudly and swinging fists" outside the Diamond Tavern on the Diamond.

The telegraph was invented 30 years before the telephone.

Deaths and Funerals

Former City Woman Dies

Funeral Monday For Mrs. Harry Sanders

Mrs. Anna Shaw Sanders, 1419 Madison Ave., Toronto, formerly of East Liverpool, died Thursday at 11:15 p. m. at the Riverview Nursing Home in Steubenville after an illness of 6 months. She was 84 and had been married 59 years.

She was born at Burslem, England, Oct. 31, 1874, daughter of the late George and Mary Shaw, and resided in the Toronto vicinity for 12 years. She was a member of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church of East Liverpool.

She leaves her husband, Harry Sanders at home; a grandson, William George Sanders of Steubenville; two sisters, Mrs. Clara Gratton of Beaver and Mrs. Rachael Stanley of East Liverpool, and a brother, George L. Shaw of Beaver. A son, William G. Sanders, was killed in action while serving with the Navy in 1945.

Services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by the Rev. Marc Anton Nocerino. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery here.

Friends may call at the Clarke Funeral Home at Toronto after 7 tonight until 5 p. m. Saturday. The body will then be removed to the Dawson Funeral Home where friends may call Sunday.

Fred F. Eaton

Fred F. Eaton of Sewickley died Wednesday at the Sewickley Valley Hospital. He was 58.

He is survived by his widow, the former Mary Hutchison of East Liverpool; four sons, Harry R. Eaton, David L. Eaton, Richard L. Eaton and Samuel G. Eaton; a daughter, Mrs. Dewira Allison; three sisters, Mrs. Elva Thornburg, Mrs. Jessie Huffnagel and Mrs. Bertha Sainer; two brothers, John Eaton and Lawrence Eaton, and 15 grandchildren.

Friends are being received at the Moody Funeral Home at Clinton, where services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m.

Burial will be in the Hebron Cemetery near Clinton.

William Cronin

William J. Cronin of 1st St., a railroad construction worker employed at Conway, was found dead in a booth at the Buckeye Tavern on Dresden Ave. Thursday at 7:15 p. m. He was 48.

Patrolmen Robert B. Pyle and Paul Carter investigated after receiving a report Mr. Cronin had been found dead. They said he entered the tavern about 2 p.m. He had been in a rear booth for three hours prior to the discovery he was dead, police said.

He was born in Pittsburgh and resided in this vicinity 35 years.

He leaves his father, Everett Cronin of East Liverpool; a brother, Daniel Cronin of Toronto; a daughter at Pittsburgh and two grandchildren.

The Martin Funeral Home will forward the body to the Clarke Funeral Home in Toronto, where services will be held Monday at 11 a. m. by the Rev. Roy Watson. Burial will be in Union Cemetery there.

Friends may call at the funeral home in Toronto Sunday afternoon and night.

Benjamin Shipley

Benjamin Shipley, 1730 Lincoln Ave., Wellsville, a retired Pennsylvania Railroad Co. stockman, died Thursday at 8 p. m. at City Hospital, where he was a patient for only a day. He was 86.

A lifetime resident of Wellsville, he worked for the railroad company 48 years.

He was a member of the First Methodist Church, Masonic Lodge 180, White Shrine of Jerusalem and was a past high priest of Chapter 155 of the Royal Arch Masons, all of Wellsville.

He is survived by a daughter, Miss Erla Shipley at home, and a brother, John W. Shipley of Willoughby.

Services will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Haugh Funeral Home. Burial will be in Springhill Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday. Masonic services will be held Saturday at 7 p. m.

Mrs. Hazel Campbell

HAMMONDSVILLE — Services were held Tuesday at the Christian Church in St. Marys, W. Va., for Mrs. Hazel Campbell of St. Marys, who died Saturday.

She was the sister of Mrs. Eva Cronin of Hammondsville.

and race track pari-mutuel wagering.

Among those he disclaimed were measures to increased the state fee for auto licenses and driver licenses. He also said he had turned down proposed state taxes on incomes and real estate.

Bills introduced Thursday would convert the Utilities Commission into a state department with a Cabinet-level director and split the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction into two departments.

DiSalle indicated he backs the Utilities Department proposal, but was noncommittal on the departmental split.

Among the flood of bills were these standout measures to:

Let counties levy public utility excise taxes next year to relieve the state of poor relief responsibility.

Create a state school subsidy equalization formula.

Set up a state college scholarship fund.

Open to cities any tax source not specifically pre-empted by an existing state levy.

Permit townships to levy income taxes against residents and nonresidents.

Create a retirement system for legislators.

Increase the Ohio Highway Patrol strength from 700 to 850 men.

Require school boards to train the mentally retarded.

Repeal the State Bridge Commission's power to charge tolls on the Ohio River bridge between Steubenville and Weirton, W. Va.

Increase rates for legal advertising from $1.50 to $2 a square for first publication and from 75 cents to $1 for subsequent insertions.

Create a legislative commission to deal with juvenile delinquency.

Repeal the requirement that county court judges must be attorneys after Jan. 1, 1963.

Permit the State Board of Education to set a uniform admission age.

Require photographs on driver licenses.

Create a Fair Employment Practices Division in the Department of Industrial Relations.

Close drive-in movies at midnight and require that patrons under 18 be accompanied by parents or legal guardian.

Require two trials in cases of persons accused of first - degree murder: One to establish guilt, the other to determine whether the sentence should be life imprisonment or electrocution.

Forbid corporations to use funds to aid a candidate, party or organization.

Require uniform state meat inspection.

Require that sales over bars be made only to persons seated.

Add Sheffield to jurisdiction of Avon Lake Municipal Court in Lorain County.

Judge Terms Brawling 'New Female' Freedom

"Is this 'women's new freedom?'," Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw asked in caustic tones today after hearing testimony in a case in which three women were involved in a street brawl on the Diamond Thursday at 2:30 a.m.

Convicted of disorderly conduct by fighting, the three were fined $10 and costs each. Police identified the defendants as: Kathleen Hunt, 33, of 1069 Locust St., Sarah Melvin, 32, of 1076 Peake St., and Jeannette Kountz, 64 of 325 Broadway.

Patrolmen Robert B. Pyle and Charles E. (Bill) Tice testified they arrested the three after observing them "pulling hair, kicking, talking loudly and swinging fists" outside the Diamond Tavern on the Diamond.

with traveling at a speed in excess of safe road conditions.

Harry Hager, 20, of New Waterford R. D. 1 was cited after he swerved his car off Route 14 near Columbiana Thursday afternoon to avoid a collision and the auto rammed a parked tractor - trailer truck.

Officers said Hager, headed west about 2 miles east of Columbiana at 5:30 p. m., attempted to pass another vehicle, but swerved off the road to keep from hitting an approaching vehicle. His 1952 sedan veered into a truck stop and hit the parked rig of William Busch, 44, of Pittsburgh.

Hager was unhurt, but was charged with passing without the assured clear distance.

Club Officers Hear Talk On Procedures

LISBON — About 20 attended a meeting of officers and leaders of Columbiana County rural organizations Thursday night at the Agricultural Extension office at which parliamentary procedure was discussed.

John B. Mitchel, rural sociologist at Ohio State University, was speaker for the meeting, the last of four such sessions sponsored by the extension office.

300 Attend Concert

NEW CUMBERLAND — An estimated 300 persons attended a concert of the senior and junior bands of New Cumberland High School Thursday night in the school auditorium. Miss Helen Stobinsky is director. The band is completing arrangements for a banquet March 12.

Weight Hearings Set

SALINEVILLE — Hearings are slated tonight for five truckers cited Monday on Route 164 for overweight loads in a weight check by the State Highway Patrol. Earl Davison, Council president, will preside in the absence of Mayor Karl Lindner.

Illinois Driver Jailed

LISBON — James R. Miller, 28, of Oak Park, Ill., was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to 3 days in jail Thursday by Mayor John Todd for driving while intoxicated. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Farm Group To Meet

LISBON—The Columbiana County Agriculture Council will meet Tuesday, March 17, at 8 p. m. in the county extension offices, according to Floyd Lower, county extension agent. The council will complete its organization and plan for this year's activities.

California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas all border on Mexico.

Storm

Omaha, closed Thursday were to reopen, as was the University of Nebraska, also forced to suspend classes because of the storm.

The intense storm centered in the mid-Mississippi Valley during the early morning. Snow continued from Missouri northward to Minnesota and eastward into Wisconsin and upper Michigan.

The bodies of a father and his 3-year-old daughter were found on a snow drift on a country road near their home in Waukee, Iowa, just outside Des Moines.

2 Truckers At Lisbon Fined In Route Cases

LISBON — Two Lisbon truckers were fined at a hearing Thursday night before Mayor John Todd for driving loaded trucks off state routes.

William Frankford, 36, of 235 Sherman St. and Harold Barnes, 36, of R. D. 2 were fined $25 and $10 and costs, respectively, after they were found guilty of violating a village ordinance which prohibits driving a loaded truck over village streets unless delivering. Both were cited by village police.

A large delegation attended the hearing.

Overload Costs $364

LISBON — Harry L. Woods, 55, of the Lisbon area was fined $364 and costs Thursday by County Judge James L. MacDonald for overloading his truck by 11,325 pounds. He was cited yesterday by the State Highway Patrol on Route 518.

Backus' Mother Dies

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Daisy Taylor Backus, 70, mother of James D. Backus, television and radio entertainer, died Thursday. Mrs. Backus formerly lived in Cleveland.

Ex-Teacher Kills Self

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Miss Opal Smith, 52, a retired Mount Vernon, Ohio, school teacher, committed suicide here by firing a .32 caliber revolver bullet into her head, Coroner Dr. Robert A. Evans ruled. Her body was found Thursday at the home of her sister, whom she had been visiting. Sheriff's deputies said Miss Smith apparently was worried over possible ill health.

The police of London are allowed to carry guns only on very rare occasions. So strict are the conditions under which arms are issued that a report must be made and handed in if a weapon is even drawn from its holsters.

LISBON — James R. Miller, 28, of Oak Park, Ill., was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to 3 days in jail Thursday by Mayor John Todd for driving while intoxicated. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Farm Group To Meet

LISBON—The Columbiana County Agriculture Council will meet Tuesday, March 17, at 8 p. m. in the county extension offices, according to Floyd Lower, county extension agent. The council will complete its organization and plan for this year's activities.

California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas all border on Mexico.

Storm

Omaha, closed Thursday were to reopen, as was the University of Nebraska, also forced to suspend classes because of the storm.

The intense storm centered in the mid-Mississippi Valley during the early morning. Snow continued from Missouri northward to Minnesota and eastward into Wisconsin and upper Michigan.

The bodies of a father and his 3-year-old daughter were found on a snow drift on a country road near their home in Waukee, Iowa, just outside Des Moines.

2 Truckers At Lisbon Fined In Route Cases

LISBON — Two Lisbon truckers were fined at a hearing Thursday night before Mayor John Todd for driving loaded trucks off state routes.

William Frankford, 36, of 235 Sherman St. and Harold Barnes, 36, of R. D. 2 were fined $25 and $10 and costs, respectively, after they were found guilty of violating a village ordinance which prohibits driving a loaded truck over village streets unless delivering. Both were cited by village police.

A large delegation attended the hearing.

Overload Costs $364

LISBON — Harry L. Woods, 55, of the Lisbon area was fined $364 and costs Thursday by County Judge James L. MacDonald for overloading his truck by 11,325 pounds. He was cited yesterday by the State Highway Patrol on Route 518.

Backus' Mother Dies

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Daisy Taylor Backus, 70, mother of James D. Backus, television and radio entertainer, died Thursday. Mrs. Backus formerly lived in Cleveland.

Ex-Teacher Kills Self

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Miss Opal Smith, 52, a retired Mount Vernon, Ohio, school teacher, committed suicide here by firing a .32 caliber revolver bullet into her head, Coroner Dr. Robert A. Evans ruled. Her body was found Thursday at the home of her sister, whom she had been visiting. Sheriff's deputies said Miss Smith apparently was worried over possible ill health.

The police of London are allowed to carry guns only on very rare occasions. So strict are the conditions under which arms are issued that a report must be made and handed in if a weapon is even drawn from its holsters.

Recruits Sign For Air Force

5 Area Men Launch Training In Texas

Five East Liverpool district men who enlisted in the Air Force recently have started 11 weeks of basic training at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, Tex., according to T.Sgt. Charles D. Ward, recruiter stationed at City Hall.

Flown to Lackland after being sworn into the Air Force at Cleveland, they are:

Wilmer Lee Jones, son of Mrs. Ella M. Jones, 188 Beechwood St.; Harold Taggart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Taggart of Wellsville R. D. 1; Paul C. Rummel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rummel, 149 N. Main St., Columbiana; John B. Untch, son of Mrs. Bertha Haroff of Rogers R. D. 1, and Charles E. Cusick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cusick of Lisbon R. D. 5.

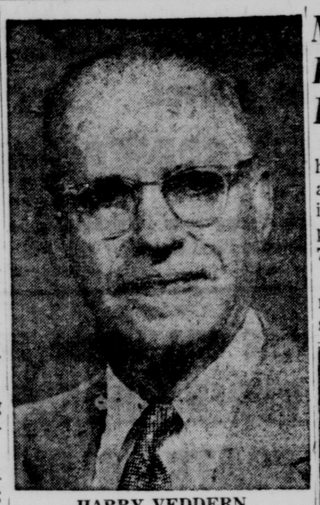

Two more men have signed to enter the Air Force in mid-March. They are Ralph R. Bailey, son of Ralph I. Bailey, 509 Jefferson St., Newell, and Arthur R. Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Marshall of R. D. 2. They will report to Lackland for training about March 21.

Sgt. Ward said the Air Force is conducting an extensive campaign to obtain qualified aviation cadet applicants. The program, which leads to a commission as a second lieutenant and a rating as a pilot or navigator, is the only method at present by which a young man may become a commissioned officer in the Air Force directly from civilian status, he said.

Applicants must be at least 19, a high school graduate, single with no dependents and of good moral character. Sgt. Ward said interested applicants may obtain more information at his office in City Hall Monday, Wednesday or Friday between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. or by phoning FU. 6-4623 or FU. 6-6100.

Mrs. Jen Dando and Mrs. Edith Crawford have concluded a two-week vacation in St. Peterburg, Fla.

Mexican Police Hunt Engineer In Train Disaster

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Police hunted today for the engineer of a speeding freight which slammed into a passenger train, killing 11 persons and injuring more than 70.

The collision occurred Thursday near Xometla, about 27 miles south of Mexico City.

Javier Garcia Travesi, an investigator for the federal district attorney, said both engineers may have been at fault. Preliminary investigation indicated the engineer of the passenger train halted to repair a bearing without putting out warning flags. Garcia said the freight engineer apparently failed to give the passenger train a required 10-minute head start and was traveling at high speed.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am desperate and don't know anyone well enough to ask for advice. We moved to this city a year ago and that was when my young daughter got into a bad crowd.

She is only 16 and I'm sure she's in trouble. Everything is tight on her. She can't be getting plump from overeating because she's been nauseated every morning for two months and hardly eats anything. Yet when I hint to her she says, "Everything is just fine."

My next-door neighbor's daughter had a baby and the boy didn't marry her. They knew somebody who paid the bills and took the baby and gave it to good people.

Should I ask my neighbor about this? I have heard of homes for unwed mothers but I don't know where they are. Please help me. My husband died last year and we can't afford much.—AGNUS.

Dear Agnus: Don't HINT. Tell your daughter you're not blind and that you know perfectly well she's in trouble. Skip the sermon. It's too late. Tell her she needs medical care and she must stop running away from reality.

Call the Family Service Bureau or the Salvation Army. In (or near) every community there are facilities for unwed mothers.

Stick to the legitimate agencies and don't become involved with neighbors who "know somebody." All too frequently, a panicky mother or a frightened young girl falls into unscrupulous hands with tragic results. Good luck.

Person To Person

Dear Ann: I'm a freshman in high school and have never asked a girl for a date. I want to break the ice next month for the school hop.

A certain gal I like very much is my first choice. We've known each other for years. In fact, her mother and my mother are good friends, and my dad plays golf with her dad.

Shall I ask my mother to talk to her mother? Shall I call her mother? Or shall I have my dad talk to her dad?

Please hurry the advice. I want to get this straight in my head.—ROCKY.

Dear Rocky: Do you want to take the girl to the dance or do you want your mother to take her mother? For heaven's sake, skip the relatives and ask the girl. I hope the advice reached you in time and that it's straight in your head.

Too Loose-Lipped

Dear Ann Landers: I have always thought it paid to be honest but I'm not so sure any more. Please give me your opinion, also some advice.

I'm 24, considered good-looking and a neat dresser. I played college football and was a campus wheel. I've had several romances, some fleeting, others serious. I must admit that most of the girls fell harder for me than I fell for them.

Two months ago (when I got home from the Army bit) I met a high-class gal who measured up to all my requirements. We began to see a lot of each other. I was sure this was "it."

In the course of our conversations I told her about some of the gals I had known. She seemed quite interested but doubted that I had made such progress with so many lovelies. (She knew most of them.) So, I showed her several letters which left no room for doubt. Of course I swore her to secrecy.

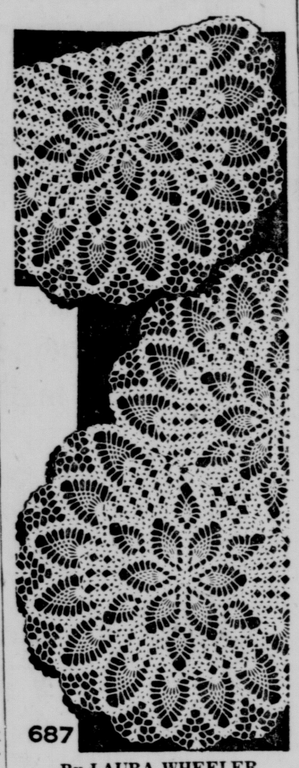

Now I can't get a date with her and she gives mé the freeze on the phone. I'm sure she is mad because I was able to back up my claims. I was only being truthful and now I've lost the girl because of it. Is this fair?—YULE.

Dear Yule: You are a leading candidate for the Heel of the Year Award (Male Skunk Division.) This girl is freezing you out because she doesn't wish to be added to your list — and who can blame her? What you call "honesty" was nothing more than caddish bragging. You got what you deserved.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed, envelope.

26 At Hammondsville On School Honor Roll

HAMMONDSVILLE — Twenty-six pupils in the elementary school attained the honor roll with a grade average of B or better, for the recent six - week period of classes, Mrs. Frieda Ault, principal, said.

The list includes: First grade, Carol Moore, Rebecca Plunkett, Patricia Pysniak, Pam Saltsman and Sandra Wickham; second, Ellen Blackburn, Brenda Burton, Frank Gruszecki, Larry Hooper, Karen Pinkerton, Linda Roberts and Bonnie Rodgers.

Third, Larry Barber, Marsha Grafton, Evelyn Moore and Erla Tice; fourth, John Davidson, Gerald Hayes and Nancy Sholea; fifth, Carol Williamson, Karen Sholea, Doris Moore and Barbara Millhorn, and sixth, Janet Pysniak, John Tice and William Sherwood.

3 Receive Probation On Last Year Crimes

Two Columbiana County men and a Pennsylvanian were given probation after hearings Thursday afternoon before Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

Charles W. Davis, 25, of East Liverpool R. D. 1 and William Douds, 19, of Industry R. D. 1 were each placed on 5 years probation. They pleaded guilty to assault with intent to rob Oliver Lutton last Aug. 8 on the Hill Rd.

Leo Gotthardt, 21, of N. Market St., Lisbon, was placed on 2 years probation. He pleaded guilty to stealing $167 in nickles from the Morris Service Station at Lisbon July 2.

Soldier Finishes Course

LISBON — Pvt. Eugene F. Hay, 24, husband of Mrs. Rose Mary Hay, 533 E. Chestnut St., has completed an 8-week typing and clerical course at the Armor School at Ft. Knox, Ky. Son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Hay of East Palestine R. D., he was employed at the Hamilton Drugstore before entering the service under the Reserve Forces Act.

Cleanup Planned For Fire Station

Plans for a general cleaning of the Lawrenceville fire station and fire truck were outlined at a meeting of the volunteer department Thursday night. The cleanup was slated March 14.

A four-man committee will visit Akron Saturday to obtain estimates on the cost of obtaining a government surplus fire truck. The department is planning to buy an additional truck with tank and pump.

The delegation will include Charles Laughlin,, Sherman Williams, Ray Bryan and Guy Michaels.

Randall Roach and Michaels were named to obtain prices for flasher lights for the fire truck. Plans were completed for a public stag party and fish fry March 20 at the fire station.

Okey Leaisure, president, was in charge. The next meeting will be April 2.

Columbus Man Heads Ohio Traffic Bureau

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Columbus' chief traffic engineer, James V. Musick, will take over as head of the State Highway Department's Bureau of Traffic March 16.

His appointment was announced today. The new appointee has been Columbus' chief traffic engineer since January, 1954.

Rural Group To Meet

LISBON — A program on "Wall Coverings" will be presented at the meeting of the Franklin Township Home Demonstration Group Tuesday from 10 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Ruth Phillips of Summitville. Mrs. Ann Tepsic and Mrs. Terecia Snively will be leaders.

Which Is the ONE That Will Speed Recovery?

When your doctor writes a prescription for you, it may call for 12 tablets ... 24 .... or possibly 100. It depends on the type of drug ... as well as on the doctor's professional judgment of how many tablets you should have on hand to assure effective therapeutic relief.

Which is the ONE tablet that will be the turning point in your illness and help speed recovery? No one can say precisely. Isn't it better, though, to have an ample supply of medication on hand ... rather than run short?

Person To Person

Dear Ann: I'm a freshman in high school and have never asked a girl for a date. I want to break the ice next month for the school hop.

A certain gal I like very much is my first choice. We've known each other for years. In fact, her mother and my mother are good friends, and my dad plays golf with her dad.

Shall I ask my mother to talk to her mother? Shall I call her mother? Or shall I have my dad talk to her dad?

Please hurry the advice. I want to get this straight in my head.—ROCKY.

Dear Rocky: Do you want to take the girl to the dance or do you want your mother to take her mother? For heaven's sake, skip the relatives and ask the girl. I hope the advice reached you in time and that it's straight in your head.

Too Loose-Lipped

Dear Ann Landers: I have always thought it paid to be honest but I'm not so sure any more. Please give me your opinion, also some advice.

I'm 24, considered good-looking and a neat dresser. I played college football and was a campus wheel. I've had several romances, some fleeting, others serious. I must admit that most of the girls fell harder for me than I fell for them.

Two months ago (when I got home from the Army bit) I met a high-class gal who measured up to all my requirements. We began to see a lot of each other. I was sure this was "it."

In the course of our conversations I told her about some of the gals I had known. She seemed quite interested but doubted that I had made such progress with so many lovelies. (She knew most of them.) So, I showed her several letters which left no room for doubt. Of course I swore her to secrecy.

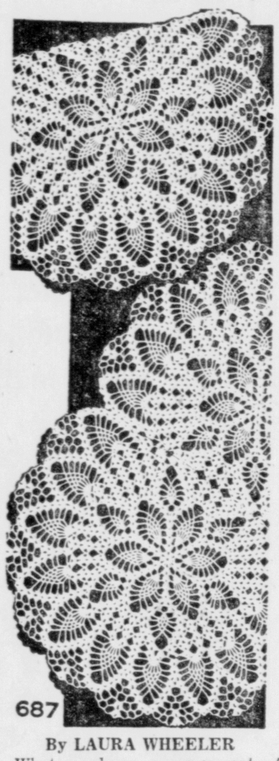

Now I can't get a date with her and she gives me the freeze on the phone. I'm sure she is mad because I was able to back up my claims. I was only being truthful and now I've lost the girl because of it. Is this fair?—YULE.

Dear Yule: You are a leading candidate for the Heel of the Year Award (Male Skunk Division.) This girl is freezing you out because she doesn't wish to be added to your list — and who can blame her? What you call "honesty" was nothing more than caddish bragging. You got what you deserved.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed, envelope.

Cleanup Planned For Fire Station

Plans for a general cleaning of the Lawrenceville fire station and fire truck were outlined at a meeting of the volunteer department Thursday night. The cleanup was slated March 14.

A four-man committee will visit Akron Saturday to obtain estimates on the cost of obtaining a government surplus fire truck. The department is planning to buy an additional truck with tank and pump.

The delegation will include Charles Laughlin,, Sherman Williams, Ray Bryan and Guy Michaels.

Randall Roach and Michaels were named to obtain prices for flasher lights for the fire truck. Plans were completed for a public stag party and fish fry March 20 at the fire station.

Okey Leaisure, president, was in charge. The next meeting will be April 2.

Which Is the ONE That Will Speed Recovery?

When your doctor writes a prescription for you, it may call for 12 tablets ... 24 .... or possibly 100. It depends on the type of drug ... as well as on the doctor's professional judgment of how many tablets you should have on hand to assure effective therapeutic relief.

Which is the ONE tablet that will be the turning point in your illness and help speed recovery? No one can say precisely. Isn't it better, though, to have an ample supply of medication on hand ... rather than run short?

Girl Injured On Fish Hook

A Lisbon St. girl bitten by a dog and a W. 8th St. girl hurt on a fish hook were among seven youngsters and adults treated at City Hospital Thursday.

Pamela Powers, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Powers of Lisbon St. Ext., suffered a wound of the upper lip when bitten by a neighbor's dog.

Margaret Baker, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Baker of W. 8th St., received an injury of a finger when a fish hook became embedded at home.

James Lyle, 28, of 735 Bradshaw Ave., manager of the Dacar Chemical Products Co., was treated for scalds of the right ankle suffered from steam and hot water at work.

Ronald James, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. George James of W. 2nd St., received a possible shoulder fracture in a fall down steps.

Also hurt in a fall, Sherri Cunningham, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cunningham of Valley Ave., was treated for a cut of the forehead.

Mrs. Kathryn Lindsay of Indiana Ave., Chester, was treated for a shoulder injury received in a fall at home Wednesday.

John Sparks, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sparks of Haywood St., was treated for a finger injury received wrestling Wednesday.

Teachers Told Of Prospects

City Potential Termed Favorable

East Liverpool has a "very favorable" geographical location to participate in the future economic development of the Upper Ohio Valley, Walter Myers, executive director of the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council told the East Liverpool Teachers Association Thursday afternoon.

Myers was one of three speakers in a panel discussing future developments at the association meeting at Westgate School. He is shown with Mrs. Marjorie Birbeck, second vice president, and Austen Moore, right, president of the teachers' organization.

In his discussion, Myers stressed industrial development, pointing out East Liverpool is near many natural resources. "Citizens must capitalize on the potential of the community."

Atty. Francis H. Lang, president of the Lake Erie-Ohio River Highway Association and chairman of the Chamber of Commerce and UOVDC highways committees, discussed highway developments planned in the area, pointing out the city is "an ideal terminus" for lake-to-river transportation.

Gordon Starkey, president of the Potters Bank & Trust Co., discussed the financial relationship of the developments, explaining the need for an income tax for municipal benefits and school progress. He pointed out bankers as individuals are interested in civic improvement and development.

Supt. Ralph W. Betts, who served as moderator, said in his opening remarks the school system must prepare for the developments because they will affect teachers as individuals and the pupils now in school.

A question and answer period followed.

The association elected the slate recommended by the nominating committee headed by Miriam Dunn.

The officers include Moore, president; Harold Bricker, first vice president; Mrs. Birbeck, second vice president; Ruth Ladzinske, recording secretary; Gyla Nicely, corresponding secretary; Michael Misconish, treasurer, and James Martin and William Wilson, directors.

Film On Pony Express Shown Midland Club

One of a series of films of the "Cavalcade of America," dealing with the development of the Pony Express, was shown at a meeting of the Midland Rotary Club Thursday evening with Ray Stowitzky as program chairman.

George Paradisi, student of the audio - visual aids class in the high school, showed the film. A meeting was held by the trip committee for the club's attendance at the Rotary International Convention in early June.

Merrill Wright, program chairman next Thursday, will discuss the "Rotarian," the club's magazine. Eight board directors will be elected, David Schwerha, president, said.

Wellsville Man Cited After Car Hits Truck

Roy F. Yost, 58, of 409 5th St., Wellsville, was cited in Chester Thursday night at 8:30 after his 1957 sedan hit a dump truck parked on Carolina Ave. near 6th St.

Patrolman Harold Davis said Yost was driving east when his car hit the 1953 truck owned by Carl Humes of Steubenville. Yost was cited for failure to maintain control of his auto, and is due for a hearing Tuesday night before Mayor Burton Ward.

The car received considerable damage, Davis, said, while damage to the truck was minor.

The Review Sports

FRIDAY, MARCH 6, 1959 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 12

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Sports Editor

Potter 'Dream Team' . . .

We put Merrill Hall on the spot by asking him to name the best all-around player he ever coached during his 10-year reign at East Liverpool High School.

The Potter athletic director replied that "there would be too many angles to figure in picking one boy." He pointed out that both the defensive and offensive attributes would have to be considered in selecting an all-around player.

Hall, however, did offer what he thought would be a "dream team" of former Potter greats during his period of coaching.

His selections include Potter basketball from the 1946-47 season until he retired as head coach after the 1955-56 campaign.

"If I had to select a team where I carried 12 players, I would add Bob McCoy and Bill Thornberry," Hall said.

After listing this all-star squad, Hall pointed out that each of these boys went on to college and said they should serve as an incentive for younger boys in East Liverpool to gain a college education through athletics.

James was a star at Baldwin-Wallace, Bailey went on to captain Duquesne and Chan was an immediate hit at Washington and Jefferson College.

Berman didn't play basketball at Northwestern, but was a standout in track.

Ashbaugh was captain at Cornell and Jim "Whitey" Betts captained Ohio University.

Bob Dawson is currently starring for the Bowling Green freshman squad and Jack Betts played varsity ball at Ohio U.

George Parfitt was playing regular at Westminster before he dropped out of school and Hyder was a mainstay for four years at Westminster.

McCoy went on to captain the Army basketball team at West Point and Thornberry was a regular at Washington and Jefferson.

There was one other basketball great who just missed the team. He's Jim Harris, who probably would have been a landslide choice had he not been graduated a year before Hall took over as head coach.

But even without Jim, it's quite a team!

Giles Named Most Valuable . . .

WELLSVILLE'S RAY (Pick) Rolley and Vincent Giles completed their second season at Adrian College last week.

Rolley finished as the team's leading scorer with 288 points, for an average of 13.1, while Giles was named the team's most valuable player. He was injured during the season and missed several important games.

Although he was out of action for awhile, Giles managed to score 268 points and finished with the best scoring average per game with 14.8.

Adrian, coached by Greg Arbaugh, closed its season with a record of 10-12.

A NEW APPROACH at basketball will take place March 24 at the Pitt Fieldhouse when the big boys meet the little boys.

The game will send a team of college players 6-foot-5 and over against a squad of players under 6 feet. The contest is being played for the benefit of Maurice Stokes, St. Francis College and Cincinnati Royals' star who has been hospitalized in Cincinnati since last March with a brain injury.

It could partially settle the age-old question of which is more important, a strong rebounding team or a team of little men who are good shots.

Pitt's Don Hennon will lead the little fellows.

This n' That In Sports . . .

DON FOWLER, former Newell athlete, ended his first college season when Davis Elkins was defeated in the West Virginia NAIA eliminations last week.

Don scored 11 points in the tourney game and received a runner-up medal in the tournament.

SEVERAL East Liverpool fans, including yours truly, will witness the Geneva Spencer - Northwestern District "A" contest tonight at Canton.

The Spencer-Northwestern game which starts at 8:30 following the United-Fairport contest, is the top attraction of the district tourney.

Al Bailey's Spencer club brings the only undefeated record into Canton tonight. However, Spencer faces a crucial test when it meets Northwestern, a team which captured the 1958 state championship. The Huskies show a 21-2 record.

Northwestern was ranked No. 1 in the state Class "A" poll this year, with Spencer close behind in third.

JIMMY CHACKO, the great scorer from Charleroi, would be a crowd pleaser if directors of the Blue and White Nonpareil tournament could intice him to the tournament here next month.

According to a Charleroi sportswriter, Chacko's talents don't stop at basketball. He also is a fine football player and calls baseball his best sport.

Colleges from all over the country have been hounding Chacko for the last two years.

IT WAS too bad that Midland, which had been such a crowd pleaser in two earlier WPIAL starts, had to be involved in a near-riot Wednesday night at the Pitt Fieldhouse.

After the game Coach George Hamilton expressed his regrets over the incident.

However, all was forgiven after the battle as Charleroi and Midland players shook hands and congratulated each other in the locker room.

—:—

AL GIRONE, Salineville product, is having temendous success with his Conotton Valley team in tournament play.

Conotton Valley won its 16th game in 22 starts Tuesday night when it gained the finals of the Eastern District tournament with an 82-81 victory over Hiland.

Spencer Eyes Northwestern Five At Canton

United returns to the tournament wars when the Eagles stack up against Fairport Harbor tonight at 7 at Canton's City Auditorium.

The United - Fairport game is the first of a doubleheader. The second game, which grabs the statewde spotlight in Class "A" circles, pits Al Bailey's Geneva Spencer team against the defending state champion Northwestern at 8:30.

United will take a 19-3 record into tonight's game while Fairport shows a 14-6 mark but has played completely a Class "AA" schedule this season.

The Skippers of Fairport rely on a balanced scoring attack. Big man in the scoring department is Harold Fitzgibbons who is averaging better than 12 points a game.

Fairport gained the District tourney by eliminating Andover, 64-52.

Meanwhile, Coach Bob Penrod of United will depend on his leading scorer, Jim Summer who is pumping in points at a 17-point average.

United won its sectional contest by stopping Ravenna Township 64-39. If the Eagles win tonight they would meet the winner of the Spencer-Northwestern contest.

The Canton district shapes up as one of the strongest in Ohio with three of the top ten Class "A" schools entered.

Northwestern was the No. 1 Class "A" team in the state poll while Geneva Spencer held third place and United seventh.

Two teams will advance to the Canton regional. Finals will be held Saturday with Columbiana meeting Braceville after both teams posted victories Thursday night.

Another County team opens District play tonight at Youngstown when Salem meets Woodrow Wilson.

A victory by Salem would set the stage for the long - awaited battle between the Quakers and Youngstown Chaney. Chaney gained the district finals by defeating Canfield, 77-48, Thursday night.

The Salem - Chaney contest would unfold Saturday at the South High fieldhouse.

Clippers Nip Springfield In 63-61 Win

CANTON—Columbiana, a school which won the state Class "A" title in 1947, remained in the running today after a 63-61 "sudden death" victory over Springfield Local Thursday at the City Auditorium here.

Two foul shots by Don Davidson gave Columbiana its narrow victory over the classy Springfield five.

The Clippers will meet Braceville in the finals of the upper bracket Saturday night. Braceville defeated Black River, 72-65.

The score at the end of regulation time was tied at 59-59 and the first three - minute overtime period ended in a 61-61 deadlock.

Ray Baltz turned in one of his best performances of the season as he dropped in 26 points to lead the Clippers. Davidson finished with 12 while Culp dropped in 10.

The victory was the 12th in 21 games for the Clippers who rate a darkhorse chance of copping the District crown.

John Szanjhart topped Springfield with 25 points. Springfield entered the tourney with a 21-2 record.

Beatty Finished Third Among Potter Scorers

The name of Bob Beatty, a senior on the Potter basketball squad, was omitted by mistake from the scoring breakdown in Wednesday's Review.

The 6-foot-3 performer, used at center and forward this past season, was third in the scoring department for the Potters with 150 points.

Beatty tallied 135 points in the regular season, then added 15 in two tournament games.

O'Toole Rates Top Prospect

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—If you think bright rookie pitcher Jim O'Toole might make the major leagues this season, you're a step behind Cincinnati Reds' officials. They thought the same thing after last season.

Coach Clyde King, hired specifically to spruce up the Reds' wobbly pitching staff, said Thursday of O'Toole:

"He's one of the finest young pitchers I've ever seen. He's deadly serious about his job, knows what it can mean to be a standout and I think he's determined that he'll make it with the Reds this season.

The 22-year-old southpaw notched 20 victories last season with Nashville, produced four shutouts, and in 280 innings struck out 189 batters and allowed only 132 bases on balls. His performance won him the title of Minor League Player of 1958.

The young southpaw gets the starting assignment Saturday when the Reds open their spring exhibition series against Chicago's White Sox. He'll work the first three innings followed by Ted Weiand, rookie irghthander, and Tom Acker is slated to finish up.

Three Teams To Battle For Frosh Cage Title

Salineville, Wellsville and Augusta survived opening round tests in the freshmen basketball turnament at Beaver Local High School Thursday night.

Salineville scored a 30-28 victory over Salem as Leatherberry paced the winner with 13 points. Eskay had 11 for the young Quakers.

Wellsville picked up a 38-33 win over Beaver Local as Luckino and Carter combined for 10 points each. Baker paced the losers with 10.

Devault scored 17 points to lead Augusta in a 33-21 win over Fairfield-Waterford. Wisler had 12 for the losers.

Tonight's games find Beaver Local meeting Salem at 7 p. m. in the loser's bracket while Augusta and Wellsville battle at 8. Salineville drew a bye in the winner's bracket.

The championship game will be played Saturday with Salineville meeting the winner of the Augusta Wellsville game at 8 p. m. The loser of the Augusta-Wellsville game will meet the winner of the Beaver Local-Salem contest.

Fairfield-Waterford dropped out of the tournament after losing its opening game Thursday night.

Beaver Local Boosters To Hold Smorgasbord

The Beaver Local Boosters will hold a smorgasbord Saturday from 5 to 7 p. m. at the new elementary school on Route 7. Proceeds will be used for the club's athletic program.

Judge Blocks Comiskey Bid

CHICAGO (AP) — For the first time since the founding of the American League in 1900, it appeared today that the Chicago White Sox no longer is strictly an enterprise of the Comiskey family.

Judge Robert Jerome Dunne in probate court Thursday denied two petitions through which Charles (Chuck) Comiskey had sought to block the sale of 54 per cent of the Chicago White Sox stock to Bill Veeck by Comiskey's sister, Mrs. Dorothy Rigney.

But first, Judge Dunne rebuked Chuck and Mrs. Rigney for waging their family feud in public and in the newspapers.

Judge Dunne granted a motion by Mrs. Rigney's attorneys to dismiss one Comiskey petition, which would have nullified the sale, and denied another which would have accomplished the same purpose by removing Mrs. Rigney as executrix of their mother's estate.

Veeck, former president of the old St. Louis Browns and the Cleveland Indians, has until March 31 to wind up his $2,700,000 deal for the 3,235 shares owned by Mrs. Rigney. If Veeck completes the deal it would leave Chuck a minority stockholder.

Pettit Sets NBA Single Season Scoring Record

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —A rival coach calls him just great.

An opposing player says there isn't a better basketball player around today.

But the fellow to whom they're referring says of himself he still retains a bit of his high school awkwardness and has a lot to learn to improve his game.

He's Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks who Thursday night set a National Basketball Assn. single season scoring record.

Pettit, in his fifth year in the NBA, dumped in 24 points to run his season's total to 2,008, although the Hawks lost to Philadelphia 106-101.

The 26-year-old Baton Rouge, La., native surpassed the previous mark of 2,001 set last year by George Yardley, then with Detroit. He's now with Syracuse. The two are the only NBA players to surpass 2,000 points in one season.

Even the Warriors' victory didn't get them into the Eastern division playoffs. Syracuse laid into the Boston Celtics, 142-118 to clinch the third and last playoff in the Eastern division.

The victory kept Boston from setting an all-time record for season victories. The Celts now have 51. The Nats set a club record for total points as Dolph Schayes scored 25 points, John Kerr 22 and Bob Hopkins 20. Bill Sharman led Boston with 23.

Elgin Baylor scored 32 points to give Minneapolis at least a tie for second place in the West, as the Lakers downed New York 135-115.

Willie Naulls led New York with 22 points.

Paul Arizin scored 42 points, equalling his personal career high. He put the Warriors ahead for good with less than three minutes to go with a pair of fouls.

Pettit broke Yardley's mark with 11 seconds to go in the third period by making the second of two fouls. He equalled the mark 18 seconds earlier, making one of three free throws.

Wins Cribbage Title

The East Liverpool Moose won its third straight City Cribbage title Thursday night.

Ohio Team Rolls 3069 Series To Gain Third Place At ABC

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Two of the four 1958 American Bowling Congress Tournament champions have failed in their efforts to defend their titles, and today is the day of reckoning for last year's doubles kings.

Jim Vrenick and Bill Tucker of St. Louis won the two-man crown in Syracuse last spring with a 1414 series. If they shoot 97 pins less than they did a year ago, the St. Louisans will still be able to take at least temporary charge of the 1959 doubles department. A 1316 composed by Bob and Glenn Gersch of Chicago leads the category.

Ed Sha, Chester, Pa., last year's singles titlist, rolled a mediocre 605 Wednesday. The defending team champions, the Falstaffs of St. Louis, fell by the wayside Feb. 26 with 3010.

Thursday's feature attraction was a nifty 3069 series by the Buckeye Beer team of Toledo which took third place in the open division. After mediocre starters of 983 and 987, the Ohioans rolled a 1099 finale. Detroit's pfeiffers still command the open section with 3243.

The booster division's standings got a new second-place squad when Casino No. 1 of Quincy, Ill., rolled 2753. The team's 999 third game is the higest singleton in the 850-and-under average category in the first twenty days of the tourney.

Joe Wilman, recovering from a heart attack suffered during the ABC last year, rolled a respectable 536 for Knoll Hamm's Beer in the open team even Thursday night. He will bowl his doubles today.

Montreal Can Wrap Up Title In Next Tilt

By The Associated Press

The National Hockey League race, if it can be called that, has reached the stage where the Montreal Canadiens can wrap up their second straight pennant with one more victory. A loss by the second-place Chicago Black Hawks will produce the same result for the defending champions.

The Canadiens moved two points closer to clinching Thursday night by downing the Toronto Maple Leafs 2-1. And the Boston Bruins tightened their hold on third place with a 3-0 decision over the Detroit Red Wings.

Dickie Moore of the Canadiens took over the goals tallied lead and upped his advantage over Andy Bathgate of New York to two points in their duel for the scoring championship. Moore connected with his 34th goal and raised his point total to 75 as all of the scoring was concentrated in the second period.

Boston called on Harry Lumley as substitute for the ailing Don Simmons and the veteran goal tender promptly came up with the 69th shutout of his NHL career.

Lumley's fine 29-save effort was backed by goals off the sticks of Bronco Horvath, Guy Gendron and rookie Larry Leach.

West Virginia's Fullback Ranks Almost Depleted

MORGANTOWN (AP) — The departure of outstanding freshman football player John Bosley from West Virginia University has practically depleted the already thin ranks of varsity fullback prospects.

Bosley, brother to former WVU star tackle Bruce Bosley, withdrew yesterday to enter the Air Force.

The 18-year-old, 225-pound all-Stater from Green Bank has been upset over the recent death of his mother, Bosley's father said. He added that his son plans to return to WVU after military duty.

WVU Coach Art Lewis, who emphasized that Bosley withdrew in good standing with no failing grades, said he hated to see him leave.

With the departure of Bosley, Lewis now has only two fullbacks returning from last year's squad. They are Bob Benke and Bob Lively. A 1955 letterman, Tom Huston, is back in school following Army service.

Bosley became the first to leave of all the frosh football players who matriculated last September, an endurance record far above the average for all freshman students, WVU officials said.

Bosley's brother, Bruce, plays professional football with the San Francisco 49ers.

FRIDAY, MARCH 6, 1959 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 12

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Sports Editor

Potter 'Dream Team' . . .

We put Merrill Hall on the spot by asking him to name the best all-around player he ever coached during his 10-year reign at East Liverpool High School.

The Potter athletic director replied that "there would be too many angles to figure in picking one boy." He pointed out that both the defensive and offensive attributes would have to be considered in selecting an all-around player.

Hall, however, did offer what he thought would be a "dream team" of former Potter greats during his period of coaching.

His selections include Potter basketball from the 1946-47 season until he retired as head coach after the 1955-56 campaign.

His "dream team" includes Paul James, Al Bailey, Berry Berman and Frank Chan at guards, Walt Ashbaugh and Jim Betts at center and Bob Dawson, Jack Betts, George Parfitt and Jerry Hyder at forwards.

"If I had to select a team where I carried 12 players, I would add Bob McCoy and Bill Thornberry," Hall said.

After listing this all-star squad, Hall pointed out that each of these boys went on to college and said they should serve as an incentive for younger boys in East Liverpool to gain a college education through athletics.

James was a star at Baldwin-Wallace, Bailey went on to captain Duquesne and Chan was an immediate hit at Washington and Jefferson College.

Berman didn't play basketball at Northwestern, but was a standout in track.

Ashbaugh was captain at Cornell and Jim "Whitey" Betts captained Ohio University.

Bob Dawson is currently starring for the Bowling Green freshman squad and Jack Betts played varsity ball at Ohio U.

George Parfitt was playing regular at Westminster before he dropped out of school and Hyder was a mainstay for four years at Westminster.

McCoy went on to captain the Army basketball team at West Point and Thornberry was a regular at Washington and Jefferson.

There was one other basketball great who just missed the team. He's Jim Harris, who probably would have been a landslide choice had he not been graduated a year before Hall took over as head coach.

But even without Jim, it's quite a team!

Giles Named Most Valuable . . .

WELLSVILLE'S RAY (Pick) Rolley and Vincent Giles completed their second season at Adrian College last week.

Rolley finished as the team's leading scorer with 288 points, for an average of 13.1, while Giles was named the team's most valuable player. He was injured during the season and missed several important games.

Although he was out of action for awhile, Giles managed to score 268 points and finished with the best scoring average per game with 14.8.

Adrian, coached by Greg Arbaugh, closed its season with a record of 10-12.

A NEW APPROACH at basketball will take place March 24 at the Pitt Fieldhouse when the big boys meet the little boys.

The game will send a team of college players 6-foot-5 and over against a squad of players under 6 feet. The contest is being played for the benefit of Maurice Stokes, St. Francis College and Cincinnati Royals' star who has been hospitalized in Cincinnati since last March with a brain injury.

It could partially settle the age-old question of which is more important, a strong rebounding team or a team of little men who are good shots.

Pitt's Don Hennon will lead the little fellows.

This n' That In Sports . . .

DON FOWLER, former Newell athlete, ended his first college season when Davis Elkins was defeated in the West Virginia NAIA eliminations last week.

Don scored 11 points in the tourney game and received a runner-up medal in the tournament.

SEVERAL East Liverpool fans, including yours truly, will witness the Geneva Spencer - Northwestern District "A" contest tonight at Canton.

The Spencer-Northwestern game which starts at 8:30 following the United-Fairport contest, is the top attraction of the district tourney.

Al Bailey's Spencer club brings the only undefeated record into Canton tonight. However, Spencer faces a crucial test when it meets Northwestern, a team which captured the 1958 state championship. The Huskies show a 21-2 record.

Northwestern was ranked No. 1 in the state Class "A" poll this year, with Spencer close behind in third.

JIMMY CHACKO, the great scorer from Charleroi, would be a crowd pleaser if directors of the Blue and White Nonpareil tournament could intice him to the tournament here next month.

According to a Charleroi sportswriter, Chacko's talents don't stop at basketball. He also is a fine football player and calls baseball his best sport.

Colleges from all over the country have been hounding Chacko for the last two years.

—:—

IT WAS too bad that Midland, which had been such a crowd pleaser in two earlier WPIAL starts, had to be involved in a near-riot Wednesday night at the Pitt Fieldhouse.

After the game Coach George Hamilton expressed his regrets over the incident.

However, all was forgiven after the battle as Charleroi and Midland players shook hands and congratulated each other in the locker room.

—:—

AL GIRONE, Salineville product, is having temendous success with his Conotton Valley team in tournament play.

Conotton Valley won its 16th game in 22 starts Tuesday night when it gained the finals of the Eastern District tournament with an 82-81 victory over Hiland.

Spencer Eyes Northwestern Five At Canton

United returns to the tournament wars when the Eagles stack up against Fairport Harbor tonight at 7 at Canton's City Auditorium.

The United - Fairport game is the first of a doubleheader. The second game, which grabs the statewde spotlight in Class "A" circles, pits Al Bailey's Geneva Spencer team against the defending state champion Northwestern at 8:30.

United will take a 19-3 record into tonight's game while Fairport shows a 14-6 mark but has played completely a Class "AA" schedule this season.

The Skippers of Fairport rely on a balanced scoring attack. Big man in the scoring department is Harold Fitzgibbons who is averaging better than 12 points a game.

Fairport gained the District tourney by eliminating Andover, 64-52.

Meanwhile, Coach Bob Penrod of United will depend on his leading scorer, Jim Summer who is pumping in points at a 17-point average.

United won its sectional contest by stopping Ravenna Township 64-39. If the Eagles win tonight they would meet the winner of the Spencer-Northwestern contest.

The Canton district shapes up as one of the strongest in Ohio with three of the top ten Class "A" schools entered.

Northwestern was the No. 1 Class "A" team in the state poll while Geneva Spencer held third place and United seventh.

Two teams will advance to the Canton regional. Finals will be held Saturday with Columbiana meeting Braceville after both teams posted victories Thursday night.

Another County team opens District play tonight at Youngstown when Salem meets Woodrow Wilson.

A victory by Salem would set the stage for the long - awaited battle between the Quakers and Youngstown Chaney. Chaney gained the district finals by defeating Canfield, 77-48, Thursday night.

The Salem - Chaney contest would unfold Saturday at the South High fieldhouse.

Ohio Team Rolls 3069 Series To Gain Third Place At ABC

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Two of the four 1958 American Bowling Congress Tournament champions have failed in their efforts to defend their titles, and today is the day of reckoning for last year's doubles kings.

Jim Vrenick and Bill Tucker of St. Louis won the two-man crown in Syracuse last spring with a 1414 series. If they shoot 97 pins less than they did a year ago, the St. Louisans will still be able to take at least temporary charge of the 1959 doubles department. A 1316 composed by Bob and Glenn Gersch of Chicago leads the category.

Ed Sha, Chester, Pa., last year's singles titlist, rolled a mediocre 605 Wednesday. The defending team champions, the Falstaffs of St. Louis, fell by the wayside Feb. 26 with 3010.

Thursday's feature attraction was a nifty 3069 series by the Buckeye Beer team of Toledo which took third place in the open division. After mediocre starters of 983 and 987, the Ohioans rolled a 1099 finale. Detroit's pfeiffers still command the open section with 3243.

The booster division's standings got a new second-place squad when Casino No. 1 of Quincy, Ill., rolled 2753. The team's 999 third game is the higest singleton in the 850-and-under average category in the first twenty days of the tourney.

Joe Wilman, recovering from a heart attack suffered during the ABC last year, rolled a respectable 536 for Knoll Hamm's Beer in the open team even Thursday night. He will bowl his doubles today.

Montreal Can Wrap Up Title In Next Tilt

By The Associated Press

The National Hockey League race, if it can be called that, has reached the stage where the Montreal Canadiens can wrap up their second straight pennant with one more victory. A loss by the second-place Chicago Black Hawks will produce the same result for the defending champions.

The Canadiens moved two points closer to clinching Thursday night by downing the Toronto Maple Leafs 2-1. And the Boston Bruins tightened their hold on third place with a 3-0 decision over the Detroit Red Wings.

Dickie Moore of the Canadiens took over the goals tallied lead and upped his advantage over Andy Bathgate of New York to two points in their duel for the scoring championship. Moore connected with his 34th goal and raised his point total to 75 as all of the scoring was concentrated in the second period.

Boston called on Harry Lumley as substitute for the ailing Don Simmons and the veteran goal tender promptly came up with the 69th shutout of his NHL career.

Lumley's fine 29-save effort was backed by goals off the sticks of Bronco Horvath, Guy Gendron and rookie Larry Leach.

West Virginia's Fullback Ranks Almost Depleted

MORGANTOWN (AP) — The departure of outstanding freshman football player John Bosley from West Virginia University has practically depleted the already thin ranks of varsity fullback prospects.

Bosley, brother to former WVU star tackle Bruce Bosley, withdrew yesterday to enter the Air Force.

The 18-year-old, 225-pound all-Stater from Green Bank has been upset over the recent death of his mother, Bosley's father said. He added that his son plans to return to WVU after military duty.

WVU Coach Art Lewis, who emphasized that Bosley withdrew in good standing with no failing grades, said he hated to see him leave.

With the departure of Bosley, Lewis now has only two fullbacks returning from last year's squad. They are Bob Benke and Bob Lively. A 1955 letterman, Tom Huston, is back in school following Army service.

Bosley became the first to leave of all the frosh football players who matriculated last September, an endurance record far above the average for all freshman students, WVU officials said.

Bosley's brother, Bruce, plays professional football with the San Francisco 49ers.

Robertson Leads 1959 All-American Basketball Squad

West, Boozer, Howell, Cox Picked On 1st Team

NEW YORK (AP)—Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati—"A greater player this year than last."

Jerry West of West Virginia—"There's no one who can compare to him in all-around ability."

Bob Boozer of Kansas State—"Hardest to stop big man in college basketball."

Bailey Howell of Mississippi State — "Greatest player in the Southeastern Conference Since Bob Pettit."

Johnny Cox of Kentucky—"Best when the going is tough."

These five whizzes of the hardwood were named to the 1959 collegiate basketball All-America by The Associated Press today on the basis of votes from 319 sportswriters and broadcasters throughout the country.

Robertson, the "Big O" who made the All-America last year as a sophomore, again is the top major college scorer, averaging better than 33 points a game.

"He is an all around player offensively and defensively," Cincinnati Coach George Smith says. "He is one of top rebounders in the nation. And with all of that he is a great team player."

West, a junior like Robertson, led West Virginia to its fifth straight Southern Conference title. "I know that without him," says West Virginia Coach Fred Schaus," our team this year wouldn't have gone any place."

Boozer, a senior like Howell and Cox and at 6-8 the tallest man on the first team, led Kansas State to the Big Eight crown.

Tex Winter, K-State coach, declares "Boozer is the hardest to stop big man in college basketball. He has all shots and moves to get open."

Howell, whose season is over because Miss. State will not compete in the NCAA Tournament, shattered the three-year Southeastern Conference scoring mark of 2,002 that Bob Pettit set as an All-America at Louisiana State in 1954.

Babe McCarthy, Miss. State coach, hails Howell as a symbol for young Americans. "Words cannot describe the true genuineness of this great boy. Not only is he a great athlete, he's an All-America in every walk of life."

Cox was in the thick of things when Kentucky won the NCAA championship last season. This season Coach Adolph Rupp built an entirely new team around him.

Don Hennon, of Pitt; Johnny Green of Michigan State; Tom Hawkins of Notre Dame; Leo Byrd of Marshall and Lou Pucillo of North Carolina State were named as a second team. Hennon, a first team All-America last season, missed out this time because of Pitt's poor record. He and Pucillo, at 5-8½ and 5-9, respectively, are the smallest players on the squad.

Jim Hagan of Tennessee Tech; Bob Ferry of St. Louis; Ron Johnson of Minnesota; Joe Ruklick of Northwestern and York Larese of North Carolina were chosen as a third team.

Jerry West 'Is Human' After All, Fan Observes

By DICK LEONARD
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was during the recent Southern Conference Basketball Tournament at Richmond, Va. when an onlooker commented of West Virginia's All - American Jerry West: "At least he's human after all."

The remark, duly recorded by veteran Richmond sports columnist Chauncey Durden, came after West had missed a couple of layup shots.

West's seemingly effortless ease and precision on the basketball court has caused some to wonder whether the WVU star has any emotions or whether he's just a machine.

"Jerry is quite human," assures his proud coach Fred Schaus. "Before games, he has trouble eating. He's a bundle of nerves until the game starts. But once it starts, like many other great athletes, he loses that nervousness and plays like a champion."

West has all the equipment for a great basketball player. He has lightning - like reflexes, can jump like a kangaroo and has extra-long arms, wearing a 36½-inch sleeve length. For comparison, Schaus who is two inches taller, wears a 35 - inch sleeve length.

In addition, the Cabin Creek native has the temperament and the love of the game to be a great basketball player.

It is unfortunate that defensive maneuvers can't be tallied in columns like points, rebounds and assists.

You have to see West play to realize his defensive value.

For example, in the Southern Conference championship game, West was assigned to guard. The Citadel's Art Musselman.

Musselman came into the contest with a two - game tourney total of 56 points. When the game was over, Musselman had scored seven to West's 27 markers. In addition, the workhorse West had grabbed 19 rebounds and had six assists.

"Jerry has an uncanny ability or instinctiveness to spot flaws in his opponents," Schaus explains. "Musselman faked everytime he took a shot. Jerry spotted this and when Musselman made his fake, he just stood there and was never out of position when the shot finally was made."

Sports Editor Dick Hudson of the Charleston Daily Mail says this ability by West didn't come by accident.

"When Jerry was just a kid, he would come to Morris Harvey and just sit there watching games, analyzing them, figuring out mistakes and weaknesses," Hudson said.

Sports Editor Tony Constantine of the Morgantown Post quoted one coach on West:

"He's so great that I'd take him if he never scored a point. He's that valuable to a team. He's the greatest I've ever seen — not just a great player but a terrific competitor."

West, the third basketball player in WVU history to make the All-America first team, is the only junior to achieve the honor. His predecessors, Mark Workman, named in 1952, and Rod Hundley in 1957, were both seniors at the time.

Lucky for WVU, West grew up wanting to enroll at the Morgantown school.

"Without Jerry, we wouldn't have gone anyplace this year," Schaus said, in a masterpiece of understatement.

Ennis And Smith Together Again With Cincinnati

By The Associated Press

There is nothing like a youth movement to give a major league manager gray hairs.

In November 1956 the Philadelphia Phillies went for youth—and away went Del Ennis to the St. Louis Cardinals with the greatest RBI bat the Phillies ever had.

And last season while the Phils plummeted to eighth place, Ennis fumed on the Cardinals' bench.

Phils manager Mayo Smith watched his light-hitting team finish seventh in club batting and before the season was over he was out of a job.

Meanwhile, Ennis, who seven times batted in more than 100 runs in a season, got to the plate only 329 times, driving in 47 runs.

If Smith had forgotten the 34-year-old outfielder drove in 215 runs during 1955-56 when he played for Mayo at Philadelphia, he got a reminder Thursday at Tampa, Fla.

Both now wear the uniform of the Cincinnati Reds and in an intrasquad game Smith saw Del belt a three-run homer, the difference in a 7-5 game. Ennis also walked and added a single.

"I'm sure glad I was traded to the Reds," Del said after his impressive showing. I'm sure Mayo will give me a chance to play regularly, and I'm confident I'll win a regular job."

Another veteran National leaguer who expressed confidence was Alvin Dark, the Chicago Cubs' 36-year-old third baseman.

Dark, who played 132 games last season, said at Mesa, Ariz., he'd like to play them all this year. "I think I can," he added, "but I'll probably be the worst looking player you ever saw in the exhibition games."

Bob Boyd of the Baltimore Orioles, faced with a challenge for his first base job from Whitey Lockman, fresh from San Francisco, said at Miami that he's going to hit over .300 this season.

Middletown Five Still In Tournament Race

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's high school basketball teams will name a fourth of the 32 regional qualifiers tonight as the survivors of the starting field of 1013 squads race toward the state finals here March 20-21.

Middletown's seven-time Class AA champs, looming larger as the payoff nears, have a chance to get into the regional playoffs as they carry their 18 - 4 record against Princeton tonight at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati St. Xavier and Cincinnati Taft, the latter the tourney's Cinderella team with an 8-13 record, meet in the Queen City for the other Class AA regional spot up for decision tonight.

Six of the 16 Class A regionalists will be selected in Friday's firing.

They will come from the Ridgeville vs Pickerington and Green Camp vs Lynnwood-Jacksontown clashes at Columbus; Racine vs Southwestern, and New Boston vs Lynchburg at Athens; Midvale vs Conotton Valley at Dover, and Maysville vs Old Washington at Marietta.

One of the Columbus winners goes to the Athens regional, the other to Troy. Both Athens winners stay there for next week's event. The Dover winner goes to Canton, and the Marietta winner to Athens.

In an oddity in the lose-and-out series, the losers at Dover and Marietta get a second chance. They will tangle Saturday at Granville to determine which fills out the four-team Class A field at Canton.

Thursday night's games, in which two former state champs were sidelined, left 52 Class AA and 42 Class A squads still in the running. Seven former Class AA champs and six ex-kings in Class A are among them—although three of the Class A winners are now in the larger-school division.

Portsmouth's Trojans, winners in 1931, were handed a 70-63 overtime defeat by Chillicothe at Athens. Arcanum, the little Darke County town which copped the Class A crown in 1956, was ousted 56-47 by Sidney Holy Angels at Springfield. The Sidney squad, sporting a 24-1 record, meets Local (24-0) Saturday for a regional berth at Troy.

Columbus East (1951), New Philadelphia (1940) and Lorain (1923), all former Class AA winners, were Thursday night victors. Columbus East smacked Columbus Central 76-67, New Philadelphia defeated Cambridge 63-46, and Lorain eased past Bay Village 57-51.

Columbiana's Clippers, 1947 Class A victors, also advanced with a 63-61 overtime conquest over Springfield Local.

Twenty-four regional qualifiers, 14 in Class AA and 10 in Class A, will be named in Saturday's heavy state-wide schedule.

Baltimore Told How It Can Land Title Go

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore fight enthusiasts got the $500,000 word Thursday on what they will have to do to get the Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight title fight staged in this city.

Promoter Bill Rosensohn stopped off to explain to potential backers what financial return he'll require.

Rosensohn said he will decide next Tuesday which of about 10 cities will get the summer title fight. Chicago and New York seem to have the inside track at present.

The New Yorker wants the take from about 10,000 seats, to be sold for about $50 each. Baltimore sports promoters hope to decide by Sunday whether they can raise the cash guarantee.

A & P defeated Loblaw's, 68-56, Thursday night at the Chester City Hall.

Ron Montgomery had 24 and Jim Perkins 18 to pace the winners. Dave Callahan and Gene Stockdale shared scoring honors with 14 each in the losing cause.

A & P will meet the Drifter's Car Club tonight at 8:30 at the East Junior High School.

Tar Heels Win Opener, Look To NCAA Bid

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

It has been many a jump-shot since a North Carolina basketball fan rooted for a North Carolina State basketball team.

But that'll be taking place in Raleigh tonight if the Tar Heels happen beat Duke in the semi-finals of the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament.

Arch rival N.C. State and upstart Virginia are the other survivors after first round play in the ACC showdown that picks the conference representative in the NCAA tourney. If North Carolina wins and North Carolina State wins, Frank McGuire and his Tar Heels are NCAA-bound—win, lose or draw against the Wolfpack in the final.

That's because N.C. State is on NCAA probation and ineligible for tournament play.

Only Virginia's victory, 66-65 over Maryland, was a surprise in the first round scrapping in the ACC Thursday. North Carolina overpowered Clemson 93-69, Duke spilled Wake Forest 78-71 and N.C. State edged South Carolina 75-72 in overtime.

Miami of Ohio failed again in an attempt to win the Mid-American Conference's NCAA berth, losing to Marshall 90-70; Boston U. probably clinched an at-large bid in the Eastern NCAA with a 64-48 victory over NIT-bound Providence, and two other NIT entries, Manhattan and St. John's (NY), scored victories in other Thursday features.

Manhattan, now 14-5, crushed Lafayette 93-62 and St. John's snapped a slump and nipped N.Y.U., also in the NIT, 57-55, on Tony Jackson's jump shot at the buzzer ending a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden.

In an off-court development, Denver of the Skyline Conference was named the 11th NIT team.

One more remains — probably Bradley—although Denver still has a chance to win the conference title. Utah, leading Denver by one game with two games to play, is at Wyoming tonight while Denver plays at Brigham Young. A Utah victory and a Denver loss could resolve the dilemma and put Utah safely in the NCAA tourney. Conference commissioner John Romney says he will hold Denver to its NCAA obligation if it wins the title.

Thanks to the spectacular shooting of Marshall's Leo Byrd — a second team Associated Press All-America choice, Miami now must face Bowling Green in a playoff at Dayton, Ohio, Saturday night for the Mid-American's NCAA spot. Byrd scored 34 points for a school season mark of 704 and dumped Miami into a first place tie with B-G with 9-3 records.

Boston U., now 18-6 after beating favored Providence, is expected to get the at-large berth opposite Connecticut's Yankee Conference champions in the Eastern NCAA tripleheader at New York next Tuesday. Announcement could come today.

In the Madison Square Garden doubleheader, Manhattan hit 60 per cent of its shots and quickly buried Lafayette. St. John's and vastly improved NYU dueled head to head until Jackson's off-balance shot from about 30 feet away dropped in at the buzzer for the Redmen's 16th victory against six defeats.

Oklahoma whipped Nebraska 65-54 in a match of Big Eight conference also-rans but the Cornhuskers' Hershell Turner set a school season scoring mark of 412 points, netting 21 this time.

Mrs. Fitton faces Betty Kerby of Akron, Ohio, in the third round today.

Stickland Would Start Tomorrow If Season Opened

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — George Strickland, back after a year in retirement, undoubtedly would be the shortstop for the Cleveland Indians if the baseball season were opening tomorrow.

The 33-year-old veteran has made the best showing of any of the five players battling for the job.

Strickland played two games at shortstop and one at second base in the intrasquad series. In Thursday's series windup he was at his usual position of shortstop and gave a flawless performance. He also slashed two doubles in five times at bat.

He is not expected to be a heavy hitter, but Manager Joe Gordon believes he will hit .250, which would put him among the American League's top infielders in the hitting department. Strickland is one of the best glove men in the league and there are few infielders with stronger or more accurate arms.

Ennis And Smith Together Again With Cincinnati

By The Associated Press

There is nothing like a youth movement to give a major league manager gray hairs.

In November 1956 the Philadelphia Phillies went for youth—and away went Del Ennis to the St. Louis Cardinals with the greatest RBI bat the Phillies ever had.

And last season while the Phils plummeted to eighth place, Ennis fumed on the Cardinals' bench.

Phils manager Mayo Smith watched his light-hitting team finish seventh in club batting and before the season was over he was out of a job.

Meanwhile, Ennis, who seven times batted in more than 100 runs in a season, got to the plate only 329 times, driving in 47 runs.

If Smith had forgotten the 34-year-old outfielder drove in 215 runs during 1955-56 when he played for Mayo at Philadelphia, he got a reminder Thursday at Tampa, Fla.

Both now wear the uniform of the Cincinnati Reds and in an intrasquad game Smith saw Del belt a three-run homer, the difference in a 7-5 game. Ennis also walked and added a single.

"I'm sure glad I was traded to the Reds," Del said after his impressive showing. I'm sure Mayo will give me a chance to play regularly, and I'm confident I'll win a regular job."

Another veteran National leaguer who expressed confidence was Alvin Dark, the Chicago Cubs' 36-year-old third baseman.

Dark, who played 132 games last season, said at Mesa, Ariz., he'd like to play them all this year. "I think I can," he added, "but I'll probably be the worst looking player you ever saw in the exhibition games."

Bob Boyd of the Baltimore Orioles, faced with a challenge for his first base job from Whitey Lockman, fresh from San Francisco, said at Miami that he's going to hit over .300 this season.

Middletown Five Still In Tournament Race

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's high school basketball teams will name a fourth of the 32 regional qualifiers tonight as the survivors of the starting field of 1013 squads race toward the state finals here March 20-21.

Middletown's seven-time Class AA champs, looming larger as the payoff nears, have a chance to get into the regional playoffs as they carry their 18 - 4 record against Princeton tonight at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati St. Xavier and Cincinnati Taft, the latter the tourney's Cinderella team with an 8-13 record, meet in the Queen City for the other Class AA regional spot up for decision tonight.

Six of the 16 Class A regionalists will be selected in Friday's firing.

They will come from the Ridgeville vs Pickerington and Green Camp vs Lynnwood-Jacksontown clashes at Columbus; Racine vs Southwestern, and New Boston vs Lynchburg at Athens; Midvale vs Conotton Valley at Dover, and Maysville vs Old Washington at Marietta.

One of the Columbus winners goes to the Athens regional, the other to Troy. Both Athens winners stay there for next week's event. The Dover winner goes to Canton, and the Marietta winner to Athens.

In an oddity in the lose-and-out series, the losers at Dover and Marietta get a second chance. They will tangle Saturday at Granville to determine which fills out the four-team Class A field at Canton.

Thursday night's games, in which two former state champs were sidelined, left 52 Class AA and 42 Class A squads still in the running. Seven former Class AA champs and six ex-kings in Class A are among them—although three of the Class A winners are now in the larger-school division.

Portsmouth's Trojans, winners in 1931, were handed a 70-63 overtime defeat by Chillicothe at Athens. Arcanum, the little Darke County town which copped the Class A crown in 1956, was ousted 56-47 by Sidney Holy Angels at Springfield. The Sidney squad, sporting a 24-1 record, meets Local (24-0) Saturday for a regional berth at Troy.

Columbus East (1951), New Philadelphia (1940) and Lorain (1923), all former Class AA winners, were Thursday night victors. Columbus East smacked Columbus Central 76-67, New Philadelphia defeated Cambridge 63-46, and Lorain eased past Bay Village 57-51.

Columbiana's Clippers, 1947 Class A victors, also advanced with a 63-61 overtime conquest over Springfield Local.

Twenty-four regional qualifiers, 14 in Class AA and 10 in Class A, will be named in Saturday's heavy state-wide schedule.

Baltimore Told How It Can Land Title Go

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore fight enthusiasts got the $500,000 word Thursday on what they will have to do to get the Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight title fight staged in this city.

Promoter Bill Rosensohn stopped off to explain to potential backers what financial return he'll require.

Rosensohn said he will decide next Tuesday which of about 10 cities will get the summer title fight. Chicago and New York seem to have the inside track at present.

The New Yorker wants the take from about 10,000 seats, to be sold for about $50 each. Baltimore sports promoters hope to decide by Sunday whether they can raise the cash guarantee.

A & P Five Defeats Loblaw's By 68-56

A & P defeated Loblaw's, 68-56, Thursday night at the Chester City Hall.

Ron Montgomery had 24 and Jim Perkins 18 to pace the winners. Dave Callahan and Gene Stockdale shared scoring honors with 14 each in the losing cause.

A & P will meet the Drifter's Car Club tonight at 8:30 at the East Junior High School.

Tar Heels Win Opener, Look To NCAA Bid

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

It has been many a jump-shot since a North Carolina basketball fan rooted for a North Carolina State basketball team.

But that'll be taking place in Raleigh tonight if the Tar Heels happen beat Duke in the semi-finals of the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament.

Arch rival N.C. State and upstart Virginia are the other survivors after first round play in the ACC showdown that picks the conference representative in the NCAA tourney. If North Carolina wins and North Carolina State wins, Frank McGuire and his Tar Heels are NCAA-bound—win, lose or draw against the Wolfpack in the final.

That's because N.C. State is on NCAA probation and ineligible for tournament play.

Only Virginia's victory, 66-65 over Maryland, was a surprise in the first round scrapping in the ACC Thursday. North Carolina overpowered Clemson 93-69, Duke spilled Wake Forest 78-71 and N.C. State edged South Carolina 75-72 in overtime.

Miami of Ohio failed again in an attempt to win the Mid-American Conference's NCAA berth, losing to Marshall 90-70; Boston U. probably clinched an at-large bid in the Eastern NCAA with a 64-48 victory over NIT-bound Providence, and two other NIT entries, Manhattan and St. John's (NY), scored victories in other Thursday features.

Manhattan, now 14-5, crushed Lafayette 93-62 and St. John's snapped a slump and nipped N.Y.U., also in the NIT, 57-55, on Tony Jackson's jump shot at the buzzer ending a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden.

In an off-court development, Denver of the Skyline Conference was named the 11th NIT team.

One more remains — probably Bradley—although Denver still has a chance to win the conference title. Utah, leading Denver by one game with two games to play, is at Wyoming tonight while Denver plays at Brigham Young. A Utah victory and a Denver loss could resolve the dilemma and put Utah safely in the NCAA tourney. Conference commissioner John Romney says he will hold Denver to its NCAA obligation if it wins the title.

Thanks to the spectacular shooting of Marshall's Leo Byrd — a second team Associated Press All-America choice, Miami now must face Bowling Green in a playoff at Dayton, Ohio, Saturday night for the Mid-American's NCAA spot. Byrd scored 34 points for a school season mark of 704 and dumped Miami into a first place tie with B-G with 9-3 records.

Boston U., now 18-6 after beating favored Providence, is expected to get the at-large berth opposite Connecticut's Yankee Conference champions in the Eastern NCAA tripleheader at New York next Tuesday. Announcement could come today.

In the Madison Square Garden doubleheader, Manhattan hit 60 per cent of its shots and quickly buried Lafayette. St. John's and vastly improved NYU dueled head to head until Jackson's off-balance shot from about 30 feet away dropped in at the buzzer for the Redmen's 16th victory against six defeats.

Oklahoma whipped Nebraska 65-54 in a match of Big Eight conference also-rans but the Cornhuskers' Hershell Turner set a school season scoring mark of 412 points, netting 21 this time.

Posts Golf Victories

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. Barbara Fitton of Hamilton, Ohio, defeated Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore 1 up in 19 holes Thursday in the second round of the Florida East Coast Women's Amateur Golf Tournament, then went on to a 4 and 3 victory over Lenny Cranston of San Marino, Calif. Mrs. Fitton faces Betty Kerby of Akron, Ohio, in the third round today.

Stickland Would Start Tomorrow If Season Opened

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — George Strickland, back after a year in retirement, undoubtedly would be the shortstop for the Cleveland Indians if the baseball season were opening tomorrow.

The 33-year-old veteran has made the best showing of any of the five players battling for the job.

Strickland played two games at shortstop and one at second base in the intrasquad series. In Thursday's series windup he was at his usual position of shortstop and gave a flawless performance. He also slashed two doubles in five times at bat.

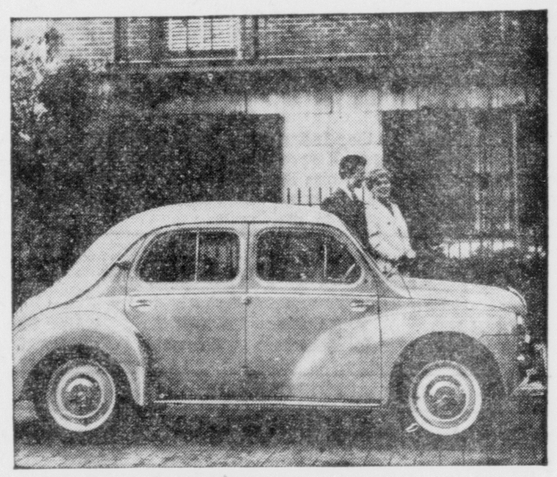

He is not expected to be a heavy hitter, but Manager Joe Gordon believes he will hit .250, which would put him among the American League's top infielders in the hitting department. Strickland is one of the best glove men in the league and there are few infielders with stronger or more accurate arms.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

The Big Top Circus Life Is No More

CHARLESTON, W.Va. I've been spending the last couple of days with the circus — the new, streamlined, no-tent circus. Well, the smells haven't changed, anyhow. As a matter of fact, a lot of things have not changed — the camaraderie, the life at close quarters, the backstage card games, the bustle and movement and tinsel, the crowds, the clowns, the animals. It's a great life — the circus. It must be or why would so many people be so hopelessly committed to it?

John Crosby

Certainly not for the money. Those young ladies who dangle from the ropes in the big spectacular numbers and just walk around the ring in feathers and spangles in the parade numbers get 100 bucks a week.

Everything — their hotels and meals and clothes — has got to come out of that. Everything except transportation. Ringling Bros. gives them a mileage allowance and they can go by train or pogo stick for all Ringling Bros. cares.

A FAR CRY from the old days when the circus train carried them all—elephants and high-wire girls—from town to town; when they lived in circus wagons and ate circus-cooked meals.

The circus was the last of the feudal domains — sufficient unto itself, each man doing his job in return for which was the absolute security of bed and board and companionship.

Today, they're in hotels and motor cars — like the rest of us. A great step backward into the present.

Why do they do it? I think danger has its own lure. Ask a circus man what is the most dangerous act, not only in this circus but in any of them, and he will tell you it's the high-wire act of Al Alanza.

He walks up the wire on his toes, doing his act without guy wires or net (except in New York where a net is required by law), and then skips rope.

A COMPACT, little Englishman who seems to be one solid muscle, he worked for years on a low wire. The difference between the low and the high — same wire, same everything — is fear, and that is a tremendous difference in itself.

"The day I moved the wire to 30 feet, I was terrified," he admitted, "It's a different psychology altogether when you're on the high wire and your muscles behave differently."

It's a wow of an act built of his fear and the fear of an audience.

Wauhilla La Hay, the Indian girl down here fronting for Kenyon and Eckhardt, will never miss it. Wherever she is, when Al Alanza is introduced, she dashes to the arena, muttering: "I can't miss Alanza."

But once he leaves the ground, she buries her head in her arms and refuses to look up during his hazardous maneuvering on that wire. It's a strange, strange attraction both for performer and audience, a communion of fear, not much different from the lure that brings the crowds to the bull fights in Spain.

THE WORD psychology takes quite a kicking around in a circus.

I had a chat with Otto Griebling, the sad-faced clown, a veteran of 46 years of circus life: "I fight audience. I don't want laughs. When they laugh, I get angry and the angrier I get the more they laugh. It's the psychology of the thing."

Griebling is an adult clown, whose stuff is aimed mostly at grownups.

"I do a little fine stuff," he'll tell you in his German accent, using the word fine in the sense of finely-spun or small-grained. "You know, with expressions. I go pretty deep with clowning."

"We miss the big tent," Jeanne Ferroni, the small, chunky trapeze artist, told me. Jeanne's been with the circus since babyhood and she's known no other life.

"My mother was a flyer. My father was a catcher. My aunt was a leaper. I never thought of being in the act, though. I was scared to death. Then one day I looked up and I don't know what happened. Next thing I knew I was a flyer, too."

SHE AND HER Spanish husband, also with the circus, now travel from spot to spot in a trailer with their children, a little girl and boy. (The girl already likes to swing on bars.)

"Until we got the trailer we lived in motels," she said. "Most of them do. It's not like the old days when we lived under the big top. Then you got to know everyone. Everyone was always practicing and you got to know people.

"People don't get to know one another like the old days. We don't even get acquainted with the performers from Europe any more. I sure miss the big tent."

An hour of the new circus will be seen on television Monday (7:30 to 8:30 p.m.) on ABC-TV.

Striking Electrical Union Set For Talks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A spokesman for the striking International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers said the union will return to the bargaining table today "in the earnest hope of working out a fair and equitable agreement so that we may return to work" at Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co.

The 1,300 striking utility workers began picketing the power company at Midnight Saturday when their old contract expired.

The company, serving customers in 23 central and southern Ohio counties, is using supervisory personnel to man its installations.

Both sides are locked in a wage dispute.

Veterans Sign In Navy Again

City Recruiters Seek Prior Service Men

A Navy veteran and two men who had seen prior service with the Army were among eight enlisted recently at the Navy Recruiting Office at City Hall.

Communications Technician 3C Oscar D. Madison, son of John F. Madison of Salineville R. D. 2, was forwarded to the Philadelphia Navy Yard after enlisting for four years. He was allowed to retain his rating, as it is in a field classified as "critical" by the Navy.

The Army veterans who signed for Navy duty are Frank Deberry, son of Mrs. Maggie DeBerry, 383 Midland Ave., Midland, and Larnzie Porter Jr., son of Mrs. Lola Porter, 2018 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville. Both signed for four years. They have started four weeks' training at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station at Great Lakes, Ill.

Five more enlistees have started nine weeks of recruit training at Great Lakes. They are: James House, son of Mrs. Myrtle House of Lisbon; Paul E. Carl, son of John E. Carl, also of Lisbon; Thomas E. Selby, son of Edward Selby Jr. of Columbiana R. D. 2; Ronald A. Shoop, son of William F. Shoop of Salem, and Robert W. Kufleitner, son of Mrs. Mary Kufleitner of Salem R. D. 2.

The recruiting office with Chief Petty Officer Edwin Pease and Sonarman 1C Frank Thompson in charge, who said the Navy offers good opportunities for men with prior service in any branch of the armed forces. Schooling opportunities are open to qualified high school graduates, they added.

Officer candidate school is open to college graduates who can qualify, the recruiters said. Further information is available at the office on the third floor of City Hall. The phone number is FU. 6-4502.

2 Boys, Man Sentenced On Delinquency Charge

Jay C. Brown, 23, of Lisbon R. D. 2 and two boys, 15 and 17, were sentenced Thursday afternoon by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for contributing to the delinquency of a 14-year-old Wellsville girl.

Brown received 2 months in the County Jail, his driver's permit was suspended for 3 months and he is not to associate with anyone under 18 when he is released. He kept the girl away from home for three days.

The boys received 2 days each in the detention room of the jail, were placed on 9 p. m. curfew for 3 months and ordered not to associate with anyone over 19. The two had been with the girl during her absence.

The girl is not to be on the streets a half hour after school lets out, unless with her parents. If she violates this in the next three months, her mother will be held in contempt of court, the judge stipulated.

Club Hears Red Cross Aide

Preparation Termed Key In Meeting Catastrophe

Preparation for disaster is the key to effectiveness and speed in meeting a natural catastrophe, an American Red Cross representative told the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Clyde McDonald of Akron, a district safety official, told of his work at the recent floods in the Springfield area in which many were made homeless.

In answer to the question of what can other people do to help in such disasters, McDonald said, "Be prepared." He said the local Red Cross disaster organization at Springfield had plans ready for such an event, and was able to put into operation evacuation of homes and opening of shelters quickly and efficiently.

He also cited the prearranged co-operation of police, firemen, school authorities, Red Cross volunteers, Salvation Army personnel and others.

People can prepare for disasters by becoming Red Cross volunteers, and the local disaster committee can make plans for meeting trouble, McDonald said. Another way is to contribute money to the Red Cross to provide funds for the aid of victims.

McDonald related the various types of aid given victims at Springfield, ranging from food, shelter, clothing and medical attention to rehabilitation, provision for new homes and other items—all based on individual needs.

"The program is based on neighbor helping neighbor — East Liverpool people contributing to aid those at Springfield, Mount Vernon and other place," he said. McDonald pointed out East Liverpool is fortunate to be out of the path of serious floods, but any city is prone to other disasters such as fires, explosions and severe storms.

The aid rendered by the Red Cross in these catastrophes is made as an outright gift from the American people, he said.

McDonald pointed out monetary loans are made in certain individual emergency need cases not connected with disasters. For example, if a serviceman applies for money to travel, the Red Cross will lend the money.

McDonald said such cases are usually brought about by a man-made cause, and the Red Cross cannot disburse grants to all seekers. "We must be cautious about the use of the funds, otherwise people may lose confidence in our program and fail to contribute."

James Walker, East Liverpool Red Cross Chapter disaster chairman, was program chairman.

Hancock Due Loss In Funds

$2,666 To Be Pared From School Grants

Logan, Brooke and Hancock are among 21 West Virginia counties standing to lose state school aid under tentative figures compiled for the 1959-60 fiscal year by the Board of School Finance, it was announced today at Charleston.

Marshall and Ohio are included in the 34 counties gaining under the allocations forwarded to the House Finance Committee for study.

The figures were based on total allocation of $58,663,180 under the foundation school program.

The total carries the assumption the Legislature will provide $1,232,960 over the $57,430,220 budget recommendation for additional needs.

A decrease in the number of pupils is one of several factors causing counties to lose state aid.

The tentative allocations are subject to revisions later on the basis of additional data compiled by the board.

Logan County stands to lose $33,437 from its 1958-59 allocation of $2,584,253. Brooke is off $24,857 from the 1958-59 figure of $494,729 while Hancock's $522,285 would be pared $2,666.

Marshall would gain $31,934 over $653,132 while Ohio's $696,490 would be increased by $10,315.

West Virginia's Economy Painted As Grim Picture

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (AP)—Human misery and suffering among thousands of unemployed miners in West Virginia's coal fields. Crime on the increase. Family desertion and near-starvation.

That was the grim picture before a Senate subcommittee today as it concluded a series of three hearings on West Virginia's hard-hit economy.

An estimated 15 per cent of the state's 500,000 work force are jobless, more than double the national average.

Sen. Jennings Randolph (D-WVa) told the Senate group Thursday at Beckley that West Virginia has the highest unemployment rate in the union, with 45,000 persons having exhausted their unemployment benefits.

The nation's largest bituminous coal producing state, Randolph said, is faced with a gray spectre of hunger and deprivation." He said it has been brought on by mechanization of the coal mines and declining coal production due to competing fuels.

State Department 'Louses' Up Passport

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A furious woman walked into the office of the clerk of the U.S. District Court here waving a passport.

"I can't travel under this name," she remonstrated.

Examination of the passport showed the State Department had the would-be traveler listed as "Louse Smith."

Her first name is Louise.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Better Health Through Knowledge

- Turpentine & Toddlers
- Mother's Leg Cramps

Q. As kids, we were given a few drops of turpentine on sugar for coughs. What do you think of this?

A. Years ago this may have been okay but we have better things today. This raises another point. Don't keep turpentine or any would-be harmful material within reach of children. Toddlers are likely to try anything as the following true story from the New York Poison Center shows. Three children were playing in the basement and found a can of turpentine. They put some in glasses. The two older children only pretended to drink it, but the 3-year-old swallowed some. Fortunately, a quick trip to the hospital for emergency treatment prevented permanent injury. The only safe rule is to keep beyond reach anything that youngsters might conceivably eat, nibble, chew or swallow.

Q. I have had three children and during each pregnancy I had severe leg cramps. What causes these pains and how can they be prevented?

A. Leg cramp during pregnancy is very often attributed to a mineral imbalance — too little calcium and too much phosphorus. However, Philadelphia doctors recently cast doubt on this theory. Some expectant mothers under their care developed leg cramp regardless of how much calcium or how little phosphorus they received. According to these physicians, all expectant mothers, cramps or no cramps, should eat foods that supply essential vitamins and minerals in daily amounts recommended by the National Research Council or the Canadian Council on Nutrition. Vitamin-mineral capsules or tablets are used if deemed necessary by the attending physician.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician. Questions directed to Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., N. Y. 10, N. Y. will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

The Big Top Circus Life Is No More

CHARLESTON, W.Va.

I've been spending the last couple of days with the circus — the new, streamlined, no-tent circus. Well, the smells haven't changed, anyhow. As a matter of fact, a lot of things have not changed — the camaraderie, the life at close quarters, the backstage card games, the bustle and movement and tinsel, the crowds, the clowns, the animals. It's a great life — the circus. It must be or why would so many people be so hopelessly committed to it?

John Crosby

Certainly not for the money. Those young ladies who dangle from the ropes in the big spectacular numbers and just walk around the ring in feathers and spangles in the parade numbers get 100 bucks a week.

Everything — their hotels and meals and clothes — has got to come out of that. Everything except transportation. Ringling Bros. gives them a mileage allowance and they can go by train or pogo stick for all Ringling Bros. cares.

A FAR CRY from the old days when the circus train carried them all—elephants and high-wire girls—from town to town; when they lived in circus wagons and ate circus-cooked meals.

The circus was the last of the feudal domains — sufficient unto itself, each man doing his job in return for which was the absolute security of bed and board and companionship.

Today, they're in hotels and motor cars — like the rest of us. A great step backward into the present.

Why do they do it? I think danger has its own lure. Ask a circus man what is the most dangerous act, not only in this circus but in any of them, and he will tell you it's the high-wire act of Al Alanza.

He walks up the wire on his toes, doing his act without guy wires or net (except in New York where a net is required by law), and then skips rope.

A COMPACT, little Englishman who seems to be one solid muscle, he worked for years on a low wire. The difference between the low and the high — same wire, same everything — is fear, and that is a tremendous difference in itself.

"The day I moved the wire to 30 feet, I was terrified," he admitted, "It's a different psychology altogether when you're on the high wire and your muscles behave differently."

It's a wow of an act built of his fear and the fear of an audience.

Wauhilla La Hay, the Indian girl down here fronting for Kenyon and Eckhardt, will never miss it. Wherever she is, when Al Alanza is introduced, she dashes to the arena, muttering: "I can't miss Alanza."

But once he leaves the ground, she buries her head in her arms and refuses to look up during his hazardous maneuvering on that wire. It's a strange, strange attraction both for performer and audience, a communion of fear, not much different from the lure that brings the crowds to the bull fights in Spain.

THE WORD psychology takes quite a kicking around in a circus.

I had a chat with Otto Griebling, the sad-faced clown, a veteran of 46 years of circus life: "I fight audience. I don't want laughs. When they laugh, I get angry and the angrier I get the more they laugh. It's the psychology of the thing."

Griebling is an adult clown, whose stuff is aimed mostly at grownups.

"I do a little fine stuff," he'll tell you in his German accent, using the word fine in the sense of finely-spun or small-grained. "You know, with expressions. I go pretty deep with clowning."

"We miss the big tent," Jeanne Ferroni, the small, chunky trapeze artist, told me. Jeanne's been with the circus since babyhood and she's known no other life.

"My mother was a flyer. My father was a catcher. My aunt was a leaper. I never thought of being in the act, though. I was scared to death. Then one day I looked up and I don't know what happened. Next thing I knew I was a flyer, too."

SHE AND HER Spanish husband, also with the circus, now travel from spot to spot in a trailer with their children, a little girl and boy. (The girl already likes to swing on bars.)

"Until we got the trailer we lived in motels," she said. "Most of them do. It's not like the old days when we lived under the big top. Then you got to know everyone. Everyone was always practicing and you got to know people.

"People don't get to know one another like the old days. We don't even get acquainted with the performers from Europe any more. I sure miss the big tent."

An hour of the new circus will be seen on television Monday (7:30 to 8:30 p.m.) on ABC-TV.

Striking Electrical Union Set For Talks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A spokesman for the striking International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers said the union will return to the bargaining table today "in the earnest hope of working out a fair and equitable agreement so that we may return to work" at Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co.

The 1,300 striking utility workers began picketing the power company at Midnight Saturday when their old contract expired.

The company, serving customers in 23 central and southern Ohio counties, is using supervisory personnel to man its installations.

Both sides are locked in a wage dispute.

Veterans Sign In Navy Again

City Recruiters Seek Prior Service Men

A Navy veteran and two men who had seen prior service with the Army were among eight enlisted recently at the Navy Recruiting Office at City Hall.

Communications Technician 3C Oscar D. Madison, son of John F. Madison of Salineville R. D. 2, was forwarded to the Philadelphia Navy Yard after enlisting for four years. He was allowed to retain his rating, as it is in a field classified as "critical" by the Navy.

The Army veterans who signed for Navy duty are Frank Deberry, son of Mrs. Maggie DeBerry, 383 Midland Ave., Midland, and Larnzie Porter Jr., son of Mrs. Lola Porter, 2018 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville. Both signed for four years. They have started four weeks' training at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station at Great Lakes, Ill.

Five more enlistees have started nine weeks of recruit training at Great Lakes. They are: James House, son of Mrs. Myrtle House of Lisbon; Paul E. Carl, son of John E. Carl, also of Lisbon; Thomas E. Selby, son of Edward Selby Jr. of Columbiana R. D. 2; Ronald A. Shoop, son of William F. Shoop of Salem, and Robert W. Kufleitner, son of Mrs. Mary Kufleitner of Salem R. D. 2.

The recruiting office with Chief Petty Officer Edwin Pease and Sonarman 1C Frank Thompson in charge, who said the Navy offers good opportunities for men with prior service in any branch of the armed forces. Schooling opportunities are open to qualified high school graduates, they added.

Officer candidate school is open to college graduates who can qualify, the recruiters said. Further information is available at the office on the third floor of City Hall. The phone number is FU. 6-4502.

2 Boys, Man Sentenced On Delinquency Charge

Jay C. Brown, 23, of Lisbon R. D. 2 and two boys, 15 and 17, were sentenced Thursday afternoon by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for contributing to the delinquency of a 14-year-old Wellsville girl.

Brown received 2 months in the County Jail, his driver's permit was suspended for 3 months and he is not to associate with anyone under 18 when he is released. He kept the girl away from home for three days.

The boys received 2 days each in the detention room of the jail, were placed on 9 p. m. curfew for 3 months and ordered not to associate with anyone over 19. The two had been with the girl during her absence.

The girl is not to be on the streets a half hour after school lets out, unless with her parents. If she violates this in the next three months, her mother will be held in contempt of court, the judge stipulated.

Club Hears Red Cross Aide

Preparation Termed Key In Meeting Catastrophe

Preparation for disaster is the key to effectiveness and speed in meeting a natural catastrophe, an American Red Cross representative told the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Clyde McDonald of Akron, a district safety official, told of his work at the recent floods in the Springfield area in which many were made homeless.

In answer to the question of what can other people do to help in such disasters, McDonald said, "Be prepared." He said the local Red Cross disaster organization at Springfield had plans ready for such an event, and was able to put into operation evacuation of homes and opening of shelters quickly and efficiently.

He also cited the prearranged co-operation of police, firemen, school authorities, Red Cross volunteers, Salvation Army personnel and others.

People can prepare for disasters by becoming Red Cross volunteers, and the local disaster committee can make plans for meeting trouble, McDonald said. Another way is to contribute money to the Red Cross to provide funds for the aid of victims.

McDonald related the various types of aid given victims at Springfield, ranging from food, shelter, clothing and medical attention to rehabilitation, provision for new homes and other items—all based on individual needs.

"The program is based on neighbor helping neighbor — East Liverpool people contributing to aid those at Springfield, Mount Vernon and other place," he said. McDonald pointed out East Liverpool is fortunate to be out of the path of serious floods, but any city is prone to other disasters such as fires, explosions and severe storms.

The aid rendered by the Red Cross in these catastrophes is made as an outright gift from the American people, he said.

McDonald pointed out monetary loans are made in certain individual emergency need cases not connected with disasters. For example, if a serviceman applies for money to travel, the Red Cross will lend the money.

McDonald said such cases are usually brought about by a man-made cause, and the Red Cross cannot disburse grants to all seekers. "We must be cautious about the use of the funds, otherwise people may lose confidence in our program and fail to contribute."

James Walker, East Liverpool Red Cross Chapter disaster chairman, was program chairman.

Hancock Due Loss In Funds

$2,666 To Be Pared From School Grants

Logan, Brooke and Hancock are among 21 West Virginia counties standing to lose state school aid under tentative figures compiled for the 1959-60 fiscal year by the Board of School Finance, it was announced today at Charleston.

Marshall and Ohio are included in the 34 counties gaining under the allocations forwarded to the House Finance Committee for study.

The figures were based on total allocation of $58,663,180 under the foundation school program.

The total carries the assumption the Legislature will provide $1,232,960 over the $57,430,220 budget recommendation for additional needs.

A decrease in the number of pupils is one of several factors causing counties to lose state aid.

The tentative allocations are subject to revisions later on the basis of additional data compiled by the board.

Logan County stands to lose $33,437 from its 1958-59 allocation of $2,584,253. Brooke is off $24,857 from the 1958-59 figure of $494,729 while Hancock's $522,285 would be pared $2,666.

Marshall would gain $31,934 over $653,132 while Ohio's $696,490 would be increased by $10,315.

West Virginia's Economy Painted As Grim Picture

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (AP)—Human misery and suffering among thousands of unemployed miners in West Virginia's coal fields. Crime on the increase. Family desertion and near-starvation.

That was the grim picture before a Senate subcommittee today as it concluded a series of three hearings on West Virginia's hard-hit economy.

An estimated 15 per cent of the state's 500,000 work force are jobless, more than double the national average.

Sen. Jennings Randolph (D-WVa) told the Senate group Thursday at Beckley that West Virginia has the highest unemployment rate in the union, with 45,000 persons having exhausted their unemployment benefits.

The nation's largest bituminous coal producing state, Randolph said, is faced with a gray spectre of hunger and deprivation." He said it has been brought on by mechanization of the coal mines and declining coal production due to competing fuels.

State Department 'Louses' Up Passport

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A furious woman walked into the office of the clerk of the U.S. District Court here waving a passport.

"I can't travel under this name," she remonstrated.

Examination of the passport showed the State Department had the would-be traveler listed as "Louse Smith."

Her first name is Louise.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Better Health Through Knowledge

- Turpentine & Toddlers
- Mother's Leg Cramps

Q. As kids, we were given a few drops of turpentine on sugar for coughs. What do you think of this?

A. Years ago this may have been okay but we have better things today. This raises another point. Don't keep turpentine or any would-be harmful material within reach of children. Toddlers are likely to try anything as the following true story from the New York Poison Center shows. Three children were playing in the basement and found a can of turpentine. They put some in glasses. The two older children only pretended to drink it, but the 3-year-old swallowed some. Fortunately, a quick trip to the hospital for emergency treatment prevented permanent injury. The only safe rule is to keep beyond reach anything that youngsters might conceivably eat, nibble, chew or swallow.

Q. I have had three children and during each pregnancy I had severe leg cramps. What causes these pains and how can they be prevented?

A. Leg cramp during pregnancy is very often attributed to a mineral imbalance — too little calcium and too much phosphorus. However, Philadelphia doctors recently cast doubt on this theory. Some expectant mothers under their care developed leg cramp regardless of how much calcium or how little phosphorus they received. According to these physicians, all expectant mothers, cramps or no cramps, should eat foods that supply essential vitamins and minerals in daily amounts recommended by the National Research Council or the Canadian Council on Nutrition. Vitamin-mineral capsules or tablets are used if deemed necessary by the attending physician.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician. Questions directed to Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., N. Y. 10, N. Y. will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

12 Scheduled To Go To Post In Rich Derby

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) —Twelve 3-year-olds go to the post Saturday in the rich Santa Anita Derby and most eyes probably will focus on Silver Spoon, the lone filly in the field.

Upwards of 50,000 are expected to see the 22nd running of the event at a mile and one-eighth, out of which might develop a prospect for the Kentucky Derby and the other two gems of the triple crown.

Leading threats for the probable purse of $150,300 include Neil S. McCarthy's entry of Ole Fols and Finnegan; Royal Orbit from the estate of the late Jacques Braunstein, and C. V. Whitney's Silver Spoon.

Others entered are Linmold, Prince Lewker, Tuleg, Fightin Indian, Friar Roach, Mr. Deep Well, Die Hard and Jungle Dancer, son of Native Dancer and running companion of Silver Spoon.

Post time is about 5:05 p.m., PST.

Californians Must Slow Down To 65 MPH Limit

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Californians have to slowdown to not more than 65 m.p.h. starting New Year's Day.

The State Senate passed an Assembly bill fixing the state speed limit at an absolute 65. It was requested by Gov. Edmond G. Brown.

The state now has a 55 m.p.h law, but it permits a driver to go faster if he can show it is safe to do so, and this has enabled some motorists to travel 80 to 100 miles an hour.

U.S. Pilot Makes Nonstop To Rome

ROME (AP)—U.S. Ferry pilot Max Conrad landed today at Ciampino Airport, completing a 4,806-mile nonstop flight from Chicago. It was his 50th transatlantic crossing in a small plane.

Conrad made the flight in 34 hours and 3 minutes.

The flight in a single-engine Piper Comanche did not set a record. The nonstop distance mark for small planes is held by M. L. Boling, who flew 6,856 miles in a Beechcraft Bonanza last year.

Children Of The Bible

JEPHTHAH'S DAUGHTER

"And Jephthah came to Mizpeh unto his house, and, behold, his daughter came out to meet him . . ."
—Judges 11:34

Jephthah, a brave but misguided judge of Israel, lived in the land of Gilead, east of the Sea of Galilee.

As a youth he was expelled from his father's house by his brothers because he was an illegitimate child. He fled into the mountains and became a robber chief. Later, however, he was called by the people to lead them in their fight against the Ammonites, a warlike people who had invaded Israel.

Jephthah held the false belief that he could bargain with God and gain the Lord's help in accomplishing his own undertakings.

The night before his battle with the Ammonites, he was sleepless and fearful. Sitting in his tent, he asked himself: "Whence cometh this foreboding?" And it seemed a voice within him answered, "Have you not forsaken His way? Whence cometh this fear?"

"I have no fear," Jephthah told himself. "I am a man of valor. I have strength in battle. But I would win this encounter for the Lord's sake."

Yet he heard the voice within him say, "Nay, for thyself."

To make sure of victory, he made a vow that if he won the battle, he would offer as a burnt sacrifice the first thing that came out of his house to meet him upon his return from battle.

In his fear and superstition, perhaps he thought he would first be met by a dog, or a donkey, or at worst a slave.

Instead, to his horror, when he came back, his own daughter and only child, "came out to meet him with timbrels and dances" to celebrate his victory.

When Jephthah saw this, "he rent his clothes and said, Alas, my daughter! Thou hast brought me very low." He told her sadly of his vow to God, and foolishly said he could not now recall his vow, even if it meant the death of his own child.

His daughter, ignorant as her father of the true faith given by Moses, heroically agreed to help him fulfill his terrible vow. She asked only that she might be allowed two months to go into the mountains with some friends to bewail her fate.

At the end of two months she dutifully returned to her father, "who did with her according to his vow."

Thus, Jephthah knew no real happiness in achieving his goal, for in reaching it, he sacrificed what was dearest to him, and the life of another.

God has never asked for such a sacrifice as a prize of victory.

Redl To Battle Unbeaten Jordan Tonight On TV

NEW YORK (AP)—Stefan Redl has a burning ambition to win the welterweight championship. But he is not banking entirely on achieving that feat.

The Hungarian-born, German-reared fighter, now living in Passaic, N.J., meets unbeaten Eddie Jordan of Brooklyn in a television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Jordan, 23, is subbing for injured Gaspar Ortega of Mexico. A victory over Ortega could have boosted the unranked Redl into the top ten. Fighting Jordan, a newcomer to TV fans, means just another payday for Steve. He is a 7-5 favorite.

Redl's fight record is 22-3 including 13 kayos. He has failed in his major tests — against Gale Martinez. A loss to the unknown Jordan would knock him out of the big time main event class.

Jordan's record is 16 victories and two draws.

The bout will be broadcast and telecast-NBC 10 p.m., EST.

Southern California and Michigan State will meet for the first time in football on a home-and-home basis in 1963 and 1964.

Big 10 Quints Battle For 2nd Place In Loop

By The Associated Press

Six teams battle for second place in the final games of the Big Ten basketball campaign Saturday.

Michigan State (11-2) has already clinched its first outright Big Ten crown. But the Spartans, at home to Iowa (7-6), will attempt to make the final home appearance of four Spartan seniors a rousing and victorious one. The seniors are Tom Rand, John Green, Jim Stouffer and Bob Anderegg.

Michigan State is in the NCAA regional tests at Northwestern next weekend.

In an afternoon regional TV game, Illinois will play host to Northwestern in another clash for the Big Ten second spot. Both have identical 7-6 records.

Two other teams seeking the runnerup spot, Purdue and Ohio State, clash at Columbus. They also have 7-6 records as has Michigan, the sixth team in a tie for second. The Wolverines entertain Minnesota (5-8) and in the fifth final conference game, Indiana (6-7) will be host to last-place Wisconsin (1-12).

Rained-Out Golf Pros To Try Again Today

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — If at first you don't succeed, try, try again, and that's what golf's touring professionals will be doing today — trying to get the $20,000 New Orleans Open Tournament started.

Heavy morning rains drenched the city park course Thursday, cancelling play.

The downpour left puddles all over the 6,700-yard course and even if the 72-hole event gets under way today the pros will find the going gooey.

The postponement forced a revision of the schedule. After today's opening 18 holes, similar rounds were scheduled for Saturday and Sunday with the finals set for Monday.

Playoff Tilt To Decide Mid-American Crown

By The Associated Press

Bowling Green was happy enough about defeating Marshall College on the basketball court last Saturday. But what the Falcons' followers felt after Marshall won its final game of the season Thursday night was sheer joy.

The reason:

Marshall's 90-79 victory over Miami of Ohio's Redskins enabled Bowling Green to tie Miami for the Mid - American Conference championship.

The Falcons meet the Redskins in a playoff Saturday afternoon in the University of Dayton fieldhouse. The winner advances to the NCAA tournament at Lexington, Ky., as the Mid-American representative.

Both Bowling Green and Miami ended conference play with 9-3 records.

When the Falcons beat Marshall 94-81, it gave Bowling Green a chance to tie for conference laurels. But the Falcons had no say in the outcome. That was their last game.

It was up to Miami. The Redskins had to lose their two remaining games to give Bowling Green a tying chance.

And the Redskins unwillingly accommodated — dropping a 69-65 verdict to Kent State Saturday then bowing before the Thundering Herd Thursday night.

Elsewhere on the Buckeye cage scene:

Capital defeated Heidelberg 65-60 in an Ohio Conference battle; Case Tech won over Western Reserve, 75-58 and Wittenberg, playing in the first game of the NCAA small college division mideast regional basketball tournament at Evansville, Ind., beat Southern Illinois 80-70. Wittenberg meets Evansville tonight for a place in the finals to be played next week.

Braves Manager Again Hits Rumor Of Retirement

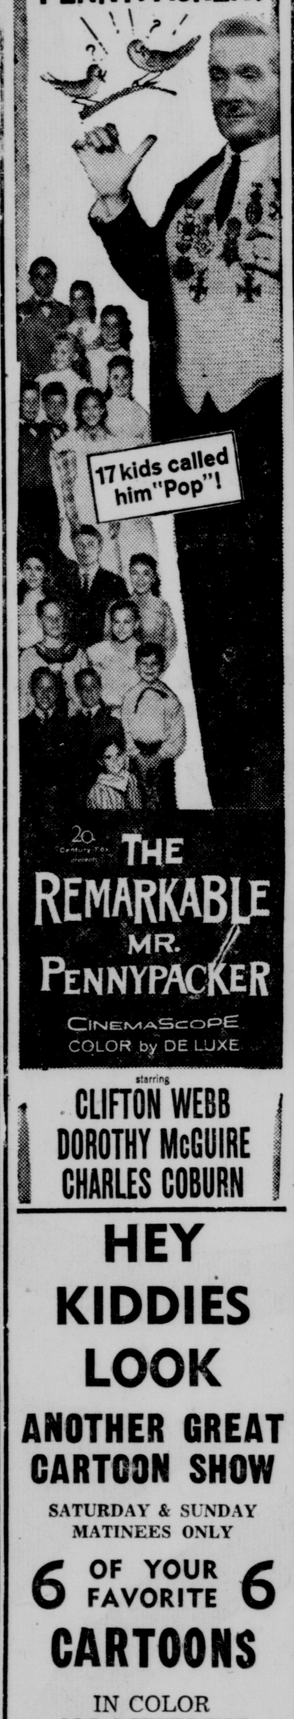

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Manager Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves denied again Thursday rumors that he will retire from baseball or that there is any friction between him and Birdie Tebbetts, executive vice president of the club.

"I am sick and tired of all the rumors," Haney said. "All these stories are a lot of bunk. Sure Birdie and I had words — but that was when he was manager of Cincinnati. Now we are on the same team. When you play against somebody, you're going to hate his guts. But off the field, you're good friends.

"We cleared that up last fall before I signed. Birdie told me that he would stick to front office matters and would not interfere with my running the club on the field."

12 Scheduled To Go To Post In Rich Derby

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) —Twelve 3-year-olds go to the post Saturday in the rich Santa Anita Derby and most eyes probably will focus on Silver Spoon, the lone filly in the field.

Upwards of 50,000 are expected to see the 22nd running of the event at a mile and one-eighth, out of which might develop a prospect for the Kentucky Derby and the other two gems of the triple crown.

Leading threats for the probable purse of $150,300 include Neil S. McCarthy's entry of Ole Fols and Finnegan; Royal Orbit from the estate of the late Jacques Braunstein, and C. V. Whitney's Silver Spoon.

Others entered are Linmold, Prince Lewker, Tuleg, Fightin Indian, Friar Roach, Mr. Deep Well, Die Hard and Jungle Dancer, son of Native Dancer and running companion of Silver Spoon.

Post time is about 5:05 p.m., PST.

Californians Must Slow Down To 65 MPH Limit

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Californians have to slowdown to not more than 65 m.p.h. starting New Year's Day.

The State Senate passed an Assembly bill fixing the state speed limit at an absolute 65. It was requested by Gov. Edmond G. Brown.

The state now has a 55 m.p.h law, but it permits a driver to go faster if he can show it is safe to do so, and this has enabled some motorists to travel 80 to 100 miles an hour.

U.S. Pilot Makes Nonstop To Rome

ROME (AP)—U.S. Ferry pilot Max Conrad landed today at Ciampino Airport, completing a 4,806-mile nonstop flight from Chicago. It was his 50th transatlantic crossing in a small plane.

Conrad made the flight in 34 hours and 3 minutes.

The flight in a single-engine Piper Comanche did not set a record. The nonstop distance mark for small planes is held by M. L. Boling, who flew 6,856 miles in a Beechcraft Bonanza last year.

Children Of The Bible

JEPHTHAH'S DAUGHTER

"And Jephthah came to Mizpeh unto his house, and, behold, his daughter came out to meet him . . ."
—Judges 11:34

Jephthah, a brave but misguided judge of Israel, lived in the land of Gilead, east of the Sea of Galilee.

As a youth he was expelled from his father's house by his brothers because he was an illegitimate child. He fled into the mountains and became a robber chief. Later, however, he was called by the people to lead them in their fight against the Ammonites, a warlike people who had invaded Israel.

Jephthah held the false belief that he could bargain with God and gain the Lord's help in accomplishing his own undertakings.

The night before his battle with the Ammonites, he was sleepless and fearful. Sitting in his tent, he asked himself: "Whence cometh this foreboding?" And it seemed a voice within him answered, "Have you not forsaken His way? Whence cometh this fear?"

"I have no fear," Jephthah told himself. "I am a man of valor. I have strength in battle. But I would win this encounter for the Lord's sake."

Yet he heard the voice within him say, "Nay, for thyself."

To make sure of victory, he made a vow that if he won the battle, he would offer as a burnt sacrifice the first thing that came out of his house to meet him upon his return from battle.

In his fear and superstition, perhaps he thought he would first be met by a dog, or a donkey, or at worst a slave.

Instead, to his horror, when he came back, his own daughter and only child, "came out to meet him with timbrels and dances" to celebrate his victory.

When Jephthah saw this, "he rent his clothes and said, Alas, my daughter! Thou hast brought me very low." He told her sadly of his vow to God, and foolishly said he could not now recall his vow, even if it meant the death of his own child.

His daughter, ignorant as her father of the true faith given by Moses, heroically agreed to help him fulfill his terrible vow. She asked only that she might be allowed two months to go into the mountains with some friends to bewail her fate.

At the end of two months she dutifully returned to her father, "who did with her according to his vow."

Thus, Jephthah knew no real happiness in achieving his goal, for in reaching it, he sacrificed what was dearest to him, and the life of another.

God has never asked for such a sacrifice as a prize of victory.

Redl To Battle Unbeaten Jordan Tonight On TV

NEW YORK (AP)—Stefan Redl has a burning ambition to win the welterweight championship. But he is not banking entirely on achieving that feat.

The Hungarian-born, German-reared fighter, now living in Passaic, N.J., meets unbeaten Eddie Jordan of Brooklyn in a television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Jordan, 23, is subbing for injured Gaspar Ortega of Mexico. A victory over Ortega could have boosted the unranked Redl into the top ten. Fighting Jordan, a newcomer to TV fans, means just another payday for Steve. He is a 7-5 favorite.

Redl's fight record is 22-3 including 13 kayos. He has failed in his major tests — against Gale Martinez. A loss to the unknown Jordan would knock him out of the big time main event class.

Jordan's record is 16 victories and two draws.

The bout will be broadcast and telecast-NBC 10 p.m., EST.

Southern California and Michigan State will meet for the first time in football on a home-and-home basis in 1963 and 1964.

Wooster's Cage Coach Will Speak At Lisbon

LISBON — Ernest (Mose) Hole, athletic director and basketball coach at Wooster College, and a graduate of Lisbon High School, will be speaker for the annual high school basketball banquet Saturday, March 14, at Lincoln School.

The banquet is prepared and served each year by mothers of the team members, with coaches, fathers and others as guests.

Graham Kearney will be toastmaster.

Browns End Quits

CLEVELAND (AP)—One of the Cleveland Browns' leading pass receivers, Darrell (Pete) Brewster, is retiring. The 6-foot-4 offensive left end said Thursday he is quitting professional football to devote more time to a sports goods store in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Big 10 Quints Battle For 2nd Place In Loop

By The Associated Press

Six teams battle for second place in the final games of the Big Ten basketball campaign Saturday.

Michigan State (11-2) has already clinched its first outright Big Ten crown. But the Spartans, at home to Iowa (7-6), will attempt to make the final home appearance of four Spartan seniors a rousing and victorious one. The seniors are Tom Rand, John Green, Jim Stouffer and Bob Anderegg.

Michigan State is in the NCAA regional tests at Northwestern next weekend.

In an afternoon regional TV game, Illinois will play host to Northwestern in another clash for the Big Ten second spot. Both have identical 7-6 records.

Two other teams seeking the runnerup spot, Purdue and Ohio State, clash at Columbus. They also have 7-6 records as has Michigan, the sixth team in a tie for second. The Wolverines entertain Minnesota (5-8) and in the fifth final conference game, Indiana (6-7) will be host to last-place Wisconsin (1-12).

Rained-Out Golf Pros To Try Again Today

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — If at first you don't succeed, try, try again, and that's what golf's touring professionals will be doing today — trying to get the $20,000 New Orleans Open Tournament started.

Heavy morning rains drenched the city park course Thursday, cancelling play.

The downpour left puddles all over the 6,700-yard course and even if the 72-hole event gets under way today the pros will find the going gooey.

The postponement forced a revision of the schedule. After today's opening 18 holes, similar rounds were scheduled for Saturday and Sunday with the finals set for Monday.

Playoff Tilt To Decide Mid-American Crown

By The Associated Press

Bowling Green was happy enough about defeating Marshall College on the basketball court last Saturday. But what the Falcons' followers felt after Marshall won its final game of the season Thursday night was sheer joy.

The reason:

Marshall's 90-79 victory over Miami of Ohio's Redskins enabled Bowling Green to tie Miami for the Mid - American Conference championship.

The Falcons meet the Redskins in a playoff Saturday afternoon in the University of Dayton fieldhouse. The winner advances to the NCAA tournament at Lexington, Ky., as the Mid-American representative.

Both Bowling Green and Miami ended conference play with 9-3 records.

When the Falcons beat Marshall 94-81, it gave Bowling Green a chance to tie for conference laurels. But the Falcons had no say in the outcome. That was their last game.

It was up to Miami. The Redskins had to lose their two remaining games to give Bowling Green a tying chance.

And the Redskins unwillingly accommodated — dropping a 69-65 verdict to Kent State Saturday then bowing before the Thundering Herd Thursday night.

The Marshall victory gave Bowling Green its first co-championship. Miami shared conference honors with Western Michigan in 1952, and won the title outright in 1953, 1955, 1957 and 1958.

Elsewhere on the Buckeye cage scene:

Capital defeated Heidelberg 65-60 in an Ohio Conference battle; Case Tech won over Western Reserve, 75-58 and Wittenberg, playing in the first game of the NCAA small college division mideast regional basketball tournament at Evansville, Ind., beat Southern Illinois 80-70. Wittenberg meets Evansville tonight for a place in the finals to be played next week.

Braves Manager Again Hits Rumor Of Retirement

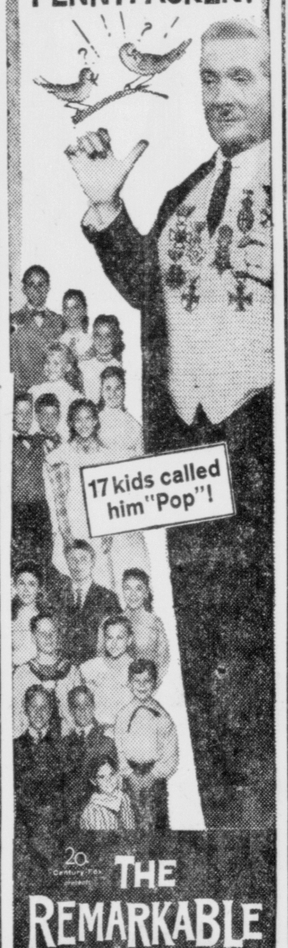

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Manager Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves denied again Thursday rumors that he will retire from baseball or that there is any friction between him and Birdie Tebbetts, executive vice president of the club.

"I am sick and tired of all the rumors," Haney said. "All these stories are a lot of bunk. Sure Birdie and I had words — but that was when he was manager of Cincinnati. Now we are on the same team. When you play against somebody, you're going to hate his guts. But off the field, you're good friends.

"We cleared that up last fall before I signed. Birdie told me that he would stick to front office matters and would not interfere with my running the club on the field."

30 Dairymen Attend Discussion At Salem

LISBON — Thirty farmers attended a dairy meeting Thursday night at the Salem Methodist Church, when K. V. Battles, extension agricultural engineer from Ohio State University, discussed dairy barn arrangement, comfort stalls, ventilation and remodeling of dairy barns.

A feed-handling demonstration at the Gause and Richey Supply Co. near Guilford Lake, is scheduled for Thursday, March 19. On March 20 there will be a dairy barn tour at the Russell Cook farm at Leetonia R. D. 2 and the John Hawkins and Son farm at New Waterford R. D. 1, and a feed-handling demonstration at the Witmer Implement Sales, near Washingtonville, according to Albert Pugh, county extension agent in agriculture.

Bowling Gear Removed From Parked Car Here

One of three thefts from autos reported to police overnight, Lester Jarvis, 813 Broadway, Wellsville, said a bowling ball and shoes were removed from his car between 8:45 and 9:05 p. m. Thursday while it was parked on E. 6th St.

Charles Hilditch, 1027 Avondale St., told police two hubcaps were removed from his car about noon yesterday while it was parked in front of his home. Arthur Lynch of Fisher Ave. reported four hubcaps were taken from his 1956 auto while it was parked at his home between 9 and 9:30 p. m. Thursday. He made the report to Wilbert Taylor, Liverpool Township police constable.

Hays Raps Gun-Toting By U.S. Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wayne Hays (D-Ohio) suggested today that there ought to be a rule against Congressmen toting guns to the House floor.

4-Way Mishap Brings Arrest For 2 Drivers

Two motorists were cited by police as the aftermath of a "chain reaction" crash that damaged four autos Thursday night at 9:42 at Walnut and E. 5th Sts.

Three cars were halted for a traffic light when a fourth piled into the rear auto, setting off the succession of crashes, police said.

The mishap damaged: A 1958 two-door sedan driven by Daniel Bekar, 32, of 152 Center St., a 1954 four-door sedan operated by Edward C. Crawford, 26, of 186 Ashland Pl., a 1954 two-door sedan operated by Glenn R. Taylor, 44, of Steubenville, and a 1950 coupe driven by Daniel S. Connor, 59, of Negley.

Bekar, Crawford and Taylor had halted in line for the traffic light at the intersection when Taylor's car was hit from the rear by Connor's, police said. The impact forced Taylor's auto forward into Crawford's, which then hit Bekar's, officers said.

Connor told police he was approaching the intersection at about 40 miles an hour and could not halt in time. He pleaded guilty today in Municipal Court on a charge of failure to halt in the assured clear distance and was fined $25 and costs.

In the investigation after the accident, police learned that Crawford's 1954 auto was carrying plates issued for a 1953 model. Accused of illegal registration, he also pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs. Crawford told Judge George L. Brokaw the violation was not intentional. He said he forgot to transfer the plates after buying another car three months ago.

Police said the crash damaged the rear of Bekar's car, the front of Connor's and both the front and rear of the Crawford and Taylor autos.

Begins In Newell Monday

Hancock Red Cross Unit Discusses Fund Campaign

The annual fund campaign of the North Hancock County Red Cross Chapter will be launched Monday in Newell, following completion of plans by community chairmen at a meeting Thursday night in its headquarters in the Aaron Building in Newell.

Mrs. Ruth A. Sprouse, executive secretary, said the drive will get under way in Newell Monday but will not begin in other North Hancock communities until March 16.

Mrs. V. E. McElldowney will head the house-to-house canvass for funds in Newell, with Lawrence Rush chairman of the business solicitation.

General chairman of the fund campaign in North Hancock is William Mackall of Park Pl., Chester, secretary - treasurer of the National Church Supply Co. Mackall is a member of the United Presbyterian Church of Chester, of the Chamber of Commerce of East Liverpool.

He is being assisted by Jack Berry, also of Chester. Other community chairmen are Mrs. Earl Bell of New Cumberland, and Donald Hood for Chester.

Mackall will also solicit corporations in the area, and Berry will handle donations of industrial firms. Rural areas will be canvassed by members of the Hancock County Farm Women's Club, headed by Mrs. Rudy Strauss, president.

This year's quota is $5,451, but as the chapter did not stage a separate campaign for diaster funds, it is hoped that donations will make up the deficit, Mrs. Sprouse pointed out. The chapter used part of its disaster funds to aid flood-stricken residents in New Cumberland in January.

The Rev. William H. Flurkey, chapter chairman, presided at last night's meeting. A film on Red Cross fund raising, "Neighbor to Neighbor," was screened by Mrs. Robert Fitch.

Move Reported To Have Chester Lose City Status

A rumored move in Chester to deprive the city of its incorporated status has not shown any overt organization, according to a survey of various officials and residents this week.

At least one councilman and several citizens said they have heard of the proposal to drop corporation status for reasons ranging from reduction of taxes to permitting Hancock County to extend its governmental jurisdiction.

One person said the rumored plan was to allow the community to avoid the necessity of constructing a sewage disposal plant, but the validity of such a move was doubted by many.

A businessman who had heard of the move said it was being studied by a group which has no formal organization.

Chester was incorporated as a town in 1900, and received a charter as a city in 1907.

In law, a feasance is the performance of a duty, fulfilling a condition.

Marshall Still Serious

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, 78, is still in serious condition at Womack Army Hospital here, where he has been since suffering a stroke Jan. 15. He suffered a second stroke Feb. 17.

30 Dairymen Attend Discussion At Salem

LISBON — Thirty farmers attended a dairy meeting Thursday night at the Salem Methodist Church, when K. V. Battles, extension agricultural engineer from Ohio State University, discussed dairy barn arrangement, comfort stalls, ventilation and remodeling of dairy barns.

A feed-handling demonstration at the Gause and Richey Supply Co. near Guilford Lake, is scheduled for Thursday, March 19. On March 20 there will be a dairy barn tour at the Russell Cook farm at Leetonia R. D. 2 and the John Hawkins and Son farm at New Waterford R. D. 1, and a feed-handling demonstration at the Witmer Implement Sales, near Washingtonville, according to Albert Pugh, county extension agent in agriculture.

Bowling Gear Removed From Parked Car Here

One of three thefts from autos reported to police overnight, Lester Jarvis, 813 Broadway, Wellsville, said a bowling ball and shoes were removed from his car between 8:45 and 9:05 p. m. Thursday while it was parked on E. 6th St.

Charles Hilditch, 1027 Avondale St., told police two hubcaps were removed from his car about noon yesterday while it was parked in front of his home. Arthur Lynch of Fisher Ave. reported four hubcaps were taken from his 1956 auto while it was parked at his home between 9 and 9:30 p. m. Thursday. He made the report to Wilbert Taylor, Liverpool Township police constable.

4-Way Mishap Brings Arrest For 2 Drivers

Two motorists were cited by police as the aftermath of a "chain reaction" crash that damaged four autos Thursday night at 9:42 at Walnut and E. 5th Sts.

Three cars were halted for a traffic light when a fourth piled into the rear auto, setting off the succession of crashes, police said.

The mishap damaged: A 1958 two-door sedan driven by Daniel Bekar, 32, of 152 Center St., a 1954 four-door sedan operated by Edward C. Crawford, 26, of 186 Ashland Pl., a 1954 two-door sedan operated by Glenn R. Taylor, 44, of Steubenville, and a 1950 coupe driven by Daniel S. Connor, 59, of Negley.

Bekar, Crawford and Taylor had halted in line for the traffic light at the intersection when Taylor's car was hit from the rear by Connor's, police said. The impact forced Taylor's auto forward into Crawford's, which then hit Bekar's, officers said.

Connor told police he was approaching the intersection at about 40 miles an hour and could not halt in time. He pleaded guilty today in Municipal Court on a charge of failure to halt in the assured clear distance and was fined $25 and costs.

In the investigation after the accident, police learned that Crawford's 1954 auto was carrying plates issued for a 1953 model. Accused of illegal registration, he also pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs. Crawford told Judge George L. Brokaw the violation was not intentional. He said he forgot to transfer the plates after buying another car three months ago.

Police said the crash damaged the rear of Bekar's car, the front of Connor's and both the front and rear of the Crawford and Taylor autos.

Begins In Newell Monday

Hancock Red Cross Unit Discusses Fund Campaign

The annual fund campaign of the North Hancock County Red Cross Chapter will be launched Monday in Newell, following completion of plans by community chairmen at a meeting Thursday night in its headquarters in the Aaron Building in Newell.

Mrs. Ruth A. Sprouse, executive secretary, said the drive will get under way in Newell Monday but will not begin in other North Hancock communities until March 16.

Mrs. V. E. McElldowney will head the house-to-house canvass for funds in Newell, with Lawrence Rush chairman of the business solicitation.

General chairman of the fund campaign in North Hancock is William Mackall of Park Pl., Chester, secretary - treasurer of the National Church Supply Co. Mackall is a member of the United Presbyterian Church of Chester, of the Chamber of Commerce of East Liverpool.

He is being assisted by Jack Berry, also of Chester. Other community chairmen are Mrs. Earl Bell of New Cumberland, and Donald Hood for Chester.

Mackall will also solicit corporations in the area, and Berry will handle donations of industrial firms. Rural areas will be canvassed by members of the Hancock County Farm Women's Club, headed by Mrs. Rudy Strauss, president.

This year's quota is $5,451, but as the chapter did not stage a separate campaign for diaster funds, it is hoped that donations will make up the deficit, Mrs. Sprouse pointed out. The chapter used part of its disaster funds to aid flood-stricken residents in New Cumberland in January.

The Rev. William H. Flurkey, chapter chairman, presided at last night's meeting. A film on Red Cross fund raising, "Neighbor to Neighbor," was screened by Mrs. Robert Fitch.
